"Moon Mist" Prom Theme

For the graduating seniors, the high school years have passed quickly. Soon they will be only a boulevard of memories. The last event of importance which they will make special note of in their scrapbooks will be the Junior-Senior Prom. The prom is probably the most beautiful, expensive and magnificent dance of the school year.

This year the Junior class has raised the money to finance the event by a magazine sale, candy sales, and paper sales. Because of the rising prices, the cost of the dance has gone up considerably. Carolyn Fox was elected chairman of the committee of ways and means. She and Frank Goodrich, class treasurer, are working together to bring the finances of the Junior class into the necessary range.

The people chosen to name the prom were Ted Emerson, Jackie Andrus, Nancie Strome and Frank Goodrich. They have decided upon a name which suggests a great deal of sentiment and intrigue "Moon Mist."

Lilla Ellet chairman of the decorations committee, says the trimmings will be kept mostly secret, but the ballroom will resemble a French via with the romantic French street cafes of Paris.

Invitations will be sent to every member of the Senior class. The admission is free to junior and seniors of State High. Outsiders and underclassmen will be required to pay a designated fee. These people must, of course, be the members of a Senior class.

Kate Randall is in charge of providing the refreshments. Kay Longhead has not as yet gotten the Publicity committee together but plans to do so in the near future. The committee doesn’t need to drum up business until about a month and a half before the event.

At the beginning of the school year at an election involving the entire Junior class they selected Jackie Andrus as general chairman of the prom, and official head of the committee.

The dance will be held in Walwood Ballroom, and Bobby Davidson’s orchestra plans to furnish the “sentimental music.” The Juniors have selected June 11 for the anticipated event.

The prom promises to be the big event in your scrapbook of reminiscings.

Monitor-Highlights Luncheon Today

The eleventh annual Council luncheon honoring the Monitors, Highlights, and Highlander Staffs will be held this afternoon at 1:00 in Arcadia Brook Club House.

Nine busy workers formed a committee which made careful plans to assure the success of the affair. Shirley Cary planned the menu and obtained the Club House for the occasion. Invitations were written and sent out by Mary Maltry and Polly Allen. Kay Maldme was in charge of making program and place cards. Carolyn Fox was seen dancing around getting together some entertainment. Duncan Carter, Sue Sawyer, Jim Dohlahan and Frank Nugent took care of the rest of the details.

A musical number will open the program. Frank Nugent, as Council president will then give the welcome. The response for the Monitors will be given by Frank Maher, president of that organization. Jim Russel, editor-in-chief of the Highlights, will say a few words on behalf of his staff. Highlander editor-in-chief, Joyce Perry, will speak for her group.

Another musical number will be brought into the program, followed by a speech by Dr. Charles Van Riper on "The Turning Point," Dr. Roy C. Bryan will then add a few remarks. Frank Nugent will conclude the program.

Student Council Election Soon

It’s that time of year again! Spring not only brings robins but State High Student Council elections.

The elections campaigns got under way last Wednesday in a special pre-election assembly. Four former council officers gave short talks on the duties of an officer and some of the experiences they had when they were serving on the Student Council. The alumni were Burton Upjohn, president in 46-47; Donna Kowalski, vice-president in 47-48, Carolyn Nycum, secretary in 46-47; and Paul Deal, last year’s treasurer.

Immediately after the assembly, nominating petitions were started circulating.

Monday the fun started. Soap box orators were heard in the halls, leaflets cluttered the floor. This continues through Thursday when all the good times have to come to an end. All posters must be removed from the hall by 3:00 on Friday.

All candidates will make a final appeal for support next Wednesday in the election assembly. Here they will again state their platforms, assure all of their high sense of responsibility, and promise to do their utmost to put their policies into operation if elected. They will all toll a few worn out jokes just to keep things lively.

Thursday the election will take place down at the office. Remember there are 330 eligible voters in State High. Every vote is important. Don’t fail to make yours count!

Seniors Plan Their Graduation Program

The Senior Graduation Committee, under the sponsorship of Miss Eunice Kraft, has begun making plans for June.

The Senior English classes have voted to have one outside speaker and two student speakers. These have not been chosen at the present time.

The committee composed of Mary Alice Hilliard, Kay Brower, Frank Maher, Shirley Cary, Irene Emerson, Dick Hawkins, Carol Sheldon, Nancy Doubleday, and Ilyne Weisman are determining the topic for the speakers to use.

Let All Students Make Rules

For many years now, the study halls and hallways have been run by the students of the monitor staff. I think they have done a wonderful job, and I hope they keep it up. True, there have been a few who have played favorites and some who have taken advantage of their position, but they have been in the minority. On the whole, the system has worked smoothly. I'd like to commend this year's monitor staff as the most able group I have seen here at State.

There is one criticism, or suggestion, to make. The students should have more voice in the making of rules for their study halls. The monitor home-room makes all new rules, and the student body has little or no say in these regulations. Our study halls are run by the students, but actually the students have no say in how they are run. Some kind of an arrangement should be made where by the students have more to do with the development of their study hall regulations.

The argument will come up that the students would make a farce of the whole monitor system by rewriting the study hall code, easing the regulations too much. Possibly a few students would try to pull a deal like that, but they would be out-weighted by the more sensible students of the school. The Student Council has done a good job of handling school affairs in the past, and possibly they could take this over. They are a more representative body than the monitor staff.

It is felt that some of our study hall and hall regulations are a bit stiff. For example, two speaking permits a week is possibly too low. Often times a person will use two permits but still need to find out an assignment or how to do a problem. Also, hall permits should be granted a person without that student having to stay after school. Perhaps some method of control might be worked out.

The students would be more likely to cooperate in study hall if they had more voice in its regulations. They should have more voice in how their study halls are managed. The Student Council or some other representative body instead of the closed monitor staff should make the governing rules.

BANQUET PLANS MADE

The senior class is giving a banquet June 8, at the Arcadia Brook Cafeteria. This banquet will be the final get-together of the senior class before graduation, so all seniors are urged to come, says Pat Phahalek, chairman of the planning committee.

Jim Brosseau is in charge of the tickets, which will probably cost $1.50, but the class is thinking about playing some of the expenses, so perhaps they will be less.

Don Cain is taking care of the decorations, and Joyce Perry, the entertainment. This isn't sure but they think the banquet's theme will be "Crystal-Gazing."

Others working on the party are Dot Jabcon, invitations, Pat Coffield, Jack Mindeman, Irene Emerson, and Joan Davies.

BANDS PUT ON FINE SHOWINGS AT CONCERT

The bands of Paw Paw, Zeeland, and State High combined to give a tri-city concert in the Woman's Gym on April 28. Mr. Homer La Gasse, supervisor of instrumental music in the Detroit elementary and intermediate schools and also composer of a famous tone poem called "Sequoia" conducted the massed band; and the individual band directors, Mr. Elmer Beloo from State High, Mr. Robert McEneff from Paw Paw, and Mr. William B. Tower from Zeeland, led their bands in their own special numbers.

Previously Paw Paw and Zeeland had been the band's host cities for similar concerts; so State High band members and friends entertained them while they were here.

On Friday evening a picnic supper was served followed by a State High girl's water show put on by a group called the "Finettes," a variety show, square and social dancing. Saturday at one o'clock lunch was served at the Arcadia Brook Club House and Western's baseball game with Ohio State came next on the program. That night the band mothers served supper to the musicians before the concert at eight o'clock.

The band has asked the Highlights for this opportunity to thank each person outside the band who helped out in supplying a place for the town band members to stay.

FINETTES PRESENT SUCCESSFUL PROGRAM

"The Finettes," the girls' swimming club, put on their first water show last week. The show was built around eight months of the year, with music appropriate for each month used as the back ground for the swimmers.

The numbers were originated by Ann Mahoney, Barb Oakland, Mariannce Schau, and Kay Brower. They were assisted by Miss Large.

The back drops for the show were scenes which might be seen during each month, such as a bonfire and a school house in September. These added color to the show.

The Modern Dance Club under the direction of Mrs. Brown ably assisted the Finettes. Six members of the choir; Janet Snow, Judy Bree, Bernadine Faull, Mary Teugh, Sally Reves, and Pete Shook also lent their assistance to make the evenings performance successful.

The swimmers were Ann Prey, Char Pellowe, Kay Brower, Carol Neff, Barb Oakland, Ann Mahoney, Patt Sprouse, Lilla Ellet, Clare Gemrich, Marilyn Greenlee, Lleanor Clark, Joan Stimpson, Shirley Van Valkenburg, and Marianne Schau.
A Look at Sports

By JACK BRENNER

Although the freshman do not have a very good chance of playing much on the varsity yet, they do have a chance to play. There is a freshman baseball squad which enables those of the yearlings who do not make the varsity to play anyhow. The greenhorns engaged the Parchment ninth grade a couple of weeks ago and, although coming out on the short end, they received much needed experience. * * *

It seems that there are some track stars on the baseball squad. Ken Cobb, outfielder for Coach Steven's nine, recently ran the mile in 5:13. This isn't at all bad for the first time. Maybe there is more track talent on the diamond. How about a track meet between the thinclads and the boys with the long flannels?

* * *

The golf and tennis teams have had practically no following at all this year. They like to think that somebody is interested in them, too. Tennis and golf are interesting sports as well as baseball and track. Come on out and watch 'em!

* * *

Glen (Puchi) Graves, Golden Gloves Boxing champions of the city some years back and runner-up in the State Finals, is student teaching in both fourth year Trigonometry and Physics classes. He must be taking a far worse mental beating in these two classes than he ever did in the ring. He tried to get a boxing club started for the boys of State High, but there was too much objection from the college.

Big Seven Tournaments May II

The big meets of the year, the Big Seven Conference tournaments, are to be held next week Friday. Here lie our hopes of having successful spring sports records this season. The tennis and golf tournaments are to be held at Dowagiac while the track meet will be at Niles. There will also be a baseball game with Dowagiac that day.

In tennis, the Cubs will rank as slight favorites although they have already dropped a match to a conference foe. Their big competition will come from the South Haven Rams who defeated our squad April 20. Littig of State should win the singles title. He appears now to be the best man in the league.

Dahn and Russell will probably be our number one doubles team. Linger and Ryan are another probable pair for number two. They both will face strong opposition from the number one team from South Haven. Our golfers rate as an underdog in the conference but could come through with a win. They have lost matches to several league opponents, but they are developing rapidly, and if they have a hot day, they could surprise. Gelder and Nieboer rank with the top players on any of the other teams, and if they get support from the rest of the team, our linksmen could come home with the trophy. St. Joe Buchanan and Dowagiac are the top contenders with Three Rivers and State in the darkhorse roles.

The track team lacks enough team depth to make it a contender for the title. Such men as Dick Teugh, Dunc Carter, Ken Sherman, and Dick Teugh have been the top point getters so far.

State Highlights

Cub Spring Sports

Record Below 500

So far this spring victories haven't been predominating, although hopes are high and a long season lies ahead. The baseball team has a record to date with two wins and nine defeats. The baseball team racked up the first with a 5 to 1 win over the Allegan nine. Kirkpatrick going the distance. They then went to town to South Haven only to be set back 7 to 0. Dick Hawkins relieved Kirk in the 4th inning and finished with a no-hitter. The Racketeers then lost a tough one to an underrated South Haven Team 5-2. It was much closer than the score indicated. It was the first tennis match that the hill-top school had lost to a conference school since 1939!

The golf team has gotten most of the bad weather thus far this spring. It snowed and rained as they lost their opening match to Dowagiac at Gateway. The St. Joe Bears came here only to be greeted by rain. They returned home with an 8-0 win on the first nine. The Three Rivers competition was canceled.

The track team has a long way to go. The boys have been working hard and with spirit and determination, but the team lacks depth. Dunc Carter, Ken Sherman, and Dick Teugh have been the top point getters so far.

Hilltoppers Face

Full Schedule

Cub spring sports teams face a heavy schedule this week. Each squad faces a tough opponent in contests which will go a long way in deciding where we will wind up in Big Seven Conference Races.

Today the track team meets a strong Wildcat squad at Waldo stadium. The two schools have already met this season in a triangular meet which also included St. Joe. The Bears won followed by Three Rivers in second with State bringing up the rear. On the basis of this meet Three Rivers rates as a slight favorite.

Tomorrow our diamond squad is over at Niles. The Vikings were co-champs of the Big Seven last year along with our Cubs. Neither school will field as strong a team as they had last season. Niles has already dropped a game to Three Rivers.

Last year the Vikings defeated our Cubs 7-1 in a championship battle. Niles will have the edge in hitting power while we should have a margin in pitching with Kirk on the mound.

Next week Friday Dowagiac comes to town. We rank as the favorite to defeat the Chiefs on our diamond.

Golfers go over to St. Joe Friday or a match that will go a long way in determining how we stand in the conference. St. Joe always has a good squad and will put up a stiff battle. Knuth and Davido, first two men on the Bear's squad, are two of the better players in the conference.

The golf team goes to Dowagiac next week Wednesday. We rank as one of the top teams in the State. Gelder and Nieboer will play at one and two positions. Ron Chipps, Bob Over, Pat Coffield, and Corby Lewis are in the race for the other two berths.

Girls Win Again

For the second year in a row the Sophomore girls' basketball team won the annual basketball playday. Portsmouth and Paw Paw were the other schools entered.

The girls won their first game 25-15 from Paw Paw with Pat Perigo the high scorer with 18 points. In their second game the girls overwhelmed Portage 48-24. Pat Perigo and Sue Anderson emerged from this game as the high scorers. Sue had 23 points while Pat had 20.

Members of the team were Mari-anne Schau, Barb Oakland, Patt Sprouse, Lyn Cassady, Peg Yntema, Ann Frevy, Ann Dils, Ann Mahoney, Sue Anderson, and Pat Perigo, the captain. Let's win again next year.
Goldfish Glubs Gossip

Well jumping goldfish and floating seaweed—what a job. Mr. Spring has done at redecorating. Smirle Weston and Anne Wise have their white bucks on, and Helena and Jack have begun to strum their ukes. The Jr's have named John Littig "Indian-giver Of The Week."

The weather seems to affect dispositions! Clare Gemrich hollars "I'am sick, sick, sick!" My favorite, borrowed from T.V., is I'm ill, ill, illlll! George Iager still greets his friends with "Hi Babes," Jim Dollahan while saying "Gotta Find Myself a Girl," is joined by Frank Mahenr "Annie along your friend, too!" They should hear Ilyne Wiseman and her constant chatter of "Just the Girls." I wouldn't be surprised if Matt Peelen looked tough or if Vern Hoffmann and Vivian Smith stopped talking and laughing. Would you be shocked to find Al Gemrich a blond or Annie Peterson a brunette?

Kate Randall and Joan Stiles had a swimming class all of their own the other day. Shirley Smith read Alice Adams, Sue Anderson and Pat Perigo discussed Pat's first acquaintances in Kazoo. Diane Hayward and Nancy Barnum talked about the dog paddle. I have to feed the little fishes now—see you next May 16.

"Grandma Guppie" Middle Monikers

No one seems to like their middle names so we thought that we would snoop around and dig up some of the "Super Stickers" of some of the State Higher's.

Some of the middle names of kids are the same as those of historical men and others are family names which sometimes go back many generations.

Dorothy Cartland and Bill McConachie, if they lived up to their middle names, would probably be stalking each other around halls, because their names are Lee and Grant.

If Sue Sawyer ever has aspirations toward becoming the President of the United States, she has the appropriate middle name of Pierce, the fourteenth president of the U.S.

Debby Parker's middle name is Wing—all of one half the ability to fly, if she wants to.

Even the teachers have middle names too! Mr. Cooper's is Kile, an old family name.

One of the really "Super Stickers" is Carol Neff with Robinson, but Ted Emerson with Poindexter is really the stopper. Be happy if you have in the middle of your name an Ann, Jean William, or Robert. What if it was Hossineffer?

STATE HIGHLIGHTS

Who Makes Most 'Moola'

I'm Ted, the Tax Collector, and I have been wandering about the halls of State High looking into the work situation. It seems that the other day a number of students were filling out polls for this newspaper concerning their outside of school jobs. As tax collector, I felt I should investigate. Quite a few facts came up which might be of interest to you.

For instance: about the same number of students work only on Saturdays as those who work after school and Saturdays both. Of the two groups a few more work Saturdays only. As far as number of hours go, the variance is great. There were several who work four, five, or six hours a week as the low, while one worked as many as twenty-six hours a week. From twenty-six, the number drops to twenty, then about seventeen, then to ten, and down to seven. More fall into the seven hours a week group than in any other.

Pay is another item which is quite varied. The highest is $1.20 per hour. It then drops to seventy-five cents for several people. The most popular pay seems to be sixty-five cents; then the amount drops to sixty and several receive fifty. Some of the girls who work in clothing or shoe stores get a 1 per cent commission on the goods they sell.

One of the most unusual returns that was received came from Skip Miller, who works for the U.S.S.R. in the Department of Foreign Espionage during his spare time. The number of hours spent working differs from week to week. Though it was promised that salaries would not be used with names, I don't think Skip will mind too much since his is such an extraordinary case. He receives 100 rubles a month plus expenses. As for commissions or tips, he receives a bonus for each extra bit of U.S. atom information he cares to impart.

Well, I must be getting back to my office to make up an official report of these statistics. Ted, the Tax Collector...
