Digital marketing dream teams: Students launch mentorship program that offers early career preparation

A group of students in the digital marketing and eCommerce program recently launched a mentorship program for their peers that provides early career preparation. The program pairs professionals in the field with juniors and seniors who are looking to strengthen their skills before entering the job market. Read more.

Business Broncos visit India virtually

Haworth College of Business students are brainstorming with Indian business and nonprofit leaders; experiencing Indian dance, music and art; learning to cook with Indian spices; and even riding along with a live motorcycle tour through the streets of Bangalore. Broncos are still getting a valuable study abroad experience virtually during the pandemic as international borders remain closed. Read more.
