

1983

Prince Charming

Margie DeMerell

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarworks.wmich.edu/calliope>

Part of the Creative Writing Commons

Recommended Citation

DeMerell, Margie (1983) "Prince Charming," Calliope (1954-2001): Vol. 1983 , Article 5.

Available at: <https://scholarworks.wmich.edu/calliope/vol1983/iss1/5>

This Poetry is brought to you for free and open access by the English at ScholarWorks at WMU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Calliope (1954-2001) by an authorized editor of ScholarWorks at WMU. For more information, please contact wmu-scholarworks@wmich.edu.

PRINCE CHARMING

My Prince Charming could be any color
as long as he doesn't wear bolo ties, except as a joke.

Prince Charming--I think I'll call him Harold (Prince Harold Charming at your service, mum-I think I could get used to that) adores me when I contradict myself.

He is just a little smarter,
and doesn't let me take him for granted.

He comments on the huge faux-pas of arriving early when I'm late.

Harold never mumbles and, when questioned says, "Forget it." He doesn't use Crest.

He gives me feathers
with a sweet expression in his eyes.

He sends me "Get Well" cards reeking of sarcasm when I'm too cynical.

(He thinks over-cynicism is an illness.)

He burns incense while watching the Super Bowl and isn't a fanatic about anything but me.

P.S. Do you know Harold's number?

Margie DeMerell