WMC 1941 Homecoming Saturday, Nov. 1
"Biggest and Best" Says Committee

Dedicatorv Program for Mechanical Trades Building

Homecoming—perhaps the most colorful and exciting event of the college year—will lack nothing of its traditional color and excitement as it is celebrated this year on Friday, October 31, and Saturday, November 1.

Alumni who in past years have carried a baleful red flare or ridden on a careening float or swished a shoo shoo wand in the pep parade the night before the big game will be glad to learn that the old thrills will be conjured up again in much the same old way—except that the committee for this year will remain true to Western's policy of making each Homecoming the biggest and the best of all.

The first event will be the monster pep parade, which will move off the mark at 7:30 Friday evening, October 31, ably commanded by Marshal George Kirby, who clinched his right to the marshal's baton by his success with last year's parade—remember? Organizations will enter floats, the band will lead and the massed student body will furnish enough noise and color to stop downtown Kalamazoo in its tracks.

The destination of the parade will be the Men's Gymnasium, where the actual pep meeting will be held. Last year's program was engineered by Mac MacDonald and Wally Garneau, and these two engineers are on the job again this year. What happens will doubtless be hilarious and loud—perhaps even instructive when Coach Gary and Western Kentucky's mentor swap threats and promises about the next day's game.

Following the pep meeting the flames of enthusiasm in the collective breast of Western Michigan College will be symbolized by just such a sky-searing bonfire as Charlie Maher and his committee helpers put on last year, Charlie being on the Committee again this year too.

Thus will Western prepare for the climax of all—the big game on Saturday, November 1, with Western Kentucky. The general chairman of this year's committee is Charles A. Smith, and he says his entire committee proclaims to the alumni, "The latch-string's out!"

Heavy Demand for Teachers
At Placement Bureau

Graduates of Western Michigan College, particularly those who are teaching and have opportunity to advise with high school seniors who are planning to teach after their college training, should know some of the following facts, which are daily observations of those who are responsible for placement. From that source come some timely comments as follows:

Most all of Western's 1941 graduating class have accepted teaching positions, gone into other types of work, or in the case of some of the young men, have gone into some branch of service. The condition of the country has made a heavy demand for teachers in all areas. Areas in which there has been especially great demand for the past three or four years are elementary, home economics, industrial arts, commerce and physical education when combined with industrial arts, mathematics or the physical sciences. In the straight secondary field there has also been considerable demand for Latin, mathematics and the physical sciences, especially when combined with strong teaching minors.

Those responsible for guiding young people in a professional approach surely appreciate the observations which are available in practical situations.

Kalamazoo Alumnae to Have WMC Sorority

Ninety Women Present at Organization Meeting
Delta Chapter of Alpha Beta Epsilon Founded

Ninety alumnae of Western Michigan College enjoyed dinner on the evening of September 18 in Walwood Hall, and in the business session, following dinner, voted unanimously to organize the Delta chapter of Alpha Beta Epsilon, the Western Alumnae sorority. Other chapters are the Alpha chapter in St. Joseph and Benton Harbor; the Beta chapter in South Bend; and the Gamma chapter in Grand Rapids.

Elizabeth DeLano Howard, A.B. '33, presided at the business session as temporary chairman. Mrs. Winifred Congdon MacFee led in community singing of the college songs, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Adeline Nelthrope, who later played the song she wrote for the sorority. Miss Mary Louise Sales introduced several alumnae who reminisced about the buildings, teachers, and courses when they were in school. Those participating in the program were Miss Dorothy Matter, Mrs. Clark Godfrey, Mrs. Leonard Vader, Mrs. E. Frank Whittington, Mrs. H. J. Bouck, and Mrs. Hugh Nicolls.

Credit to Whom Credit Is Due

Western Michigan College faculty through its council recently received a compilation of what the state and national organizations of teachers have done and are doing for teachers. What the council did was to request the N.E.A. and the M.E.A. to send brief statements of the services they are rendering to the teaching profession. In organizations so large as the Michigan Education Association and the National Education Association a distinctive service is rendered to the membership and any others who are interested when reviews of activities are occasionally made available. Following are a list of quoted items:

1. Higher salaries for teachers made possible.
2. State aid and equalization fund increased.
3. Teachers' retirement fund benefits increased.
5. Other beneficial school legislation promoted.
6. Harmful school legislation opposed and defeated.
7. Selfish State constitutional amendments defeated.
8. Revision of certification practices and improvement of teacher training fostered.
10. In-service training and professional stimulating provided at Regional Conferences.
11. Special education interests served by the M.E.A.'s eleven affiliated departments.
12. Valuable statistics compiled for use by the Legislature, teachers, and by groups.
14. Teacher credit unions promoted.
15. Many equity cases settled.
16. Teacher growth and participation encouraged through one hundred eight district units.
17. Participation in a comprehensive study of Michigan's tax structure.
19. Weekly education broadcasts over WKAR.
20. Cooperation with other agencies in the improvement of education.
21. Studies conducted on school finance, teachers' salaries, sick leave, credit unions, group insurance, school building needs, state government services, free textbooks, academic freedom, retirement age rules, salary payment plans, code of ethics, financing education in other states.
22. Production of a film depicting the growth, history, and services of the M.E.A.
23. Needs of public education and the teaching profession interpreted to legislators, teacher groups, and lay groups.

Some of the services rendered by the M.E.A.

1. Committees and Commissions.
2. Joint committees
   a. National Coordinating Committee on Education and Defense.
   b. Cooperation in the advancement of American education.
   d. Joint Committee on Health Problems in Education.
   e. Cooperation with the professional organization of Negro teachers.
   f. Congress of Parents and Teachers.
3. Commissions and Councils
4. National Council and Departments
5. Future Teachers of America Organizations
6. Publications
   a. The Journal
   b. The Annual Volume of Addresses and Proceedings
   c. The Research Bulletin is published five times a year.
   d. Departmental Yearbooks and Bulletins
   e. Reports of Committees and Commissions
   f. Personal Growth Leaflets
7. Conventions
8. Public Relations

New Buildings on Campus

Imposing, indeed, is the enumeration of additional facilities to the physical plant on campus at Western Michigan College. As recently as 1938 there appeared in this publication an announcement that a Union Building and a dormitory for women would be available September 1. In the brief time since that announcement the contour of the campus has been very materially changed and at this writing it is possible to tabulate a list of buildings finished and in use or being finished in the very immediate future. Walwood Hall and Union Building

$425,000

Football Stadium and Baseball

Grandstand 287,000

Vandecook Hall for Men 285,000

Health and Personnel Building 165,000

Lavina Spindler Hall for Women 300,000

Mechanical Trades Building 70,000

Little Theatre 87,500

Greenhouse 2,500

Approximately two million dollars of added educational facilities in a period of three years make it necessary for the alumni to do more than just read about them in order to keep abreast with the times. It necessitates visiting the campus as often as possible.

New Curriculums

Immediately above this item concerning additional courses and training possibilities appears a citation of new buildings on campus. In less time than it has taken to build and reconstruct the physical plant, new curriculums have been invoked. Enrollments to date in the graduate courses total 673. From July 1, 1940 to September 1, 1941, 1,310 students have availed themselves of defense training. The Civilian Pilot Training Course has attracted 238 since the fall of 1939. An enrollment of 45 is anticipated in aviations mechanics. In addition to all of the above, retail selling courses and secretarial courses are being organized this semester to accommodate enrollments of 25 and 35 respectively.

Those who enrolled in the graduate division this semester had the distinctive pleasure of handling the most attractive announcement bulletin that has ever been afforded.

Dr. Manley Ellis

Dr. Manley Ellis has recently returned to the campus after an extended absence, the last year of which was spent at the University of Chicago at a Collaboration Center concerned with child growth and development. While Dr. Ellis has spent several years on the faculty of Western Michigan College as an instructor in the Department of Education, his new duties are to be classified under the general title of Director of Personnel and Guidance.

For the past several months the faculty of Western Michigan College in cooperation with the National Teacher Education Study have been concerned with most recent trends in education. Dr. Ellis' new position will enable him to put into practice many of the approved findings of the study, such as centralization and coordination of counseling, advisory service for upperclassmen as well as for freshmen, a system of cumulative records for counselors, and general emphasis upon individual guidance. With the child as the center of interest, and with emphasis upon the fact that individualities differ, it is Dr. Ellis' purpose to assist students on the campus in their own growth and development and to guide them specifically in the choice of a vocation, particularly if it be that of teaching.

Additional Appointments

Other new faculty members are:

Dr. Gifford Blyton, who will take the position in the department of speech made vacant by the death of Dr. William A. Hackett. Dr. Blyton did his undergraduate work at the University of Washington in Seattle, and his graduate work at the University of Washington in Seattle, and his graduate work at the University of Washington in Seattle, and his graduate work at the University of Washington in Seattle, and his graduate work at the University of Washington in Seattle, and his graduate work at Louisiana State University and Ohio State University. Dr. Edwin Lemert will replace Dr. Paul Meadows in the department of sociology, who has resigned to join the faculty of Northwestern University. Dr. Edwin Lemert has his degree of doctor of philosophy from the Ohio State University. He did his undergraduate work at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, from which he has the degree of bachelor of arts. His graduate work was done at the University of Cincinnati, National University of Mexico, Harvard University, and Ohio State.

Dr. O. I. Frederick has been appointed to the department of education to succeed Dr. Ira M. Allen, who has resigned. Dr. Frederick did his undergraduate work at Findlay College, Findlay, Ohio, and his graduate work at the University of Michigan. Behrens Ulrich comes to the commerce department from the Drexel Institute of Technology, Philadelphia. He did his undergraduate work at Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio, and has a degree of master of science from New York University.
Broncos Open Football Season with Win at Cleveland

Apparently, from the brilliant start that the Broncos made in their opening game with Western Reserve University, Western Michigan College Alumni and football fans of southwestern Michigan are going to see a lot of victories hung up by the Broncos on the gridiron this fall.

In the opener with Western Reserve, Sun Bowl Champion over Arizona State last New Year's, the Broncos, rated as a distinct underdog, turned out to be a real Bronco with plenty of kick instead of just an underdog and in spite of the heat from a hot sun which poured down in large park in Cleveland the Western Michigan team using the T-formation to good advantage and displaying a strong defensive type of game turned back the thrusts of the Red Cats and then in the final minute of play had stuff enough left to take full advantage of the one break of the game and came through a 7-0 victor.

Starting the contest four first downs moved the Reserve team deep into Bronco territory, but a penalty set the Red Cats back on the 33. After another first down the Western defense stiffened and unable to gain in 3 downs Reserve elected a field goal attempt, but Bill Dewalt's placement was short.

In the second quarter the Broncos on a strong counter thrust carried the ball to the Western Reserve 16, where on fourth down the Broncos also attempted to score by the field goal route. Metzger made the placement attempt from the 21 yard stripe, but his kick was just wide of the upright.

From that time on neither team was able to gain consistently and a punting duel held sway between Capt. Bob Metzger of Western and Bill Dewalt of Reserve with honors about even until the final quarter.

As the fourth quarter opened the Broncos turned on "the heat" and during the last period held Reserve without a first down and gradually forced the play deep into the Reserve territory. In the final minute of play Joe Lynd, Niles junior, went into the game for Captain Metzger, just at a time when Reserve was forced to punt. The Bronco substitute raced through the Reserve team, blocked Dewalt’s punt, and then with Dewalt started to chase the ball as it bounded back over the Western Reserve goal. Behind the goal Lynd fell on it for the only touchdown of the game. His game winning play over, Lynd immediately came out of the contest and Capt. Metzger went back and booted the extra point by placement with Coleman holding the ball.

Coleman, Stillwell, Maciosczyk, Bob Mellen in the backfield and the entire Bronco line played alert, heads-up football all of the way in aiding in bringing victory to the Broncos over the nationally known Reserve team in one of the big upsets of Saturday, September 27.

Looking ahead it seems that barring injuries to some key players of one of the smallest squads in years the Broncos will have a fine season in 1941 even over a tough schedule which lists such teams as Butler, Iowa Teachers, Toledo at home, October 25, which will be Dad’s Day; Western Kentucky on homecoming, November 1; Manchester at Kalamazoo, Nov. 8; Wayne and the closing tilt with Ripon on Thanksgiving Day.

In this connection it is also well to call attention to a strong cross country schedule, which features the Michigan AAU barrier run and a dual meet with Purdue, the latter coming at the time of homecoming, November 1.

October 18—Iowa Teachers at Cedar Falls
October 25—Toledo at Kalamazoo (Dad’s Day)
November 1—Western Kentucky at Kalamazoo (Homecoming)
November 8—Manchester at Kalamazoo
November 15—Wayne at Detroit
November 20—Ripon at Kalamazoo

Cross Country Schedule
October 18—Illinois Normal University at Kalamazoo
October 25—Albion at Albion (Practice Meet)
November 1—Purdue at Kalamazoo
November 8—State Itnercollegiate Meet at Ypsilanti
November 15—State AAU meet

Excerpts from Current Mail

"... I am in the cavalry—not horses, but mechanized. I have learned to drive an army truck. The first ten weeks I did everything that everyone else did. Some of the practices included in basic training have been drill, manual of arms, combat, map reading, and compass instruction. Weapons we have handled have included the machine gun, the pistol, and the firing of the rifle. We take trips around the vicinity in trucks, changing drivers periodically. Combat training was rigorous; we learned to charge, fall, and advance under gas or fire. It is dusty and windy, but we have good shower facilities which enable us to keep clean and cool. Right now the army mechanical aptitude test is being given."

"... The army school in which I am studying is very intensified. We do some math courses in five weeks that would ordinarily take many more. Armament of aircraft, navigation, wireless, and aircraft recognition are some other courses."

"I am not sure where I am to be assigned for duty, but your letter reached me at the Naval Mine Warfare School. As soon as my pay account is forwarded from the ship I formerly served on I want to subscribe to the Alumni Magazine."
