Dear Colleague:

It is a distinct pleasure to invite you to Kalamazoo for the 43rd International Congress on Medieval Studies. As a longtime attendee, and now host, I well know the central role the Congress plays as the premier meeting place of students of the Middle Ages. And each year’s Congress program attests to the abundance of subjects, people, and imaginative approaches to all aspects of the Middle Ages. It’s mouthwatering.

Once again the Valley III cafeteria and adjoining rooms will host booksellers, vendors, and their wares; cafeteria meals will be served in Valley II’s dining hall. This year for the first time the Bernhard Center café will be open for lunch on Saturday.

Friday and Saturday mornings will commence with plenary speakers: this year’s Medieval Academy plenarist, Richard K. Emmerson (Florida State University) will address us on “Seeing, Reading, and Interpreting the Apocalypse in Complex Medieval Manuscripts.” On Saturday, Christopher de Hamel, Donnelley Fellow Librarian of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, will talk on “Are Bestiaries Really Psalters, and Vice Versa?” We are grateful to the Richard Rawlinson Center and Boydell & Brewer for sponsoring the Saturday plenary.

Special evening entertainment includes a lineup of films and a Friday musical performance featuring “Le Bon Vent,” a wonderful, eclectic group of musicians who specialize in French music. Their concert, entitled “The King’s Court to the Cajun Kitchen,” will feature a wide range of song and dance music from the medieval to Cajun contemporary.

As May approaches, visit the Congress Web site for updates on program news, additions and changes, as well as maps reflecting road construction inconveniences.

Each year’s Congress is an opus magnum et arduum shared by many people. I want to especially thank the many volunteers who organize Sponsored and Special Sessions and who chair the General Sessions. The Medieval Institute’s students and staff do heroic service, especially Liz Teviotdale (Assistant Director), Lisa Carnell (Congress Coordinator), Theresa Whitaker (Exhibits Coordinator), Annalisa Moretti, Mary Blanchard, Sarah Kelley, Kevin Gladney, and Lydia Baber.

A word of explanation is in order about changes I have made in the registration fee structure. By far the most efficient, accurate, and easy way to register is to do so online before 15 April. Registering by snail mail, or fax, or after the deadline costs us more, a fact reflected now in fees either assessed or increased on those registering on paper or late. I urge you to opt for the via optima.

Cordially,

James M. Murray, Director
The Medieval Institute

Everyone attending the Congress, including participants, exhibitors, and accompanying family members, must register for the Congress.

The Medieval Institute encourages the use of the online registration system for clarity, expediency, and convenience. Attendees may also register by mail or by fax using the printed Registration Form, which is available as a PDF file at the Congress Web site, but those registering by mail or fax pay a $25.00 handling fee.

Questions regarding registration should be directed to ma-tickets@wmich.edu.

Registration fees are $130.00 (regular) and $80.00 (student and each accompanying family member).

Online registration closes on April 15.
Registration fees are not refundable after April 15.
Campus housing will not be reserved after April 15.
All attendees registering after April 15, including all on-site registrants, pay a $50.00 late fee.

Pre-Registration

Online: A link to the secure server can be found at the Congress Web site: <www.wmich.edu/medieval/congress>. Those using online registration must pay by credit card (Visa, MasterCard, or Discover). The system e-mails you a confirmation that your registration request was received. Please be sure that all information is complete and correct.

By mail ($25.00 handling fee): Fill out the Registration Form, using either the PDF file available at the Congress Web site or the enclosed form. Mail it, together with your check, money order, or credit card information, before April 15 to:

Congress Registration
c/o Miller Auditorium
Western Michigan University
1903 W. Michigan Avenue
Kalamazoo, MI 49008-5344

If you would like confirmation of registration, please include a self-addressed, stamped postcard in your mailing.
By fax ($25.00 handling fee): Fill out the Registration Form, using either the PDF file available at the Congress Web site or the enclosed form. Fax it, together with your credit card information, before April 15 to Miller Auditorium at 269-387-2362.

PAYMENT

The Medieval Institute can accept Visa, MasterCard, and Discover for credit card payments, but we cannot process American Express or electronic transfer of funds.

Only checks or money orders in US dollars made payable to the Medieval Institute are accepted. Any checks or money orders sent in currencies other than US dollars will be returned. All charges are due at the time of registration. Receipts are issued at the Congress.

Checks and money orders made out in an incorrect amount and illegible and incorrect credit card numbers hold up the registration process. Please sign your check and write in the current date. Post-dated checks cannot be accepted.

All who attend sessions, give papers or preside over sessions, or take part in panels, visit the exhibits, or otherwise attend the Congress and participate in its activities must register. The Congress Committee reserves the right to deny future participation in the Congress to those who do not register properly and further reserves the right to refer to the university's collection services any unpaid bills.

PRE-REGISTRATION PACKETS

Pre-registered attendees will find their packet of conference materials, including a receipt, available for pickup in the Eldridge-Fox lobby (Valley III) upon arrival. On-campus housing assignments are given at that time.

LATE REGISTRATION

Congress attendees may register upon arrival but are assessed a $50.00 late registration fee. Registration is available in the Eldridge-Fox lobby. Please note that on-campus housing is very seldom available to on-site registrants. Alternate housing arrangements should be made before arrival. Any rooms booked to on-site registrants will be billed at the single rate, although two attendees who want to share a room may do so.

REFUNDS

Refunds for registration fees, housing, and meals are made only if Miller Auditorium has received notification of cancellation by April 15. No refunds are made after that date.
On-campus housing is provided in the co-ed residence halls of the Goldsworth Valley I, II, and III complexes. Registration for on-campus housing is a part of the Congress registration process.

Rates are $35.00 per night for a single room and $28.00 per person per night for a double for those who pre-register for the Congress. Any rooms booked to on-site registrants will be billed at the single rate, although two attendees who want to share a room may do so.

All on-campus rooms will be singles unless specific requests are received for double rooms, with roommate specified at the time of registration. No changes are accepted after our receipt of registration. Should you request a single room, find that housing has filled, and then wish to consider sharing a room with another Congress attendee, we cannot honor that request. Please plan carefully and indicate special housing requests at the time of registration. Every effort is made to accommodate timely housing requests, but keep in mind that not every request can be fulfilled. If you and a colleague request sharing a double room, we must be in receipt of both registrations before either will be processed. If you and a colleague or colleagues request sharing an adjoining bathroom (i.e., ask to be suitmates), we must be in receipt of all registrations before they will be processed.

Room assignments are indicated on the pre-registration packet, and keys are picked up at registration in the Eldridge-Fox lobby. Rooms may be reserved for Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday nights of the Congress, but neither earlier nor later.

The campus housing offered through the Congress is designed for undergraduate use, i.e., for individuals 17–22 years of age, and bathrooms are usually shared. Those who require hotel amenities such as air-conditioning and private bathrooms will find them at area hotels, where rooms can be booked through the Kalamazoo County Convention and Visitors Bureau's centralized hotel booking system. Arrangements for child care are the responsibility of the parent(s) and may be made through WMU’s Career and Student Employment Service at 269-387-2725.

Western Michigan University is, under the laws of the State of Michigan, a smoke-free facility. Please respect Michigan law.

Check In

You may check in at any time.

Refunds

Refunds for housing are made only if Miller Auditorium has received notification of cancellation by April 15. No refunds are made after that date.
The Kalamazoo County Convention and Visitors Bureau offers Congress attendees centralized booking to assist their selection of local hotels. The Radisson Plaza Hotel, the Holiday Inn–West, Hawthorn Suites, Staybridge Suites, Country Inn & Suites, and Super 8 all cooperate in this plan. Congress attendees can select their hotels, their room nights, and smoking preferences through KCCVB, which contacts the hotel directly and also answers attendee questions about accommodations, amenities, etc. As hotel rooms fill, KCCVB will direct attendees to alternative hotels.

Call the KCCVB housing department at 800-888-0509 (US only) or 269-488-0052, or follow the link to the online centralized booking system at the Congress Web site.

Shuttle Service

The Radisson Plaza Hotel, the main off-campus site, offers shuttle service to the Congress and to and from the airport. The Holiday Inn–West and Hawthorn Suites provide shuttle service to and from the airport. The Congress provides limited bus service to campus and back from the Holiday Inn–West, Hawthorn Suites, Staybridge Suites, and Country Inn & Suites.
Travel and Parking

AIR

Kalamazoo/Battle Creek International Airport is served by Northwest Airlines, United Airlines, American Airlines, and Delta Airlines. Detroit and Minneapolis (Northwest), Chicago (United and American), and Cincinnati and Atlanta (Delta) are the major hubs offering air connections.

Some Congress attendees find it convenient to fly to Grand Rapids, South Bend, Detroit, or Chicago and rent a car. Driving time from Gerald R. Ford International Airport (Grand Rapids) and from South Bend Regional Airport is less than two hours. Driving time from Detroit Metro Airport is about two-and-a-half hours, from O’Hare (Chicago) at least three hours. Kalamazoo (Eastern Time) is always one hour ahead of Chicago (Central Time). DTW Transportation Services (1-866-389-8294) offers taxis from Detroit Metro Airport to Kalamazoo (advance reservation required).

GROUND TRANSPORTATION FROM THE AIRPORT

Medieval Institute chartered buses meet all incoming flights at Kalamazoo/Battle Creek International Airport on Wednesday–Friday and transport passengers to registration (Eldridge-Fox lobby). More limited shuttle service is offered to and from the airport on Saturday. On Sunday, bus transportation to the Kalamazoo airport is provided from 6:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m., departing from Eldridge-Fox. The bus runs on the hour, and the trip takes about one-half hour; please plan accordingly.

The Radisson Plaza Hotel, Holiday Inn–West, and Hawthorn Suites provide shuttle service to and from the airport, which will be the most convenient option for Congress attendees staying at those hotels.

Taxi service is also available at the Kalamazoo/Battle Creek International Airport.

TRAIN

PARKING

Parking for those with cars is available in Goldsworth Valley I, II, III parking lots and at selected other parking lots on campus. Parking permits are available at registration in the Eldridge-Fox lobby. Permits cost $10.00. Do not park in prohibited areas. Individuals parking in these areas will have their cars towed at their expense.
I-94 is being widened near Kalamazoo. For the latest information on recommended detours, consult the Congress Web site.

Driving from I-94 to Congress registration

Take exit 74B onto US 131 north. Travel 2.8 miles on US 131 to exit 36A (Stadium Drive). Take Stadium Drive east 2.2 miles to Howard Street. Turn left onto Howard Street and travel 1 mile to Valley Drive. Turn right onto Valley Drive and follow the signs to Congress registration.

- Sunday: 7:30 a.m.–2:00 p.m.

Area Restaurants

Lists of Kalamazoo area restaurants, some within walking distance of Congress locations, are available at registration. Congress weekend tends to be high school prom weekend, so do make reservations in advance, especially for large groups.
Facilities

Fitness and Recreation

The fitness rooms in Valley II and Valley III are available for Congress registrants’ use around the clock throughout the Congress. Congress registrants may, upon presentation of a Congress badge and a picture ID, use the facilities of the Student Recreation Center, at the rate of $7.00/visit, which is paid in cash at the time of entry.

Telephones

The Medieval Institute can be reached at 269-387-8745 daily during the Congress between 8:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m.

Telephones are available to rent from the Eldridge-Fox desk throughout the Congress. These telephones may be used in your overnight room. The rental for a telephone is $20.00. The rental telephones may be used for campus calls and local calls. An AT&T long distance calling card must be used for all long distance calls. AT&T phone cards are available for purchase at the Eldridge-Fox desk.

For your convenience, a bank of telephones is set up in Valley III, Room 310. These telephones accept AT&T long distance calling cards. They are available on a 24-hour basis throughout the Congress.

Computing Services

Congress registrants have access to the computer labs in the Bernhard Center and at the University Computing Center (UCC) upon presentation of their Congress badges and picture ID. The lab in the UCC is open 8:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m., Monday–Friday. The lab in the Bernhard Center is open 8:00 a.m.–12:00 midnight, Monday–Friday, and 9:00 a.m.–12:00 midnight, Saturday and Sunday.

Wireless Internet Access

Congress registrants with wireless-equipped laptops may obtain access to WMU’s wireless network by following the instructions contained in their registration packets. Those planning to use the internet during their presentations will need to establish a User ID in WMU’s wireless system on their laptops in advance of the session. Please note that the WMU wireless network does not operate in dormitory sleeping rooms.

Audio-Visual Assistance

Audio-visual equipment assistance is available in the Fetzer Center, the Bernhard Center, Sangren Hall, and Schneider Hall when sessions are running.
CONGRESS BADGES

Each registrant receives a Congress badge; it should be worn throughout the Congress. You must wear your badge to attend sessions, visit the Exhibits Hall, attend the Saturday Night Dance, use the Student Recreation Center (for a fee), and use campus computer labs. The facilities and services of the Congress are available only to registered attendees.

CONGRESS PROGRAMS

The Medieval Institute sends Congress programs to all US addresses on its mailing list but limits international mailing of programs (including Canada) to individuals whose names appear in the program. The information contained in the printed program is available at the Congress Web site. Those attending the Congress from abroad whose names do not appear in that year’s program receive their gratis copies upon arrival at the Congress in May. Those who wish a printed copy, sent airmail, should order one through Medieval Institute Publications, using the form available at: <www.mipcatalog.com>. The total cost is $20.00.

In the United States, the Congress program goes out either Bulk Mail or, for those who have paid the premium charge, Priority Mail. If you would like to receive Priority Mail service for the 44th Congress (2009), please add $5.00 to your schedule of charges when you register for the 43rd Congress.

For Canadian addresses the Institute uses first-class mail, which is the only way to ensure at least some measure of speedy delivery. For delivery outside of North America, the Institute uses a mail service that carries the program air mail to the country of delivery and then deposits the mail in the country system.

Second copies of the printed program are available at the Congress at a cost of $15.00. If you have not given us a correct mailing address in the first instance, or if you have forgotten to bring your program to the Congress, you will need to purchase a second copy.

Please e-mail us at medieval-institute@wmich.edu if you change your address.

Advance Notice—2009 Congress

44th International Congress
on Medieval Studies
May 7–10, 2009

Absolute Deadlines

For organizers of Sponsored Sessions:
May 15, 2008: affiliated societies or academic programs propose sessions—including sessions of papers, panel discussions, roundtables, poster sessions, workshops, and performances—to the Congress Committee
October 1, 2008: organizers submit final session schedules as authorized by the Congress Committee and as announced in the Call for Papers in July

For organizers of Special Sessions:
May 15, 2008: ad hoc groups or individuals propose sessions—including sessions of papers, panel discussions, roundtables, poster sessions, workshops, and performances—to the Congress Committee
October 1, 2008: organizers submit final session schedules as authorized by the Congress Committee and as announced in the Call for Papers in July

For General Sessions:
September 15, 2008: individuals who wish to present papers send proposals to the Congress Committee at the Medieval Institute

Some Policies and Procedures

1. The Congress Committee will schedule only one paper per participant, with the exception of plenary lecturers and those giving papers in the Saturday evening Pseudo Society session, who may give two papers.
2. No participant may preside and give a paper at the same session. No participant may give a paper and serve as a respondent in the same session.
3. The Congress Committee will schedule each participant as paper presenter, panelist, discussant, presider, or respondent for a maximum of three sessions. Organizers may organize as many sessions as the Committee approves.
4. The Congress Committee strongly discourages multiple submissions and obliges participants to inform organizers when they submit proposals to more than one organizer. The Committee reserves the right to disallow all participation to those who breach professional courtesy by multiple submissions.
The Congress: How It Works

The Academic Program

The core of the Congress is the academic program, which consists of three broad types of sessions:

Sponsored Sessions are organized by affiliated learned societies, associations, or institutions. The organizers set predetermined topics, often narrowly focused and reflecting the considered aims and interests of the organizing group.

Special Sessions are organized by individual scholars or ad hoc groups. The organizers set predetermined topics, which are often narrowly focused.

General Sessions are organized by the Congress Committee at the Medieval Institute. Papers considered for inclusion in General Sessions comprise (A) those proposed directly to the Committee by the September 15 deadline and (B) paper proposals forwarded to the Medieval Institute by organizers of Sponsored and Special Sessions who were unable to include the papers in their sessions. Topics include all areas of medieval studies, with individual session topics determined by the topics of abstracts submitted and accepted.

Your Action

If you want to organize a session or sessions: work through the appropriate organization and its representatives for a place as a Sponsored Session, OR with or without ad hoc group support propose a Special Session or Sessions. The deadline for session proposals—including sessions of papers, panel discussions, roundtables, poster sessions, workshops, and performances—is May 15. By mid-June the Committee will have chosen its slate for inclusion in the Call for Papers, published in July.

If you want to give a paper: consult the Call for Papers and determine whether a Sponsored or a Special Session may be hospitable to a proposal. Send a paper proposal to the contact person as soon as you can, but no later than September 15, 2008, OR submit your proposal directly to the Congress Committee for consideration for inclusion in a General Session.

Timing, Efficiency, Fairness

Planning for sessions at the next year's Congress should be well under way at each Congress as attendees interact and exchange ideas. The efficient organizer generally tries to line up speakers as soon as possible. Sessions that are “open” on May 16 may be closing or closed at any point along the timeline to the September 15 deadline. The organizer or the person proposing a paper who waits until the last minute may be very disappointed, failing to fill a session or to place a paper, respectively.

The Committee obliges organizers of Sponsored and Special Sessions to forward proposals that are not selected to the Congress Committee, so that the papers can be considered for inclusion in General Sessions.
The Richard Rawlinson Center is pleased to announce the David R. Tashjian Travel Awards to participants giving papers on topics in Anglo-Saxon studies in Sponsored and Special Sessions at the 44th International Congress on Medieval Studies.

Doctoral candidates writing their dissertations are also eligible. Award recipients are ineligible for another award until the fourth year after a successful application. For the 44th Congress, there will be two awards: one award of $500, which will be presented at the Congress, plus waiver of registration and room and board fees, and one award that waives registration and room and board fees.

Applications

The deadline for applications for the Tashjian Travel Awards is November 1 (receipt deadline). Applicants must submit the following:

The Richard Rawlinson Center for Anglo-Saxon Studies and Manuscript Research fosters teaching and research in the history and culture of Anglo-Saxon England and in the broader field of manuscript studies. Dedicated to the memory of the founder of the chair of Anglo-Saxon at Oxford University and established through a gift from Georgian Rawlinson Tashjian and David Reitler Tashjian, the Center opened in May 1994. It houses a growing specialist library of books, microfiches, microfilms, and slides. Other resources are being actively developed. In the spring of 2005 the Rawlinson Center received the endowment established by the Tashjians. Endowed funds support the general purposes of the Center at the discretion of the Director of the Medieval Institute.

With Volume 40, the Old English Newsletter moved to a new publishing home in the Department of English at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville. By arrangement with the Executive Committee of the Old English Division of the Modern Language Association, OEN Subsidia will continue as a Richard Rawlinson Center publication through 2010.

The Sources of Anglo-Saxon Literary Culture (SASLC) project has published Sources of Anglo-Saxon Literary Culture: The Apocrypha as the first volume of Instrumenta Anglistica Mediaevalia, a forum for interim and subsidiary publications related to the SASLC project.

In May 2007 the Center sponsored three sessions at the 42nd International Congress on Medieval Studies. Donald G. Scragg organized “The Vikings in Late Anglo-Saxon England,” in which Ole Crumlin-Pedersen, the 2007 Richard Rawlinson Center Congress speaker, offered a paper entitled “Viking and Anglo-Saxon Longships.” Thomas N. Hall and Paul E. Szarmach organized “The Pembroke 25 Homiliary: An Electronic Edition in Progress,” and Timothy C. Graham organized “New Discoveries in Anglo-Saxon Studies,” which was co-sponsored with the Institute for Medieval Studies at the University of New Mexico.

For the 2008 Congress, the Center will sponsor a session entitled “Anglo-Saxon Sculpture: Images and Interpretations.” Organized by Donald G. Scragg, it includes papers by Catherine E. Karkov and Richard N. Bailey (the 2008 Richard Rawlinson Center Congress speaker).
The Medieval Institute at Western Michigan University was established in 1961 as a center of instruction and research in the history and culture of the Middle Ages. Its pioneering function then was to introduce the first Master of Arts in Medieval Studies offered at a state-supported university in the United States.

Today, more than four decades later, WMU remains one of the few public institutions in the United States with an interdisciplinary Master of Arts in Medieval Studies. The degree requirements are intended to provide graduate students with the basic tools and skills necessary for specialized scholarly research, as well as with an understanding of and an appreciation for the interdisciplinary aspects of the study of medieval culture.

In addition to administering the graduate program in Medieval Studies, one of the Medieval Institute's primary concerns is fostering significant research in all areas of medieval culture.

The institute supports research through the annual International Congress on Medieval Studies; the Richard Rawlinson Center for Anglo-Saxon Studies and Manuscript Research; the Early Drama, Art, and Music Project; and Medieval Institute Publications, which publishes book series, journals, monographs, and critical editions of texts.

Through these and other programs, WMU's Medieval Institute has earned national and international recognition as a significant center for scholarship in Medieval Studies.

GRADUATE PROGRAM

In addition to allowing students to pursue specialized interests, the Master of Arts in Medieval Studies offers students an opportunity to develop an interdisciplinary background in medieval history, languages, literature, philosophy, religion, the arts, and research methodology. It offers two options: thesis and non-thesis.

Option I requires at least thirty-seven credit hours of course work, including core courses, approved elective courses, a master’s thesis, demonstrated reading proficiency in Latin and in one modern foreign language, and an oral examination in defense of the master's thesis.

Option II requires at least thirty-seven credit hours of course work, including required core courses, elective courses, and demonstrated reading proficiency in Latin.
Western Michigan University administers graduate admissions using a “self-managed” application system. Applicants are responsible for gathering and submitting all admission materials to the appropriate offices. Deadlines for complete applications are February 15 for fall admission (September) and October 15 for spring admission (January) or for the summer (May).

The application process consists of two parts:
1. Application to WMU Graduate Admissions
2. Application to the Medieval Institute

1. Application to WMU Graduate Admissions comprises the following:
   • a completed online application (available at <www.wmich.edu/admissions>)
   • $40.00 nonrefundable application fee (to be paid online)
   • scores from the Graduate Record Examination general test
   • official transcripts from EVERY undergraduate and graduate institution attended (WMU excluded)

2. Application to the Medieval Institute comprises the following:
   • a second set of official transcripts from EVERY undergraduate and graduate institution attended (WMU excluded)
   • two letters of recommendation from persons able to evaluate the applicant’s potential for graduate study
   • a letter of intent stating areas of interest and academic and professional goals

The applicant should contact the Medieval Institute for more information:

Medieval Institute Publications contributes to the research mission of the Medieval Institute by publishing significant scholarship in all areas of medieval studies.

Studies in Medieval Culture (SMC) was first published in 1964 as a vehicle for papers selected from those delivered at what were then biennial Conferences on Medieval Studies. The first twelve volumes covered conferences from the first (1962) through the twelfth (1977). As the Conference evolved into an annual International Congress containing within it special sessions and symposia in which scholars from around the world explored particular topics or interdisciplinary approaches to a single subject, Studies changed from a journal to a series. Since the publication of Social Groups and Religious Ideas in the Sixteenth Century (SMC XIII) in 1978, succeeding volumes have borne individual titles and have focused on a single topic or on interdisciplinary approaches to a specific subject.

Early Drama, Art, and Music (EDAM) was established in 1976 to encourage, coordinate, sponsor, and publish research, especially of an interdisciplinary nature, in these fields. While the principal focus remains iconography, especially (but not exclusively) as it relates to drama and the theater, attention is also given to other aspects of dramatic production and to music. The project sponsors two series of publications, a monograph series and a reference series.

Publications of the Richard Rawlinson Center is a scholarly series covering the general field of Anglo-Saxon studies, with particular emphasis on the study of manuscripts. The series has been published by the Richard Rawlinson Center for Anglo-Saxon Studies and Manuscript Research in association with Medieval Institute Publications at Western Michigan University since 2000.

Sources of Anglo-Saxon Literary Culture (SASLC) is a collaborative project that aims to produce a multivolume reference work providing a convenient summary of current scholarship on the knowledge and use of literary sources in Anglo-Saxon England. Readers will find information on manuscript evidence, medieval library catalogs, Anglo-Latin and Old English versions, citations, quotations, and direct references to authors and works under appropriate subject headings. The project includes a second series, Instrumenta Anglistica Mediaevalia, designed to provide a forum for interim and subsidiary publications related to the SASLC project.

Non-series volumes are published on occasion, some in collaboration with other scholarly enterprises.
Medieval Institute Publications publishes two journals:

Medieval Prosopography: History and Collective Biography is dedicated to the prosopographical study of the Middle Ages; the journal is a forum for articles, review articles, reviews, research notes, information on large and team projects, and news of conferences and publications. The focus is prosopography or collective biography; family history, genealogy, charter research, onomastics, and network analysis may also be covered.

Studies in Iconography is an annual that publishes original essays studying the visual culture of the period before 1600, focusing on the theory of iconography and cross-disciplinary studies. Explorations of newer approaches developed in areas such as semiotics, cultural anthropology, gender studies, ideological critique, and social history and incorporating the perspectives of the new art history, the new historicism, and other histories of representation are especially encouraged.

Medieval Institute Publications publishes books for The Consortium for the Teaching of the Middle Ages (TEAMS), a non-profit organization dedicated to promoting interest and excellence in the teaching of the Middle Ages in secondary schools, two- and four-year colleges, and universities. TEAMS series include the Commentary Series, Documents of Practice, Medieval German Texts in Bilingual Editions, and Middle English Texts.

The Journal of Medieval Iberian Studies (JMIS) is a new interdisciplinary journal for innovative scholarship on the Christian, Jewish, and Islamic cultures of the Iberian Peninsula from the fifth to the sixteenth centuries. JMIS encompasses archaeology, art and architecture, music, philosophy, and religious studies, as well as history, codicology, manuscript studies, and the multiple Arabic, Latin, Romance, and Hebrew linguistic and literary traditions of Iberia. Essays that engage with multiple disciplinary perspectives, nontraditional submissions (including multimedia and theoretically attuned work), and comparative articles addressing the significance for medieval Iberian studies of broader developments in medieval European, colonial Latin American, Peninsular or North African studies—and vice versa—are strongly encouraged. JMIS, which is supported in part by the Medieval Institute at Western Michigan University and by Hofstra University, will be published twice a year, with occasional thematic clusters.

Submissions for consideration must be prepared in Chicago Humanities style, and should not exceed 7,000 words; shorter pieces, and nontraditional submissions, are welcomed. Please send an original and three copies to:

Western Michigan University is a dynamic, student-centered research university with an enrollment of twenty-five thousand. WMU is focused on delivering high-quality undergraduate instruction, advancing its growing graduate division, and fostering significant research activities.

The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching places WMU among the seventy-six public institutions in the nation designated as research universities with high research activity. US News & World Report’s annual ranking of American colleges and universities includes WMU as one of the nation’s top-100 public universities. Undergraduate students at WMU may choose from 141 program offerings while graduate students may select from sixty-six master’s, one specialist, and twenty-nine doctoral programs. A number of programs at both the undergraduate and graduate levels have attained national recognition. Also enriching the quality of campus life are more than two hundred registered student organizations and a full array of NCAA Division IA intercollegiate athletic teams.

The University’s commitment to the discovery and dissemination of new knowledge and insight has resulted in initiatives that reward faculty and student research, scholarship, and creative activity. In a typical year, WMU faculty and staff conduct $30 to $40 million in externally funded research on topics ranging from nuclear physics and specialized education to developing technology that enables more efficient flight and more environmentally friendly public transportation. Instructional programs are designed to increase students’ capacity for learning and service to society, as well as to meet the needs of an increasingly diverse student population.

WMU is Michigan’s fourth largest higher education institution, attracting a diverse and culturally rich student body from across the United States and some eighty other countries. Its nearly nine hundred full-time faculty members have been trained at some of the world’s finest institutions and they bring to the University a global perspective that enhances the learning environment.

The University also has an off-campus study site in Kalamazoo and eight branch campuses around the state, all of which provide primarily graduate and professional education. Branch campuses are located in Battle Creek, Benton Harbor-St. Joseph, Grand Rapids, Holland, Lansing, Muskegon, South Haven, and Traverse City.

Founded in 1903, WMU rapidly grew from a regional teachers college to an internationally regarded institution of higher education. What was once Western Michigan College became Western Michigan University in 1957, when the state designated it as the fourth public university in Michigan.
Western Michigan University and its Medieval Institute invite your partnership in maintaining and enhancing our unique role in developing the field of Medieval Studies. One way to do this is to contribute to one of our four endowment funds, each of which supports a part of our mission.

Our newest fund, named for the Institute’s late director, Otto Gründler, supports Congress participants with preference given to scholars from Central European nations. Its proceeds enable promising younger scholars to attend the Congress, thereby enhancing the international character of the Congress and continuing an initiative begun by Otto Gründler in the 1980s.

The Institute’s commitment to Anglo-Saxon and manuscript studies gave rise to the Richard Rawlinson Center for Anglo-Saxon Studies and Manuscript Research, which receives income from an endowment originally established by Georgian Rawlinson Tashjian and David Reitler Tashjian. The Rawlinson center houses an excellent working collection of books and microfilms available to anyone having an interest in medieval history, languages, and manuscripts. The Center also sponsors an annual Congress speaker and supports students enrolled in the Institute’s MA in Medieval Studies program.

The Medieval Institute Endowment fund provides general financial support for all the activities of the Institute, especially its International Congress on Medieval Studies. This fund’s development and growth will ensure the continuation and enhancement of the Congress for future generations of medievalists.

And last but not least, planning is underway for the creation of a “Half-Centenary” endowment marking the founding of the Medieval Institute (1961) and its first medieval conference (1962). The intent of this fund is to support the academic mission of the Medieval Institute and its goal to become a major research center for Medieval Studies in Michigan and the Greater Midwest region.

If you would like to contribute to any of these funds, please make your check payable to the Western Michigan University Foundation, indicating your choice of fund, and mailing it to:

2009 will mark the eight-hundredth anniversary of the Albigensian Crusade. To set the events of 1209–29 in their widest possible context (and at the same time to mark the anniversary) the International Medieval Congress in Leeds has chosen the topic of “heresy and orthodoxy” as a special thematic strand for 2009. This roundtable is intended to set the scene and to establish a conceptual framework, aiming to focus on the understanding of what constituted “heresy” and “heretics” by bringing historians, archaeologists, theologians, and art historians together with those in literary fields.

This workshop, which spans both afternoon session timeslots (1:30–5:00 p.m.), brings together experts in the fields of primary source digitization, technology, metadata, and project planning to discuss the digitization of medieval manuscripts (see also Session 298). All digitization projects, whether of individual folia or multiple manuscripts, run more efficiently through planning. The workshop will cover the nine essential planning elements; discuss issues of legibility and copyright, equipment, specifications, and metadata standards; share resources and references; and will include a tour of Western Michigan University’s Digitization Center in Waldo Library. Registration is $50 for MAA members and $65 for non-members. To register, contact Dorothy Carr Porter at dporter@uky.edu. Space is limited to 35 participants.

Reassessing English Interludes: Performance, Criticism, and Pedagogy II

Sponsor: Comparative Drama
Organizer: Joe Ricke, Taylor Univ.
Presider: Eve Salisbury, Western Michigan Univ.

This session will feature a complete performance, directed by Joe Ricke and performed by graduate students of the Medieval Institute, of the early Tudor (1491?) interlude Fulgens and Lucrece. It is not our intention necessarily to reproduce early Tudor costumes, music, and feast, but we hope to perform and explore the work from a perspective informed by the rich background provided by early drama studies, focusing on the unique place of interludes, while also acknowledging connections with earlier religious drama and later “secular” Elizabethan and Jacobean popular theater. The performance will be followed by an open discussion with director, actors, and audience.

WMU Libraries, Digitization Center will not exhibit.
The core of the Congress is the academic program, which exists in three broad types of sessions:

- Sponsored Sessions are organized by affiliated learned societies, associations, or institutions. The organizers set predetermined topics, often narrowly focused and reflecting the considered aims and interests of the organizing group.

- Special Sessions are organized by individual scholars or ad hoc groups. The organizers set predetermined topics, which are often narrowly focused.

- General Sessions are organized by the Congress Committee at the Medieval Institute.

Session Proposals
If you want to organize a session or sessions, work through the appropriate organization and its representatives for a place as a Sponsored Session or Sessions, OR with or without ad hoc group support propose a Special Session or Sessions.

Proposals for Sponsored and Special Sessions—including sessions of papers, panel discussions, roundtables, poster sessions, workshops, and performances—are due on May 15. The Congress Committee considers the proposals in June, and would-be session organizers are informed of the Committee’s acceptance or rejection of sessions by post in July.

Session Proposal Form
The Session Proposal Form is available in two formats on the Congress Web site, as an interactive PDF file and as a Microsoft Word Form. Complete the form and mail or fax it to the Institute by the May 15 deadline. The Medieval Institute does not accept session proposals via e-mail.

The King’s Court to a Cajun Kitchen follows the trail of a musical tradition that was born in the courts and countryside of France, crossed the Atlantic to Canada and then headed south to Louisiana. The program includes songs of the troubadours and trouveres, paired with folk music of Brittany, Limousin, Louisiana, and Andalusia. Le Bon Vent traces the evolution of a body of music that bears the mark of Celtic and Arabic influences mingled with French landscapes and sensibilities. This music passed from court composers to peasants to Louisiana settlers, constantly growing and changing, yet remaining uniquely French through centuries of change.
