Assessments: A Vital Key to Best Practice

OJOT announces a Call for Papers for a special issue on assessments. Of particular interest to the journal are contributions that link assessments to theory, intervention and education. Manuscripts that define the occupational therapy perspective on assessments as well as models for inter-professional evaluation are encouraged.

Co-editors: Ann Chapleau, DHS, OTRL; Sarah Austin, PhD, OTR/L

Manuscript Deadline: December 28, 2014

The goals of this special issue are to:

1. Disseminate knowledge related to the clinical use of assessments within the practice of occupational therapy.
2. Stimulate dialogue about the role of assessments in the OT Process, current and best practice in the use of assessments, and how use of assessments affect the growth and evolution of the profession.
3. Highlight the importance of specific assessments, and more comprehensive evaluation processes in guiding occupational therapy interventions.

General information available by contacting either:
