

2023

Untitled

Madalyn L. Rockwell

Western Michigan University, madalyn.rockwell@wmich.eduFollow this and additional works at: <https://scholarworks.wmich.edu/laureate>

Part of the Nonfiction Commons

Recommended Citation

Rockwell, Madalyn L. (2023) "Untitled," The Laureate: Vol. 21, Article 58.Available at: <https://scholarworks.wmich.edu/laureate/vol21/iss1/58>

This Nonfiction is brought to you for free and open access by the Lee Honors College at ScholarWorks at WMU. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Laureate by an authorized editor of ScholarWorks at WMU. For more information, please contact wmu-scholarworks@wmich.edu.

A large, white, cursive signature of Madalyn L. Rockwell on a black background. The signature is highly stylized and fluid, with long, sweeping lines that extend across the top of the page.

MADALYN L. ROCKWELL

Untitled

I'm not the biggest fan of viewings.

I know they're supposed to provide closure, and I'm sure for some they do. I don't want my last memory of you to be your body. I don't want it to be you dead, in a casket, shrouded by flowers and tears. I'd much rather them stay as they are, even unfinished. I'm fine with "we need to call again sometime" if it means I get to hold on to your laughing over the phone. I'm fine with it being an "I need to drop this off at her house sometime" if it means I get to remember you leaving your jacket at my place. I'd rather you be sometime than never and if I don't see you dead, you can stay sometime forever.