The Transformative Power of a Unified Dream

Martin Luther King Jr. Celebration 2017

wmich.edu/mlk
The 2017 MLK Celebration theme, The Transformative Power of a Unified Dream, was formed based on the principle that we are stronger as a community in advancing social justice and addressing historical inequality in the non-violent and empathetic manner promoted by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. This theme also speaks to the immediacy of issues regarding equity that affect community members in Kalamazoo and its surrounding area. Art, education, faith and health are highlighted within the theme.

WMU/Kalamazoo Public Schools Social Justice Book Bowl, 5 p.m.

Linden Grove Middle School

Reading competition designed to encourage the love of reading and to promote literacy in Kalamazoo Public Schools. The program exposes young people to different genres of young adult literature focused on social justice in honor of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Each student is responsible for reading two books, including one fiction and one non-fiction selection. Students read the assigned books and prepare with their coaches and teammates for the competition. The Book Bowl begins each October and culminates in January.

THURSDAY, JAN. 12

“The Courage to Create” poetry competition awards reception, 5 to 7 p.m.

WMU Multicultural Center, Adrian Trimpe Building

Writing and research competition designed to encourage the love of poetry, student research in the role of writers as agents for social change, and to promote literacy in Kalamazoo Public Schools. The program exposes young people to various genres of poetry and will provide a forum for parents, local writers, literacy experts, and faculty, staff and students from Kalamazoo College and WMU to build a supportive community to foster youth's creative writing and historical research activities. Categories are “Free/Open Verse (original creation)” and Recitation (performance) of another poet’s work on the theme “The Transformative Power of a Unified Dream.”

SATURDAY, JAN. 14

Public School Students’ Visitiation, 9 a.m. registration
