FACT BOOK 1995

WESTERN MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY

Office of Planning and Institutional Research

May 1995

Dear Western Michigan University Colleagues:

The 1994-95 University Fact Book is designed for your use as a guide to basic data about our University. It is the work of many individuals whose time and talent we greatly appreciate. In particular the task of coordinating the University Fact Book fell to Cheryl Lay who guided it to completion.

This year's University Fact Book provides a great deal of additional data, as well as entirely new formats for familiar data. Our goal was to provide an accurate, useful and readable document. We have taken care to provide explanatory notes and definitions to guide your use of the tables and graphs.

The first section provides an overview, including some "quick facts" about WMU and a ten year comparison on some basic items. The second section provides basic enrollment statistics, including total headcount for recent years. Subsequent sections include various student characteristics, summary data about faculty, financial aid data, and University current fund information.

We welcome comments and suggestions for data and items to be included in future editions of the University Fact Book. We also welcome questions about the items included in this year's University Fact Book. Please contact us at 616/387-4422.

Sincerely,

Jan W. Lyddon, Ph.D., Director

Peninnah S. Miller, Director of Institutional Research

Andrew C. Huang, Ph.D., Associate Director of Institutional Research

History: Established by legislative act in 1903 as Western State Normal School, the first classes were held in 1904. The first permanent building, completed in 1905, overlooked the city from Prospect Hill. By the 1920's Western had become one of America's leading teachers' colleges. Starting in 1934, genera degree work was offered. An expansion program on the west campus began in 1944. Increasing enrollment and the addition of new departments and courses during the 1940's and 1950's made Western a multi-purpose institution and led to its designation as a university in 1957 by an act of the legislature

WESTERN MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY'S MISSION STATEMENT

Western Michigan University has identified five major goals to guide its development during the decade of the 1990s:

- Offer instructional programs of academic excellence reflecting the high quality of the faculty and students, the depth and breadth of the curriculum and co-curriculum emphasizing personal growth and development, the enhanced facilities and learning resources, and the continuing assessment of learning and the learning process.
- Increase the graduate enrollment, expand external support for research, facilitate scholarship and creative activity, and reward professional accomplishments of faculty, staff, and students.
- Assist regional and State economic development through on- and off-campus instruction, applied research centers, and technical assistance to business, industry, government, and the schools.
- Meet the needs of the citizenry by providing leadership and sponsorship of and participation in cultural events and civic activities.
- Increase the diversity of the student body, faculty, and staff and enhance the multi-cultural nature of the University community.

Founded in 1903 as a normal school for preparing elementary and secondary school teachers and designated in 1957 as the State's fourth public university, Western Michigan University has earned recognition by the Michigan Legislature as a graduate-intensive university and by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching as a Doctoral I University. The University shares with other higher education institutions the mission to discover, disseminate, extend, and preserve knowledge and culture. In fulfilling this responsibility, University instructional programs strive to increase students' capacity for intellectual growth and achievement, instill a commitment to learning and service to society, and meet the needs of an increasingly diverse student population. The University's research mission requires the faculty and students to create new knowledge and to address social needs and concerns. The University serves the region as a major information and technology resource and plays a critical role in cultural, social, and economic development and enrichment. The University strives for excellence in its endeavors and continually evaluates its efforts to assure that objective.

Western Michigan University offers a full array of undergraduate programs in the fine arts, humanities, social and natural sciences, and the professions; master's programs through its Departments and Schools; and doctoral programs in selected fields. The Colleges share the University's traditional commitment to the preparation of teachers. Educational programs provide students the opportunity to gain academic knowledge and develop the ability to apply that knowledge based on considered ethical choices, and seek to produce graduates who will think critically, communicate effectively, and participate meaningfully in a rapidly changing world. The general education program emphasizes a diverse cultural and ethnic heritage and the importance of a global perspective. Academic major programs require students to master a field of inquiry, discipline, or profession sufficient to an understanding of its methods, subject matter, and future in service to society.

Western Michigan University has distinctive strengths in its graduate and professional programs based on strong foundations in liberal and general education. The University has attracted and retains an outstanding faculty, and several of its Departments have achieved national and international recognition. Faculty and program quality together provide a basis for responding positively to the challenges and opportunities of the future.

The University's commitment to the discovery and dissemination of new knowledge and insight facilitates and rewards faculty and student research, scholarship, and creative activity. The University extends its resources to the community through fine arts programming, on-site delivery of educational programs, student service and internship assistance, health-related clinical services, technology transfer, technical support, and applied research programs. The University deliberately seeks student, staff, and faculty populations characterized by a diversity that reflects society at large and meets student needs through cultural, academic, and financial support and enrichment programs designed to promote student persistence, independence, and success.

The University provides to students a balanced educational experience, including co-curricular activities that contribute to personal growth and help to develop leadership skills. Student organizations, campus residence hall life, artistic events, multi-cultural programs, intercollegiate athletics, and intramural activities together with formal academic endeavor constitute the University environment. Western Michigan University fosters and develops ethical behavior among administrators, faculty, staff, and students. Faculty and student governance structures rest upon the principles of academic freedom and professional ethics consistent with the responsibilities of an academic community.

Approved by Board of Trustees April 27, 1990.

Western Michigan University History

Western State Normal School was established by the Michigan Legislature in 1903 as a two year normal school responsible for preparing elementary school teachers. The school began offering Bachelor of Art Degrees through the University of Michigan in 1913, and then independently in 1918. The Normal School was first accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools (NCA) in 1915, and in 1916 by what became the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education. Classes were first offered at off-campus sites in 1917. The Bachelor of Science degree was first awarded in 1924, and in 1927, the institution was renamed Western State Teachers College.

In 1934 the College awarded bachelor's degrees independent of teacher certification, and in 1938 it began offering master's degree work in cooperation with the University of Michigan. In 1941 the institution was renamed Western Michigan College of Education, and in 1952 it was authorized by the State Board of Education to award master's degrees independently, a role for which it received North Central Association graduate accreditation in 1955. The institution became Western Michigan College in 1955, and, finally, in 1957 it was redefined in name and function as Western Michigan University. The University first offered the B.B.A. degree in 1952, the B.S.E. degree in 1965, the B.F.A. in 1973, the B.S.M. in 1974, and the B.S.W. in 1980. NCA approved the offering of the specialist degree in 1961; doctoral degrees were initiated in 1966 and fully accreditated in 1971. Of major significance in this chronology is the recognition of Western Michigan University in the 1963 revision of the Michigan Constitution. This act conferred a new, special status on Western and authorized appointment by the governer of its own Board of Trustees.

The University currently enrolls 25,673 students in 156 undergraduate, 61 master's, 2 specialist, and 21 doctoral programs on the Kalamazoo campus and at five regional education centers. Now the fourth largest university in the state, the University was recognized as a Doctoral I university by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching in 1987, and as a graduate intensive university by the Michigan Legislature in 1988. The 1990 revision of the University's mission statement makes clear the University's direction for the next decade: research, graduate education, and economic development, in addition to a continued commitment to undergraduate education, diversity, and community service.

DEFINITIONS OF TERMS USED IN 1995 FACT BOOK

Student headcount is the count of individual students enrolled for one or more credit courses during the time period illustrated. This count is taken at the same time each semester (Census Day) as set by the Board of Trustees and reported by the Registrar.

Degree seeking students are those students who are officially admitted to the University in a degree program as either full or part time students.

FYES is an abbreviation for Fiscal Year Equated Students. To calculate FYES, the total student credit hours (SCH) for the fiscal year are broken into those taken at the undergraduate, master's and doctoral level. The SCH at the undergraduate level are divided by 31, SCH at the master's are divided by 24, and doctoral credits are divided by 16. FYES is commonly used among Michigan colleges and universities to provide comparative enrollment data. FYES should be distinguished from the definition of individual students who attend full time or part time. FTE students are calculated for each semester by dividing the SCH for undergraduates by 15.5, master's students by 12 and doctoral students by 8. (See full time student).

Full time student/part time student refers to the classification of individual students based on the number of credits each is carrying in a semester. Undergraduates are considered full time when they take 12 or more credits; graduate (Master's and Doctoral) students are considered full time when they take 9 or more credits per semester.

FTIAC refers to degree seeking students, enrolled for the first time in any college.

Data on Students Enrolled or Census Day reports come from the Registrar's office on data collected from the census day of each semester.

Retention rates are calculated by first identifying all first time, degree seeking, freshmen in a given fall semester (a cohort). This same group of students is then tracked through ensuing years to determine students who transfer out and the percentage who have graduated. The graduation rate is calculated after six years from first enrollment.

Student/faculty ratios are calculated by dividing the total FYES by the total FTE faculty. The ratios for individual departments are made according to the department of the course prefix, e.g., the credit hours associated with the math prefix are assigned to the Mathematics and Statistics department unless otherwise indicated. The credit hours are all from on-campus courses, except those from courses taught off-campus as part of a salaried instructors regular load. See page 60 for more detail about definitions of items related to faculty.

Full-time instructional faculty are instructional bargaining unit faculty (described below) and academic department chairs, who are full time. Inclusion and exclusion of individuals is based on that for reporting to government agencies (IPEDS). See page 60 for more detail about definitions of items related to faculty.

Bargaining unit faculty are those faculty appointed by the Board of Trustees who are represented by the WMU chapter of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP). As such, they all have academic rank. Most of the positions have an instructional function. However, some, notably those in the library and counseling center are not instructional and are omitted from counts that specify instructional faculty. See page 60 for more detail about definitions of items related to faculty.

IPEDS stands for Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System, a system for reporting institutional data to the federal government.

Student Credit Hours (SCH) is the enrollment in a course multiplied by the credit hour value of the course. For example, if a three credit hour class includes 30 students, the SCH is 90. Total SCH for the University is all classes added together.

WMU Alumni Geographic Distribution (1995)

Total addressable alumni*

There are 128,000 WMU alumni worldwide.

About 99 percent of all WMU alumni live in the United States.

About one-fifth of all WMU alumni living outside the U.S. (approx. 300 alumni) live in Canada.

Of the 126,500 alumni who live in the U.S., three-fourths (95,000 alumni) live within a five-hour driving radius (300 miles) of Kalamazoo, which includes Milwaukee, Chicago, Indianapolis, Cleveland and Columbus, Ohio, and most of Michigan's Lower Penisula.

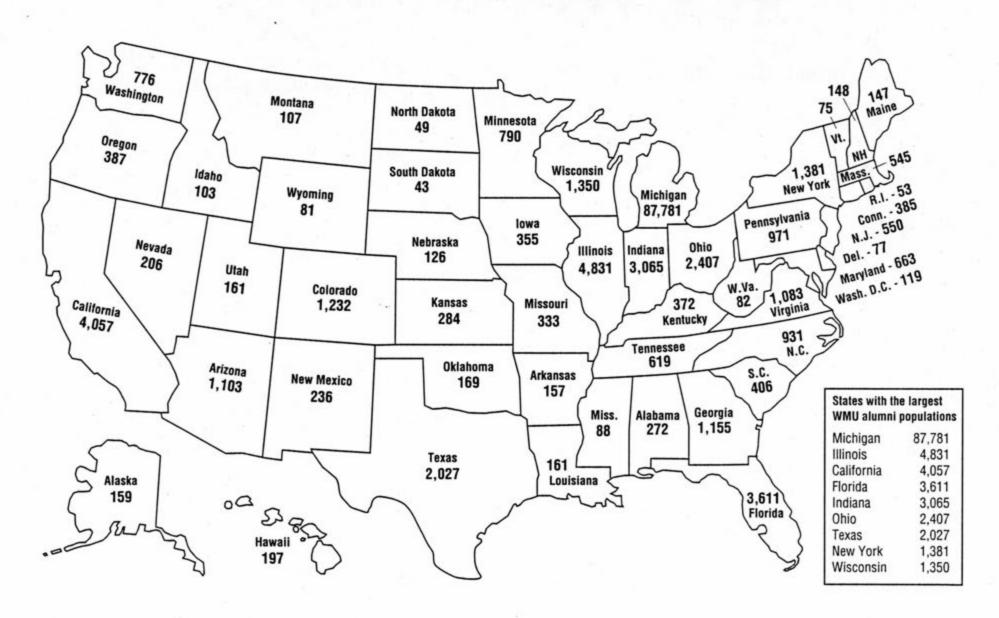

"Verifiable, living alumni, includes both those who earned degrees at Western Michigan University and some former students who did not earn degrees. The WMU definition for "non-graduate alumni" has varied over the years. The alumni population is continually changing. Within one year of this report, actual alumni counts may vary by plus or minus 20 percent of the figures presented here. Population relationships and ratios are less likely to vary significantly.

Per capita calculations are approximate. State populations are based on 1990 U.S. census figures. Alumni populations are as of January 1995. For example, the population of Michigan is 9.3 million, and the alumni population is 87,781. Therefore, of every 100,000 people in Michigan, 994 are WMU alumni (or approximately one percent of the state's population).

FACULTY INFORMATION

FACULTY DATA

FACULTY DATA: The tables and graphs in this section of the Fact Book contain data about WMU faculty. Several of the tables use different groupings of faculty to constitute their counts. For general purposes the University describes its faculty as numbering 775 full time and 401 part time. More than 90% of our full time faculty hold a doctorate or other highest degree in their field. Other groupings of faculty represented in the following tables are described below:

Bargaining Unit Faculty: The American Association of University Professors (AAUP) represents 749 faculty (Fall 1994) including Board-appointed ranked faculty and post-doctoral fellows. "Ranked faculty" includes ranked faculty in the Library, the Division of Academic Services, the Educational Resources Center, and the Counseling Center. Excluded from the Bargaining Unit are positions administrative including department chairs and directors. A specific listing of those included and excluded in the Bargaining Unit is provided in Article I of the contract between the AAUP and the University. The data on Bargaining Unit faculty are included in Tables 20 and 23.

AAUP Reports: Each year the University participates in the national study of the salaries of full time instructional faculty that is prepared by the National AAUP. The data are prepared in compliance with the definitions supplied by the National AAUP. Data from these studies are compiled in Tables 19, 21 and 22.

IPEDS Faculty Reports: The University reported on 729 instructional faculty (Fall 1994) for governmental reporting purposes (Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System). The definition of faculty is the same as that used in the AAUP report, although the aggregation of the data differs.

FTE Instructors: Full Time Equivalent Instructors (FTE) is calculated based on a full-time equivalency count of bargaining unit faculty and teaching activity of other instructors, including part-time instructors, department chairs, or graduate assistants. Teaching assignments include all on-campus teaching as well as teaching in off-campus programs that is counted as part of a full-time faculty member's regular teaching load. These data are presented in Table 17.

Student/FacultyRatios:Student/Faculty Ratios are calculated using Fiscal Year Equated Students (FYES) and FTE Instructors by department. To determine the overall 1993-94 Student/Faculty Ratio of 17.6:1, FYES is divided by FTE. These data are presented in Table 18.

Term appointment: A Board-appointed faculty position represented by the AAUP that has a specific duration, usually one or two years. A person in such a position is not eligible for tenure.
