ELLEN PAGE-ROBIN completed a two-year term as President of the Faculty Senate.

PAUL FRIDAY completed a four-year term as President of the Section on Deviance and Social Control of the International Sociological Association. He continues as a member of its research council. He also served on the publications committee of the American Society of Criminology. In the International Society for Criminology Paul continues as a corresponding member of its Scientific Commission and a representative to the ISC from the American Society of Criminology. Paul also reviewed research grant proposals for the Social Science and Humanities Research Council of Canada and was elected to the editorial board of the Annales Internationales de Criminologie.

EDSEL ERICKSON served as an associate editor of the School Micro-Computing Bulletin.

MORTY WAGENFELD was appointed as the secretary of the Mental Health Policy Council of the National Association of Public Health Policy. He also served as an editorial consultant to the Journal of Public Health Policy.

JIM PETERSEN was elected President of the Association of Voluntary Action Scholars. He also served on the Ethics and Values in Science and Technology review panel for the National Science Foundation/National Endowment for the Humanities Interdisciplinary Incentive Awards in April, 1983 in Washington, and last fall became associate editor and North Central Liaison for the ASA's Organizations and Occupations Newsletter.

SUSAN CARINGELLA-MAC DONALD (a doctoral student) served as a consultant to the National Clearing House on Marital Rape.

LLOYD BRAITHWAITE was re-elected president of the Michigan Criminal Justice Educators Association. He will serve in that capacity to July 1, 1983.

BARBARA ADLER (a doctoral student) completed four years as a member of the Michigan Committee for the Prevention of Child Abuse, and served on the executive board of that group as its state and regional conference chair. Barbara was elected to the advisory council of the Michigan League for Human Services for Southwestern Michigan. Her area of specialization is law and the courts.

TOM VAN VALEY is on the Teaching Resources Group and the Committee on Teaching of the American Sociological Association. He is also an associate editor of Teaching Sociology and referee for Urban Affairs Quarterly and Social Science Quarterly.

RON KRAMER served as chair of the Public Policy Committee of the North Central Sociological Association as well as being a member of the SSSP Program Committee for its September, 1982 meeting in San Francisco.
DAVE CHAPLIN served for the third time on the Latin American Area Studies Review Panel for awards from the Title VI International Education Office of the U.S. Office of Education. Dave completed his term as an editor of the Journal of InterAmerican Studies and World Affairs and continues as chair of the Latin American Studies Association's task force on employment opportunities.

BOB LEIGHNINGER continues as editor of the Journal of Sociology and Social Welfare which is sponsored by the Department of Sociology and the School of Social Work at WMU. LEW WALKER, RON KRAMER, and LINDA ROUSE serve as editorial consultants to the journal. Ed Pawlak and Dan Thompson of WMU's School of Social Work will serve as editors during the 1983-84 academic year while Bob is in England on sabbatical pursuing research on developmental disability programs and completing some old projects in the sociology of the arts. Bob finished an 18-month, $130,000 research project for the Michigan Department of Mental Health involving a baseline survey of day programs for developmentally disabled adults in Michigan.

CHET HUNT was appointed visiting research professor at the Center for Asian Studies at Arizona State in Tempe. Chet was also appointed sociology representative of the Philippine Council of the Asian Society.

MILT BRAWER, director of our Honors Program, was elected to the Alpha Kappa Delta International Council.

LARRY ROSEN is editing two newsletters, Population and Census News (published by the Michigan Department of Management and Budget) and News Notes (published by the Population Association of America).

TILMAN COTHRAH served as chairman of the DuBois-Johnson-Frazier Awards Committee of the American Sociological Association and presented the award at the business meeting on September 8. He has been appointed to a second two-year term as chairman of the committee, ending in 1985. He accepted an invitation from Dean Harold Johnson, School of Social Work at the University of Michigan, to participate in their around the world People-to-People Program with emphasis on health care of the elderly in Russia and China. The People-to-People Program was organized by former President Eisenhower as a gateway for reaching "A just and lasting peace." Tilman reports that "Our team of professionals and health care providers met with government officials, academicians, health care personnel, and direct service providers. We made site visits, attended a series of briefings, visited long-term care facilities ranging from home health care to institutionalization, and engaged in formal and informal discussions. In comparing American policies and services programs with those of China and Russia, the normative and structural differences are quite significant. In China and Russia, welfare and health care are constitutional rights vis-a-vis entitlements; preventive health practices have status which possibly equals treatment and curing; considerable emphasis is given to the treatment of chronic illnesses as well as to the treatment of acute illnesses; and, home health care receives financial support from the government. China and Russia seem to differ in their health care programs in terms of religious or moral support in China and superior health technology in Russia, America has possibly the best health technology in the world but access to health care for the elderly is largely a privilege."
BOOKS, ARTICLES AND REVIEWS

MORTY WAGENFELD (with Lucy D. Ozarin) published "Serving the Underserved through Rural Mental Health Programs" in Herbert C. Schulberg, et al., The Modern Practice of Community Mental Health (Jossey Bass, San Francisco, 1982). He edited (with Paul V. Lemkau and Blair Justice), Public Mental Health (Sage Publications, Beverly Hills, 1982), which included two of his chapters on "The Community Mental Health Movement: Its Origins and Growth" (with Judith H. Jacobs) and "Future Directions in Public Mental Health" (with Paul V. Lemkau and Blair Justice).

JERRY MARKLE'S first social biology article (co-authored with Charles B. Nam) on "Sex Predetermination: Its Impact on Fertility" was chosen for inclusion in a special memorial volume of Social Biology (Vol. 29, 1982) in honor of Frederick Osborn. It was one of the 30 most cited Social Biology articles. Jerry also published "Creating Deviance Rules: A Macroscopic Model" in Sociological Quarterly 23 (1982):157-170 (with RON TROYER, WMU Ph.D., 1980).

DON BOUMA wrote an article on "Caring in an Uncaring Society," in the May 1983 issue of USA Today.

STAN ROBIN published "Women's Salaries in Higher Education: A Case Study" (with H. Robin) in the Journal of Womens Equity in Leadership, 3 Spring, 1983.

PAPERS AND PRESENTATIONS

The major departmental activity last fall was our co-sponsorship of the 1982 meeting of the Michigan Sociological Association's annual meeting at Aquinas College in Grand Rapids with Aquinas, Calvin College, Ferris State, Grand Rapids Junior College, Grand Valley State Colleges, Hope and Kalamazoo Colleges and Michigan State. The keynote speaker was LARRY ROSEN, our adjunct in Lansing, and research demographer with the Michigan Department of Budget and Management. Larry spoke on "The Future of Michigan's Population." Departmental participants on a wide range of applied sociology topics were, among the faculty, JIM PETERSEN, PAUL WIENIR, BOB WAIT, DAVE CHAPLIN, LINDA ROUSE, PAUL FRIDAY, and TOM VAN VALEY. Graduate student participants include PAM HAYMAN, TOM BIRON, PRESTON ERLORD, KATHY TIEMANN, DARYL KELLEY, GEORGE BEVINS and MARILYN MALLARD, an undergraduate major, now one of our graduate students. WMU alumni participants were RUBY IVENS (instructor, WMU), YVONNE VISSING (Ferris State), DON WILLIAMS and ROD MULDER (Grand Valley).

This coming fall we will host the 1983 meeting of the Michigan Sociological Association at WMU on Saturday, October 29. Anyone interested in receiving a program (and joining the MSA), should contact TOM VAN VALEY Program Co-Director with YVONNE VISSING.

The major winter semester event continued the applied theme on a more activist policy level. RON KRAMER and a group of our graduate students secured funding and were primarily responsible for managing an intense week-long series of meetings on the nuclear freeze issue entitled "Celebration of Life." The major outside speakers were Senator George McGovern and Alan Wolfe, a sociologist from Queens College. There were over a dozen discussion sessions throughout the week staffed by two faculty in the department — PAUL FRIDAY, MORT WAGENFELD, — and three of our graduate students — DARYL KELLEY, FRAN MC CREA and TIM GOODMAN. Overall attendance for such a political-academic event was the highest since the early 1970s.

SUBHASH SONNAD was in India on sabbatical leave during the 1982-83 academic year. He was associated with the Psychology and Sociology departments at the Karnatak University, Dharwar. His topic of research was the status of women in India in the context of social change. In addition to his presentations at the university, he also spoke at a large number of other gatherings as well — academic, social and cultural. He also interviewed a large number of women workers, some women in the feminist movement and others interested in women's studies as well as some institutions organized for helping women in Delhi, Bombay and Udaipur and Ahmedasad. His work also included a content analysis of selected folklore literature in the field. He also visited Japan and China.

LLOYD BRAITHWAITE presented two papers at the March, 1983 meeting of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences in San Antonio, Texas: "Evaluation and Present Status of Criminal Justice Internship Program," and "The Mayflower Murderer, Menace or Martyr?"
RON KRAMER delivered the keynote address at the Sixth Annual Sociology Conference on "Critical Criminology: The Criminal Justice System in a Free Enterprise Society," at Western Kentucky University, Bowling Green, Kentucky on April 13, 1983. His address, entitled, "Society, Crime, and Public Policy: The Critical Criminology Perspective on Crime Control," was sponsored by the Department of Sociology, WKU, and the Barren River Chapter of the Kentucky Council on Crime and Delinquency. Ron also presented a paper on "Toward a Sociology of Nuclear Weapons," at the annual meeting of the North Central Sociological Association in Columbus, April, 1983 and organized a panel session on "The Role of Sociologists in the Nuclear Disarmament Movement" at the same meeting. Ron presented a paper on "Some Preliminary Issues in the Study of Corporate Crime" at the annual meeting of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences, San Antonio, Texas, March, 1983. In November of 1982 at the American Society of Criminology in Toronto, Ron read a paper on "Teaching Critical Criminology to Criminal Justice Students: A Dilemma and Proposed Resolution." It was part of a session which he organized and chaired on "Teaching Criminology: Perspectives, Problems and Prospects." In September, 1982 in San Francisco, he presented a paper entitled "Corporate Crime Control: A Critical Perspective," at the American Sociological Association meeting and one on "Controlling Corporate Crime Through the Use of Penetrating Controls: A Critical Evaluation" at the Society for the Study of Social Problems as well as organizing and chairing a thematic session on "The Social Control of and Within Organizations" at the SSSP.

PAUL FRIDAY served as a discussant at the International Association of Psychology and Laws meeting in Swansea, Wales in July, 1982 on "Changing Corrections." In August, 1982, he presided over the Deviance Section of the World Congress of Sociology in Mexico City and was a discussant in a panel on "Changing Theoretical Perspectives in Deviance." In September he conducted a seminar on "Control Theory" at the Ministry of Justice at the Hague, Holland. In February, he lectured on "Youth Division" at the Fachhochschule Niederrhein, Mönchengladbach, West Germany and then went on to Israel to speak on "New Issues in Victim Research" at the World Society of Victimology in Tel Aviv and on "Delinquency Prevention in Schools" at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem. On the way home, he spoke on "Social Change and Patterns of Delinquency" at the University of Athens and on "Comparative Criminology" in Zagreb, Yugoslavia.

JERRY MARKLE presented "Science or Prejudice: Changing Definitions of Menopause," at the meetings of the Society for the Social Studies of Science (with FRAN MC CREA), Philadelphia, 1982, and "The Scientific Ethic and the Spirit of Capitalism: Recombinant DNA for Profit" (with STAN ROBIN) at the same meetings.

CHET HUNT presented a paper on "Theology as a Weapon in the German Church Struggle," in October 1982 in Providence (RI) at the Association for the Sociology of Religion meeting. Chet added (seeing is believing) that "this is the last surge of academic activity before I move to a straight golf and fishing routine." Also in October, 1982, Chet presented "Philippine Population and Migration Trends" for the Midwest section of the Association for Asian Studies meeting in Ann Arbor.

STAN ROBIN presented "Women's Salaries in Higher Education" to the Eleventh Annual Michigan Women's Studies Association Conference.

TILMAN COTHAN presented ten hours of lectures for academic credit in the week-end college on social gerontology at the University of Alabama-Birmingham in October 1982, sponsored by the Department of Sociology and Continuing Education.

BOB LEIGHNINGER chaired a session on "Arts Groups and Interaction" at the Eighth Conference on Social Theory and the Arts, St. Paul, Minnesota.

This paper won second place in the graduate student paper competition, a nice follow-up to Dee Burchelli's (a doctoral student) North Central student prize two years ago.

CHARLOTTE COULSTON (a doctoral student) presented a paper at the Michigan Academy of Sciences, Arts, and Letters meeting in Ypsilanti entitled "Profile of Domestic Violence Program Clientele" (co-authored with LINDA ROUSE). At that same meeting PAM HAYMAN (a graduate student) presented "Causes of Spouse Abuse: Reflections on Theory and Experience."

BOB WAIT and PAUL WIENIR were organizers of a session on social psychology at the November meeting of the Michigan Sociological Association. Among the papers presented at this session were "Sex Role and Identity as Determinants of Interpersonal Generosity," by DARYL KELLEY, a Ph.D. student at Western, and "The Social Psychology of Recreational Running" by JERRY PETERSON who has just entered our master's program.

DARYL KELLEY and BOB WAIT presented a paper entitled "Distributive Fairness and the Presentation of Self" at the April meeting of the Midwest Sociological Society in Kansas City, Missouri.

ROSAMOND ROBBERT (a doctoral student) read a paper on "Old Age in Mid-Victorian London" at the annual meeting of the Gerontological Society of America in Boston.

COMMUNITY AND REGIONAL PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITY

Our most visible local project was unquestionably the Milwood Junior High School Delinquency Prevention Program, funded by the OJJDP of the Department of Justice, headed by PAUL FRIDAY with PRESTON ELROD, a doctoral student in sociology as field director. It has just completed its third and final year at a total external cost of $378,468. Preliminary findings which include increased attendance, increased academic scores, reduced delinquency and reduced suspension have resulted in the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention in Washington designating the Milwood project as one of five National Demonstration Projects. This means that a demonstration manual will be prepared to be distributed nationally to public school administrators. Paul was appointed to serve on the Kalamazoo Public School's Discipline Task Force Steering Committee and to chair the revision of the school's attendance policy. Preston is serving on the staff development subcommittee. At this point, the Milwood project has generated eight papers presented from Denver to Jerusalem, six television and radio interviews and national press coverage.

LLOYD BRAITHWAITE was appointed to the Kalamazoo Correctional Center site selection committee in the fall.

SUSAN CARINGELLA-MAC DONALD has served as a consultant to the Sexual Assault Program of Kalamazoo County and has given in-service presentations and training, "Data Gathering at Intake: The Uses and Needs for Statistics," for the Sexual Assault Program. She has also been a visiting lecturer in Merriville, Indiana on "Rape: The Victim, Offender, Law and the Criminal Justice System," and on "Myths Contributing to the Double Victimization of Rape Victims" at WMU.

FRAN MC CREA was a workshop leader on "The Social Aspects of Menopause," Kellogg Community College, Battle Creek, April, 1983.

PAUL FRIDAY spoke on a number of current issues to local groups on Michigan's new drunk driving legislation on WKZO (CBS) TV and on shoplifting to the Kalamazoo County Chamber of Commerce.
BARBARA ADLER started her first year of doctoral work at a fast pace. The previous spring she designed and implemented a research project which was conducted at the Michigan Dunes Correctional Facility. The research was in relationship to the childhood and adolescence of the incarcerated men in terms of whether they had been abused or neglected as children. Barbara also received a grant from the American Association of University Women for this project. She was then invited to present the findings at the International Congress for the Prevention of Child Abuse which was held in Paris, France during the early part of September, 1982. In August, Barbara was the guest speaker for the South Haven Kiwanis Club on "Child Abuse; in October, 1982 she was a guest speaker at the Niles Business and Professional Women's meeting on "The Importance of Scholarships for Women Returning to School." Barbara was a recipient of a BPW scholarship when she first returned to school as a non-traditional student in 1976. In December she spoke to the Van Buren County Child Abuse and Neglect Council on her research project at the Dunes Correction Center. She also presented this project's findings to the South Haven American University Women in February 1983 and to the Jackson AAUW in May.

TILMAN COTHRAI made a presentation on the panel which discussed "Losses Encountered by the Black Elderly" at the WMU Whitney Young annual program at WMU in March, 1983. He also served on the Kalamazoo County Commission on Aging in the South Central Michigan Area Agency on Aging.

A number of faculty taped "News Call" interviews for distribution to around 30 radio stations around the state.

STANLEY ROBIN on the fall elections;
MORTY WAGENFELD on public mental health and the effects of social ties on our lives;
TOM VAN VALEY on the 1980 census and on incentives for businesses and industry to stay in Michigan;
MILT BRAWER on loneliness;
PAUL FRIDAY on crime and unemployment;
LLOYD BRAITHWAITE on prison overcrowding; and
JIM PETERSEN on unproven cancer cures.

DON BOUMA spoke at the Kalamazoo Torch Club in May 1983 on "Living With Contradictions" and on "Aging and Caring" in a community lecture series in Sun City, Arizona, in February 1983. Don is now in his second year of a half-time appointment. He teaches at Western each fall and joins PAUL HORTON and CHET HUNT in Arizona each winter. Chet and Don were the pioneers in this new type of appointment available to any faculty member over 55.

ROSAMOND ROBBERT presented (with MICHELLE STONE) an all-day workshop on "Alzheimer's Disease: An Overview of a Dementia" for the Gerontology speaker's series at Western Michigan University. She also presented a lecture for the staff and administrators of the Kalamazoo Regional Psychiatric Hospital on Alzheimer's Disease. She conducted a seminar on the same topic for chaplains and social workers at Pipp Community Hospital in Plainwell and another for mental health professionals at Kellogg Community Hospital in Battle Creek.
UNIVERSITY SERVICE

ELLEN PAGE-ROBIN set the record for heavy university service with major positions as President of the Faculty Senate in a particularly difficult year, as well as continuing as Director of the Gerontology Program. She served as a member of the Educational Policies Council, University Long-Range Planning Committee, Steering Committee, Women Management Associates, and the Planning Committee of the Women's Research Conference.

MILT BRAWER served the Faculty Senate as a senator at large and Corresponding Secretary. He chaired the University Committee on Admissions Policies and Procedures and served on the committee on Staffing and Program Reduction, the advisory board of the Mentor-Mentee Program, and Committee on Student Retention as well as being the department's AAUP representative.

TOM VAN VALEY served as a departmental senator as well as being a member of most of the university committees dealing with computer usage -- Project Excite (to develop WMU's new computer literacy requirement), Computer Advisory Committee, Search Committee for the new Director of the Computer Center, etc. He also serves on the committee on privately funded research and on the Graduate Student Research Recognition Committee.

PAUL WIENIR served on the Arts and Sciences Curriculum Committee and as advisor to B'nai B'rith Hillel.

STAN ROBIN finished a term on the Graduate Studies Council and continues as a department senator.

HONORS AND AWARDS

ELLEN PAGE-ROBIN received the "Woman of the Year Award" from WMU's Commission on the Status of Women. It recognized her commitment ranging from a central role in organizing the annual WMU woman researcher conferences to work on behalf of older women as director of WMU's Gerontology Program.

JERRY MARKLE was promoted to full professor and RON KRAMER to associate professor.

JERRY MARKLE and STAN ROBIN received a summer fellowship on "Human Values and Genetic Engineering: The Recombinant DNA Controversy," from the National Endowment for the Humanities, 1982.

LLOYD BRAITHWAITE received a WMU research fellowship to study "CIRT (Critical Incident Response Test) in a Juvenile Court Setting."
In 1982-83, the following sociology graduate students won research or travel grants to present papers from the Graduate College:

PEGGY CHANCE - $475
Research topic: Germany's Juvenile Justice System: INTEG's STOP Program

FRAN MC CREA - $250
Research topic: The Freeze Movement: A Sociological Analysis of Opposition to Nuclear Weapons

KATHLEEN TIEMANN - $300
Research topic: Buffering illness through social support networks: A longitudinal study with third Harvard Growth study participants.

SUSAN CARINGELLA MAC DONALD
$500 travel to August, 1982 meeting of American Society of Criminology
$150 travel to meeting of Society for the Study of Social Problems and ASA

DARYL KELLEY
$200 travel to meeting of Midwest Sociology Society

FRAN MC CREA
$125 travel to meeting of Society for the Study of Social Problems

ROSAMOND ROBBERT
$100 travel to meeting of Society for the Study of Social Problems

In 1982-83 the following research projects were funded at an overall level of $129,329.

ALUMNI NOTES

NANCY WOODS (BS, 1973; MA, 1975) was recently promoted to Assistant to the President and Director of Institutional Planning at Kalamazoo Valley Community College. Nancy, who has been at KVCC since 1974, was previously Director of Institutional and Management Studies. In her new role, she is responsible for institutional research, college-wide planning activities, grant development, and special projects for the president. Nancy is serving as a regional director for six midwestern states for the National Council on Research Planning and was recently cited by that organization for her efforts. She recently published an article titled "Planning and Budgeting: Why Two Words?" in the NCRP publication, Parameters.

KAYLE RICE (BA, Soc, 1980 and president of the Undergraduate Sociology Association in that year) just received her Masters in Divinity from the Chicago Theological Seminary.

BILL RILEY (MA Soc WMU 1976) is an assistant administrator of the St. Paul-Ramsey Medical Center in Minnesota.

TUNDE ODETOLA (MA Soc WMU 1970) published Military Regimes and Development, George Allen and Unwin, 1982. Tunde returned to WMU last summer for a reunion with his colleagues in sociology and with Claude Phillips, Director of WMU's master's of development administration. Tunde is a senior lecturer at the University of Ife in Nigeria.

GEORGE BEVINS (MA WMU 1983), now a doctoral student at Indiana University, received a graduate student research award to extend his work on his WMU thesis topic on the creationist movement.

This year's airmailed post card from ROSE MARIE FRANKLIN (Ph.D., 1978) came from Manila where Rose participated in several weeks of intense travel and seminars with religious workers, which included a radio broadcast on Radio Veritas.

GREG BLEVINS (Ph.D., 1979) is now teaching in the sociology department at Governors State University in Park Forrest, Illinois.

KATY JOHNSON (Ph.D., 1981), now assistant professor at Indiana University Northwest (Gary), received a teaching excellence award. She tells us that, "I've been very busy with the full-time teaching load and working on some long-term projects. I did make presentations to the Pacific Sociological Association and the American Education Association last spring. In April 1983 I was a discussant at the North Central Sociological Association meetings. I've also been busy as the faculty advisor for the Sociology Club."

BOB ACKERMAN (Ph.D., 1980) has a hard time leaving WMU. Although he is well settled in his new position at Indiana University of Pennsylvania, he was brought back to campus on March 14 to lecture on "Alcohol: Its Effects on You, Your Family and Your Friends."

ANN GOETTING (Ph.D., 1978) won promotion to associate at Western Kentucky and has had a very active year of papers and publications, which included:

"The Guatemala Family Court" presented at the Tenth World Congress of Sociology and published in Journal of Family Law
"Conjugal Association in Prison: A World View," presented at The American Society of Criminology and published in Criminal Justice Abstracts
YVONNE VISSING (Ph.D., 1981) spoke on "Notes From the Cancer Underground: Studying the Cancer Control Society," at a seminar on Unorthodox Cancer Treatments. Yvonne is an assistant professor at Ferris State.

JOEL HENDERSON (Ph.D., 1978) now at San Diego State, spoke on a panel on New Tasks for Psychology Within Penal Sanctuaries at the summer 1982 meeting of the International Association of Psychology and Law in Swansea, Wales, in which Paul Friday was also a participant.

BILL ZOLLEWEG (MA 1979, ABD) had an extraordinarily successful year as an assistant professor at the University of Wisconsin at LaCrosse (with another alumni, BOB BILBY WMU Ph.D. 1972). Working with the LaCrosse Community Housing Resources Board, he helped them win HUD support for an action program against racial discrimination. LaCrosse has received recent heavy Cuban and Indo-Chinese immigration. Based on this issue, Bill, who worked for Gove Associates in Kalamazoo as a survey analyst, established a Center for Social Research at LaCrosse through which students conducted the HUD-funded research. Bill has taken a position at Winona State for 1983-84.

A few of our recent sociology BAs have reported on their far-flung whereabouts.

ADRIANNE BOLACH (12/82) is studying geology at the University of Alaska. BILL COFINDAFFER (4/82) is a detention officer in the Dallas, Texas county sheriff department. LAURIE FORSYTHE (6/82) is a second grade teacher in Houston. MICHAEL STEIN (9/82) is a security officer at the Golden Nugget in Las Vegas (in case you need some helpful advice while in town). If you are skiing in Vail, Colorado, check with CINDY STEINER (8/82) who is an administrative clerk with the Vail police department. Social Workers include JANET SCHNEIDER (4/82) in Battle Creek and SHARON OLIVER (12/81) in Kalamazoo. SHERRY BURT (1975) has been selected to head the state's minimum security camp for women felons near Clarkston, the Michigan Department of Corrections has announced.

SHERRY THOMAS-CLOUD (BA CJ 1977 with honors) is one of our first CJ majors. Her position was a first for women as a corrections officer in the in-take section of the psychiatric unit of the Riverside Correctional Facility. From there she worked for the Kent County Department of Social Services. She is now back home in Kalamazoo as a child welfare worker with the county and thinking about some graduate work.

Our Criminal Justice BAs stayed somewhat closer to home except for PATRICK ALBERS (6/82), a corrections officer in the Travis County Sheriff's Department, Austin, Texas. PAUL BAKER (6/82) is a polygraph examiner at the Midwest Polygraph Center in Chicago in case you are booked in the windy city. GALE GILSON (4/82) is a child care worker in Southfield, Michigan; SUZANNE GOSELIN (4/82) is a program coordinator for the Volunteers of America in Toledo; JOSEPHINE HITHON (8/82) is a group social worker in Dearborn Heights, Michigan; JOEL HOBSON (6/82) is a security consultant for the Control Systems Corporation of Detroit; and DALE KNITTEL is a security officer for Burns Security Services in Covert, Michigan.

CHRIS HECK (honors BA) was accepted into the University of Washington's MBA program for fall, 1983.

MARY GOSS GRAMBEAU (Soc BA) is director of the quality of life department of a convalescent center in Washington, D.C. She is planning on graduate work in clinical psychology.

On May 14 in WMU's Wesley Foundation Chapel, STEVE KONING (long-time ABD working as a programmer at Wayne State) and DEMETRA COLLIA, statistician programmer with the Center for Social Research, were married. They will move to Washington, D.C. where Steve will be working as a program analyst with Decision Resources and Demetra will probably be working for the government, with either the Labor Department or EPA, which is looking for some fresh talent these days.
