

1980

The Feet Revolt

Phil Rogers
St. Joseph High School

Follow this and additional works at: <http://scholarworks.wmich.edu/calliope>

 Part of the Creative Writing Commons

Recommended Citation

Rogers, Phil (1980) "The Feet Revolt," Calliope: Vol. 1980 : Iss. 1 , Article 15.
Available at: <http://scholarworks.wmich.edu/calliope/vol1980/iss1/15>

This Poetry is brought to you for free and open access by the English at ScholarWorks at WMU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Calliope by an authorized editor of ScholarWorks at WMU. For more information, please contact maira.bundza@wmich.edu.

The Feet Revolt

All the feet go on strike;
they form the Foot Freedom Federation.
The negotiations between feet and humans break down; the entire foot nation declares war on human bodies.

Feet become thrashing monsters, running their toes up their owner's noses, and they throw their owners down, mercilessly pounding them until they have bloodied all their toenails and taken hunks of flesh out of the victims' backs.

Soon, they become blood-crazed pitchforks, striking the nearest living thing;
even several tires become victims of their wrath.

The feet win
As a result of their amazing display of power, feet gain the right to vote, the right to go nude, the right to see obscene foot movies, the right to make out with each other, and the right to spit at dogs and cats.

Phil Rogers