Eight Graduate Students Cited

Eight WMU students have been awarded research grants by the Division of Research of the Graduate College, associate dean of the Graduate College, has announced.

The grants, ranging to a maximum of $1,000, totaling $3,054, will help students cover extraordinary or unusual costs incurred in research projects and travel costs for presenting research findings at professional meetings.

An additional $5,000 from the same fund will be awarded in 1975, according to Dykstra. A Feb. 1, 1975 deadline has been established for applications, which may be obtained from Dykstra, 2324 Administration Building.

Current grant recipients are: Jan C. Bloom, master's program, anthropology; Kalamazoo; Robert Brown, master's program, electrical engineering, Dearborn; James Coleman, doctoral program, educational leadership, Kalamazoo; Robert Flachner, master's program, psychology, Kalamazoo; Gary L. Johnson, master's program, chemistry, Kalamazoo; Eric C. Smith, doctoral program, educational leadership, Kalamazoo; Bruce M. Taylor, master's program, biology, Kalamazoo; and Michael J. Wilbur, doctoral program, counseling and personnel, Kalamazoo.

Boston U. President To Lecture Here

The president of Boston University, Dr. John Silber, will visit the WMU campus Tuesday, Nov. 19, for three faculty workshop presentations.

He will speak on "Academic Standards and Values" at 8 p.m. in Room 2064, Industrial Engineering & Technology building. He will conduct a morning seminar from 8:30 to 9:30, and a one-hour afternoon seminar from 3:30 to 4:30.

Appointed BU's seventh president in 1976, Silber is a University professor of arts and letters, professor of philosophy and dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Texas. His visit is part of a series of faculty enrichment workshops sponsored by the Division of Instructional Development.

Dedicate Valley Cafeteria

WMU's Goldworth Valley-2 Community Cafeteria was dedicated last week in memory of Richard L. Ketelaar, food service manager there, who died earlier this fall.

WMU junior Tom Hutchinson, president of the Valley-2 Town Council, unveiled the dedicatory plaque during brief ceremonies. The plaque commemorates Ketelaar "whose outstanding service and concern for the students he worked for and with will always be remembered by those who knew him."

A replica of the plaque was presented to Ketelaar's widow.

Campus Briefs

The Student Employment Referral Service would like to introduce you to the sewing pool. The girls in the sewing pool at University Services indicated an interest in this pool on a temporary basis. They are experienced and well qualified. Samples of their sewing ability have been submitted as part of their application. Further information call 383-1806 or stop by the office located on the third floor of the Student Services Building.

Human Subjects Review Committee-B will hold its regular monthly meeting at 2 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 15, in Room 102 North Hall. The meeting is open to all interested persons.

All faculty are reminded that applications to the Faculty Research Fund must be received by the Office of Research Services no later than 5 p.m. Friday, Nov. 15. Applications received after the deadline will not be accepted and will be returned to the faculty member concerned. All inquiries should be directed to Steven B. Pullik, associate director, 3-1934.

Dr. Samuel J. Clark, director of the Honors College; his assistant, Michael Seuss; graduate assistant, Sanny Nutter; and three undergraduate students, Daniel Ganz, John Hughes and Kathleen Salwasser attended the annual conference of the National Collegiate Honors Council recently in St. Louis, Mo.

Hughes, a junior in the Honors College and a Kalamazoo resident, was elected to the executive committee of the NCCHC.

A limited number of good reserved seat tickets are still available for the musical "Oklahoma!" tonight, Friday and Saturday of J. M. Synge's classic Irish comedy "Playboy of the Western World," directed by guest artist-in-residence Vincent Dowling, opened last night. Remaining performances will be presented at 8 o'clock tonight, Friday and Saturday in Shaw Theatre. Pictured above are John Garner and Joe Anne Peterson in one of the scenes.

Multinational Corporations, Developing Countries Lecture Here Wednesday

Harry Magdoff, former special assistant to the U.S. Secretary of Commerce, will present a free public lecture on "Multinational Corporations and Developing Countries" at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 20, in 3750 Knauss Hall.

Magdoff, who is now co-editor of the "Monthly Review," began his career with the government in the 1930s. At that time, he devised a method of measuring production and productivity which is still used by the U.S. Department of Labor. During World War II, he was chief of the Civilian Requirements Division of the National Defense Advisory Commission. Later, Magdoff was placed in charge of planning and controls in machinery industries for the War Production Board. His final years in government were spent as special assistant to Henry Wallace and Averell Harriman, when they each served as Secretary of Commerce.

Recently, Magdoff has taught economics at the New School for Social Research and lectured at universities in the U.S., Canada and Europe. In addition to the evening lecture, he will conduct an afternoon seminar from 3:30 to 5:30 in 2430 Administration Building for faculty, graduate students and undergraduate students majoring in economics.

His evening lecture is the third in a series of economic seminars this fall.

Kowalski To Coordinate Bicentennial Activities

William J. Kowalski, assistant vice president for administration, has been appointed WMU coordinator of bicentennial activities. Kowalski is assistant to the Office of Research Services as well as coordinator of the bicentennial activities. Any agency, organization or department on campus working on bicentennial projects should contact Kowalski in the Administration Building, 383-9268.

Chorale Premiere Concert Sunday

The department of music will present the University Chorale in its premiere concert at 3 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 18, in the third of the 1974-75 International Concert series presentations at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 19, in Miller Auditorium. Tickets are still available at the Auditorium ticket office.

Eight WMU students have been awarded research grants by the Division of Research of the Graduate College, associate dean of the Graduate College, has announced.

The grants, ranging to a maximum of $1,000, totaling $3,054, will help students cover extraordinary or unusual costs incurred in research projects and travel costs for presenting research findings at professional meetings.

An additional $5,000 from the same fund will be awarded in 1975, according to Dykstra. A Feb. 1, 1975 deadline has been established for applications, which may be obtained from Dykstra, 2324 Administration Building.

Current grant recipients are: Jan C. Bloom, master's program, anthropology; Robert Brown, master's program, electrical engineering, Dearborn; James Coleman, doctoral program, educational leadership, Kalamazoo; Robert Flachner, master's program, psychology, Kalamazoo; Gary L. Johnson, master's program, chemistry, Kalamazoo; Eric C. Smith, doctoral program, educational leadership, Kalamazoo; Bruce M. Taylor, master's program, biology, Kalamazoo; and Michael J. Wilbur, doctoral program, counseling and personnel, Kalamazoo.

Boston U. President To Lecture Here

The president of Boston University, Dr. John Silber, will visit the WMU campus Tuesday, Nov. 19, for three faculty workshop presentations.

He will speak on "Academic Standards and Values," in Room 2064, Industrial Engineering & Technology building; at 1:30 p.m. in 102 North Hall; and at 3 p.m. in 2750 Knauss Hall.

Appointed BU's seventh president in 1976, Silber is a University professor of arts and letters, professor of philosophy and dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Texas. His visit is part of a series of faculty enrichment workshops sponsored by the Division of Instructional Development.

Dedicate Valley Cafeteria

WMU's Goldworth Valley-2 Community Cafeteria was dedicated last week in memory of Richard L. Ketelaar, food service manager there, who died earlier this fall.

WMU junior Tom Hutchinson, president of the Valley-2 Town Council, unveiled the dedicatory plaque during brief ceremonies. The plaque commemorates Ketelaar "whose outstanding service and concern for the students he worked for and with will always be remembered by those who knew him."

A replica of the plaque was presented to Ketelaar's widow.

RUSSIAN DANCERS—The Soviet Georgian Dancers will be featured in the third of the 1974-75 International Concert series presentations at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 19, here in Miller Auditorium. Tickets are still available at the Auditorium ticket office.
One of the most successful musical comedies in recent years arrives here, the Miller Auditorium when “Pippin” opens for one performance only at 8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 25.

The musical, which Clive Barnes of the New York Times called “one of the loveliest evening entertainments ever seen on Broadway in years,” is being presented as part of the 1974-75 Patron’s Choice Series. “Pippin” has music and lyrics by Stephen Schwartz and book by Roger O. Hirson.

Schwartz, whose hit “Godspell” has been seen around the world, has already written other musicals at the age of 26. They are all currently playing in New York. His newest musical, “The Magic Show,” recently opened and is a near sell-out at the Cort Theatre. He also has collaborated with Leonard Bernstein, providing the new English text for Bernstein’s “Mass.”

“Pippin” has been hailed as one of the most innovative musicals, filled with wild dancing scenes designed by director-choreographer Bob Fosse. It is a kaleidoscope of elements that combines the elements of a Broadway musical with a minstrel show, magic, show, circus, vaudeville, and comedy, all in a total musical spectacle.

“Pippin” abandons traditional musical comedy form and the unconventional opening discloses the leader acting from high on the prosценium, asking directions to the stage. The curtain rises to reveal a dark stage clouded in mist through which pairs of disembodied hands appear, writing in airy body of the New York Times called “one of the loveliest evening entertainments ever seen on Broadway in years,” is being presented as part of the 1974-75 Patron’s Choice Series. “Pippin” has music and lyrics by Stephen Schwartz and book by Roger O. Hirson.

Schwartz, whose hit “Godspell” has been seen around the world, has already written other musicals at the age of 26. They are all currently playing in New York. His newest musical, “The Magic Show,” recently opened and is a near sell-out at the Cort Theatre. He also has collaborated with Leonard Bernstein, providing the new English text for Bernstein’s “Mass.”

“Pippin” has been hailed as one of the most innovative musicals, filled with wild dancing scenes designed by director-choreographer Bob Fosse. It is a kaleidoscope of elements that combines the elements of a Broadway musical with a minstrel show, magic, show, circus, vaudeville, and comedy, all in a total musical spectacle.

“Pippin” abandons traditional musical comedy form and the unconventional opening discloses the leader acting from high on the prosценium, asking directions to the stage. The curtain rises to reveal a dark stage clouded in mist through which pairs of disembodied hands appear, writing in airy body of the New York Times called “one of the loveliest evening entertainments ever seen on Broadway in years,” is being presented as part of the 1974-75 Patron’s Choice Series. “Pippin” has music and lyrics by Stephen Schwartz and book by Roger O. Hirson.

Schwartz, whose hit “Godspell” has been seen around the world, has already written other musicals at the age of 26. They are all currently playing in New York. His newest musical, “The Magic Show,” recently opened and is a near sell-out at the Cort Theatre. He also has collaborated with Leonard Bernstein, providing the new English text for Bernstein’s “Mass.”

“Pippin” has been hailed as one of the most innovative musicals, filled with wild dancing scenes designed by director-choreographer Bob Fosse. It is a kaleidoscope of elements that combines the elements of a Broadway musical with a minstrel show, magic, show, circus, vaudeville, and comedy, all in a total musical spectacle.

“Pippin” abandons traditional musical comedy form and the unconventional opening discloses the leader acting from high on the prosценium, asking directions to the stage. The curtain rises to reveal a dark stage clouded in mist through which pairs of disembodied hands appear, writing in airy body.
Establish Education
Monograph Series

The first in a new WMU College of Education monograph series has been released according to Dean John Sandberg.

"Publications in this series will represent major contributions to educational theory and practice by our college faculty," said Dr. Sandberg. He indicated that three monographs are planned for the 1974-75 academic year and that Dr. James Bosco, professor of teacher education, has been appointed series editor.

A grant for this project was provided by the WMU Annual Fund, supported by contributions from alumni, faculty, businessmen and other friends of the University.

The first monograph is "The Process of Motor Coordination in the Human Infant" by Dr. Mary Lou Stewart, associate professor of teacher education. She has conducted extensive research in child development. This monograph explains the steps involved in coordination from the first attempts of the infant to the acquisition of refined motor acts.

Individual copies are $3.50; they may be obtained by contacting Bosco at 2420 Sangren Hall, 383-0190.

---

Guest to Interpret
Faculty Readers

Dr. Lamont Okey, professor of communication and theatre at the University of Michigan and chairman of oral interpretation, is to be the guest interpreter for the Faculty Readers Theatre presentation of "Wits of the Round Table" free to the public at 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 22, here in Shaw Theatre.

Okey will be reading from the writings of Robert Benchley, the best known, perhaps, of the group of writers who lunched together at the Algonquin Hotel in New York for as many years as the Roaring Twenties gave to that age. As the period ended, he followed the best collection of puns and humorous anecdotes our country has known.

In addition to Okey, the interpreters of this humorous material are two local members of the department of communication arts and sciences, with two exceptions: Dr. Thomas Small of the English department and Dr. Cornelius Loew, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. The former heads the cast which includes professors June Cottrell, Thomas Sill, Alan Laliberte, Barbara Farber, Shirley Woodward, Shirley VanHoeven, Leon Nobes, Richard Daniels, George Ellsworth and Eleanor Walton, the author of the script.

---

Cambium Trio Performs

The Cambium Piano Trio with Thomas Mooro, violin, Warren Downing, cello, and Richard Neschich, piano, will present a free public guest recital at 8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 18, in the Davis Auditorium.

They will perform piano trios by Mendelssohn, Ives and Brahms. On Tuesday, Karp will present master classes in piano for the department of music.

---

Marching Band, Wind Ensemble
On Arizona, California Tour

Western's 128-piece marching band and wind ensemble left early Monday on their longest trip ever, in terms of distance and days away, to perform for a week in child development concerts for California by way of Arizona. They'll be gone eight days.

Students Observe
Seeing Eye Program

A group of Western Michigan University students in the blind rehabilitation program will travel to Morristown, N.J., this fall to study the work of The Seeing Eye, Inc., in serving the needs of the blind.

Two faculty members and 32 students will spend eight days visiting selected service agencies to observe their programs. A grant of $3,500 from the WMU to WMU from The Seeing Eye will fund the visit. Activities under the award will be coordinated by Donald Blasch, chairman of the University's department of blind rehabilitation.

Western Michigan's program for teachers of the blind makes use of the four-foot cane as its primary aid. The students who go to Morris-town, starting Nov. 1, will walk brainfaded with the specially trained dogs used in The Seeing Eye program, thus giving them an opportunity for first-hand experience with another important aid in the mobility of blind persons. A similar grant was awarded WMU last year.

WMU's graduate program for blind rehabilitation teachers is the only one of its kind in the world. A recent report from the department indicates that there were 10 universities offering orientation programs to help blind pigeons live more normal lives. Eight of these programs were under the leadership of graduates of WMU's program for teachers of the blind, most of whom are sighted.

Among the many highlights of the trip is a half-time performance at the Saturday, Nov. 16, night football game featuring the WMU Bronco Long Beach State University in Calif.

WMU marching band director Richard Swinsick and his band members marched Monday in the Tucson, Ariz., Veterans Day Parade only nine hours after they departed from Chicago's O'Hare International Airport at 3 a.m.

On Tuesday, the 32-member University wind ensemble, directed by Carl Bjerregaard, joined other marching band members in present morning and afternoon concerts in Tucson high schools.

The wind ensemble gave a concert Wednesday at Grand Canyon College in Phoenix, Ariz., then joined the marching band to play a joint concert that evening in a Phoenix high school.

Today, the two WMU musical aggregations move to Pasadena, Calif., high school for an evening concert followed on Friday morning by a concert at the Long Beach State University Student Union. On Friday night the marching band will perform at the halftime of a high school football game in Los Angeles.

On Saturday the pep band and jazz combo, made up of marching band members, will present an afternoon concert at the WMU alumni dinner in Long Beach prior to the WMU-Long Beach football game.

The concluding event in the ambitious schedule is a parade and concert on Disneyland's MainStreet on Sunday.

Swinsick said marching band members have been doing extensive fund raising projects for the trip, with other funds coming from donations by alumni in California and Michigan, receipts from the recent high school Cavalcade of Bands show at Waldo Stadium, the normal music tour budget and regular marching band budget.

Students Present
Black Readings

Five Western students will participate in a public reading hour focused on African-American culture at 4 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 14, in 1114 Brown Hall.

The scheduled program, designed by Von Washington, an Albion senior majoring in sociology, is entitled "The New Me," and is sponsored by the department of communication arts and sciences.

According to Washington, the free presentation will highlight some of the Black American literature that has been written during the 1960s, which relates a transformation of Black attitudes, actions, concerns and aspirations.

In addition to Washington, readers will include: Cynthia Johnson, a Ferndale junior in political science; and Tony Lucas, a Detroit senior in communication arts and sciences.

Discuss '74 Campaign

Campaigning in the 1974 elections was the topic of discussion by two representatives of the political science department at a recent seminar at Olivet College.

Dr. William Mooradian, associate professor, and graduate student Paul J. Mooradian addressed participants in the fall seminar, which is conducted for outstanding high school students from throughout the state. Both Washington and Mooradian were unsuccessful candidates in the election.

Gives Keynote Address

Richard Neschich, WMU associate professor of distributed education, will present the keynote address Saturday, Nov. 16, for the Detroit area meeting of the National Association of Career Educators (PACE) at Wayne State University. His topic is "The Need for Metric Education."

Killed in Auto Crash

Dale F. Canull, 26, a junior in industrial arts, was killed last Friday night in a one-car crash on U.S. 194, near Marshall, Mich., his home. Funeral services were held Monday in Marshall. Survivors include his wife, Susan, and his parents of Albion, Mich.
Western Closes Grid Campaign At Long Beach

Western Michigan’s football team finishes its 1974 season against an improving Long Beach State eleven on Saturday evening in California. The Broncos are now 3-7 for the year and have lost three straight, the largest 9-26 margin here against Central Michigan. Long Beach begins its trip to 4-3 on Saturday evening at Fresno State, overcoming a 24-7 third quarter deficit the week earlier. The 49ers stopped Southern Illinois, 32-7.

The only common opponent for both clubs is Northern Illinois, who beat Long Beach, 16-14, in the season opener and won a 30-13 decision over the Broncos a week later.

Harriers in NCAA Qualifying Meet

Western Michigan’s cross country team travels to Madison, Wis., this weekend for the NCAA District No. 4 Qualifying Meet after turning in a satisfying fifth place finish at the Mid-American Conference Championships at Mt. Pleasant last Saturday.

The youthful Broncos, who weren’t expected to finish higher than seventh, surprised Coach Jack Shaw with a strong team effort in the contest, and were once again led by freshman sensation Tom Dufts of Hastings, who placed ninth in a time of 30:01 over the six-mile course. Seniors Dan Landman and freshman Ted Farmer were 24th and 30th, respectively.

* Team honors were taken by Eastern Michigan, which was followed by Kent State, Ball State, and Bowling Green, respectively. Western edged Miami and Toledo after having lost dual meets to both clubs.

Hockey Broncos Open Friday

A new home, Lawson Ice Arena, and many new faces in the lineup will be featured here Friday and Saturday as Western Michigan’s hockey team begins its second season of varsity play against Canadian-based Algoma College. Face-off time for both encounters is 7:30 p.m.

“We’re going to be young and un- predictable,” remarked Coach Bill Neal, who last year directed the Broncos to a 22-1-7 record over their initial varsity schedule. There are presently eight newcomers listed among the top 18 players.

In reviewing his team’s practice period, Neal admitted that “things are open and going slowly until he tied Bowling Green, 2-2, in a scrimmage there a week ago. Since then, things have been going really well. There has been improvement each day in regard to positioning and moving the puck and we’ll be ready for Algoma.”

A year ago, Bowling Green stopped Western three times by scores of 11-3, 10-1 and 11-4, the last set-back coming at the Central Collegiate Club Tournament in St. Lawrence, N. Y. Western played a pair of spirited games with Algoma last winter before emerging with 8-4 and 7-2 home ice victories against the school from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. The Shingwarks played a whopping 88-game schedule and won 46 times with four ties.

Students, Faculty Preview Turkey Trot

The annual Turkey Trot cross country run, sponsored by the intramural department, will be held at 4 p.m. Monday, Nov. 18. Entries are due at a scratch meeting prior to the run, which will feature both individual and team competition. The course will be on campus with maps available at the Intramural Office.

The Trot will be two divisions — student and faculty. The first three places in the Student Division will win $12 each for awards followed by only the first place finisher in the Faculty Division will receive a turkey.

Math Colloquium Today

Dr. Paul Kainen, Case Western Reserve University, will speak at the Mathematics Colloquium at 4 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 14, in the Math Commons Room, 6th floor, Everett Tower. His topic will be “Geometry, Topology and the Coloring of Graphs.”

Campus Calendar

Hockey Broncos Open Friday

A new home, Lawson Ice Arena, and many new faces in the lineup will be featured here Friday and Saturday as Western Michigan’s hockey team begins its second season of varsity play against Canadian-based Algoma College. Face-off time for both encounters is 7:30 p.m.

“We’re going to be young and unpredictable,” remarked Coach Bill Neal, who last year directed the Broncos to a 22-1-7 record over their initial varsity schedule. There are presently eight newcomers listed among the top 18 players.

In reviewing his team’s practice period, Neal admitted that “things are open and going slowly until he tied Bowling Green, 2-2, in a scrimmage there a week ago. Since then, things have been going really well. There has been improvement each day in regard to positioning and moving the puck and we’ll be ready for Algoma.”

A year ago, Bowling Green stopped Western three times by scores of 11-3, 10-1 and 11-4, the last set-back coming at the Central Collegiate Club Tournament in St. Lawrence, N. Y. Western played a pair of spirited games with Algoma last winter before emerging with 8-4 and 7-2 home ice victories against the school from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. The Shingwarks played a whopping 88-game schedule and won 46 times with four ties.

Students, Faculty Preview Turkey Trot

The annual Turkey Trot cross country run, sponsored by the intramural department, will be held at 4 p.m. Monday, Nov. 18. Entries are due at a scratch meeting prior to the run, which will feature both individual and team competition. The course will be on campus with maps available at the Intramural Office.

The Trot will be two divisions — student and faculty. The first three places in the Student Division will win $12 each for awards followed by only the first place finisher in the Faculty Division will receive a turkey.

Math Colloquium Today

Dr. Paul Kainen, Case Western Reserve University, will speak at the Mathematics Colloquium at 4 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 14, in the Math Commons Room, 6th floor, Everett Tower. His topic will be “Geometry, Topology and the Coloring of Graphs.”