

Campus Briefs

Reminder . . . that by August, 1975, or upon depletion of existing letterhead stock, Western Michigan University's zip code will be 49008, rather than 49001. The change is necessary because of improved mechanization and will make the zip code the same as that of Western's geographical area.

The pre-holiday basketball tournament continues Thursday, Dec. 5, at the Gary Center, and on Friday, Dec. 6, a family swim is scheduled from 7-9 p.m. in the Gary Center Pool. Winter semester schedules will be available at the Intramural Office on Monday, Dec. 9.

The doctoral oral examination of John Davis for the degree of doctor of philosophy will be held at 2 p.m. Friday, Dec. 6, in 5280 McCracken Hall. His topic will be "Asymmetric Inductions in Grignard Reactions in a Chiral Solvent."

Human Subjects Review Committee-B will hold its monthly meeting Dec. 12, at 2 p.m. in Room 158 of the University Student Center. The meeting is open to all interested persons.

Ted P. Bank II, WMU associate professor of social science, has been named to the Science Advisory Board of American Heritage Research of California, an organization dedicated to furthering the sciences of marine archeology and environmental ecology. In addition, it sponsors a broad range of marine research programs.

Visitor To 'Skin' Skinner Tonight

Daniel C. Dennett, professor of philosophy at Tufts University, will give a free public lecture on B. F. Skinner at 8 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 5, in 3770 Knauss Hall.

Dennett, who is highly critical of Skinner's book, "Beyond Freedom and Dignity," calls the lecture "Skinner Skinned." Professor Jack Michaels of the WMU psychology department will respond to Professor Dennett's remarks.

Dennett is the author of a recent book, "Content and Consciousness," and of many papers on the philosophy of mind. At 2 p.m. Friday, he will discuss a paper called "Why You Can't Make a Computer Feel Pain" in 3020 Friedmann Hall.

His appearance at Western is sponsored by the philosophy department.

Senate Meets Tonight

The Faculty Senate will hold its regular meeting at 7 o'clock tonight in Room 1008 of the Adrian Trimpe Distributive Education Building.

One More 'News' Issue

Next week's Dec. 12th issue of the Western News is the last scheduled edition this fall semester.

C/T Appeals Being Heard

The clerical/technical appeals committee met Nov. 19 for the first time to begin discussing c/t classification appeals, and will meet every Tuesday morning until decisions are reached on all appeals, according to committee members.

The committee anticipates completion of its work prior to the Jan. 1, 1975, implementation date for the new c/t salary schedule. Staff members who have submitted classification appeals will not be notified until all the appeals have been heard and all decisions reached.

Members of the committee are: Louis Guminski, employee relations advisory committee, printing services; Marie Stevens, dean of students; Tulla Kaz, administrative assistant in the College of Arts & Sciences; Larry Oppliger, chairman of physics; Gerald Schwemmin, assistant controller, chief accountant, accounting; Robert Ethridge, affirmative action, administrative assistant to the president; Thomas J. Carr, director of auxiliary enterprises; Dr. Necia Musser, librarian, Waldo Library; Stanley Kelley, director, employee relations and personnel; Clayton Maus, dean, records, registration and admissions; Helen Flaspohler, W.A.O.P., alumni affairs office; Wanda Fankhauser, employee relations advisory committee, property control; Helen Pressey, W.A.O.P., transportation technology; and Deborah Berg and Vince Deni, personnel office, as non-voting members.

Symphonic Band Concert Sunday in Auditorium

Western's Symphonic Band will present a free public concert at 3 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 8, in Miller Auditorium.

Conducted by Carl Bjerregaard, it will feature Don Baker as percussion soloist. He will perform Milhaud's "Concerto for Percussion." Other major works on the program include "Lincolnshire Posy" by Percy Grainger and "Parable for Band" by Vincent Persichetti.

Poet Wendell Berry Visits Here Friday

The celebrated poet and environmentalist, Wendell Berry, will be here on campus Friday, Dec. 6, for an environmental discussion and an evening reading.

The discussion will be an informal exchange of views on current environmental issues, and will take place in the Faculty Lounge of the Student Center at 1 p.m. Friday. The reading will take place at 8 p.m. in the Kiva Room on the ground floor of the Student Services Building.

Berry has the unusual distinction of being a farmer and environmental writer as well as poet, novelist and college teacher. His most recent books of poems are "The Country of Marriage" and "Farming: A Handbook." He has published two novels and three books of environmental essays along with his five volumes of published poetry. He farms in Port Royal, Ky., and teaches at the University of Kentucky. He has received wide recognition for his writing, including a Guggenheim Fellowship (1961) and a Rockefeller Foundation Grant in 1966.

His visit is sponsored by Currents, the magazine of student writing; the English department; and the environmental studies program.

Student / Faculty Luncheon Wednesday

The final faculty-student dialogue luncheon of fall semester will meet from noon to 1 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 11, at the Wesley Foundation.

Dr. Michael McCarville, an assistant professor of Chemistry, will lead the discussion on "The Implications of Zero Economic Growth."

The dialogue luncheons will resume Wednesday, Jan. 15, at noon, and continue each Wednesday during winter semester. For further information contact the sponsors, Rev. Cal Mastin, Interchurch Campus Ministry, 383-8140, or Rev. Kenneth Kline, Wesley Foundation, 383-8147.

New Music Festival On

The Festival of New Music, sponsored by Western's music department, continues at 8 p.m. tonight (Dec. 5) with a free public performance by the University Jazz Orchestra, conducted by Trent Kynaston.

The 24-member ensemble of brass, saxophone, rhythm and electronic instruments will be augmented by woodwinds and strings to perform modern arrangements of pop, rock and big band music by such composers as Hugo Montenegro, Dee Barton, Thad Jones and Don Ellis.

The third of the four scheduled programs will be a New Structures in Sound series program at 8 p.m. Friday, Dec. 6. Coordinated by C. Curtis-Smith, several ensembles, faculty and students will perform electronic, jazz and serious avant-garde works.

The concluding concert in the free, public Festival will be at 8 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 7, featuring the New Music Ensemble, directed by Ramon Zupko. The Ensemble provides younger composers with an opportunity to hear well-rehearsed, public performances of their works. The programs include instrumental and electronic works, and compositions employing the use of dancers, lighting, projections and other types of multi-media and musical theatre.

All three programs are in Oakland Recital Hall.

Women's Chorus Concert Dec. 12

The Women's Chorus will present a free public concert of sacred and Christmas music at 8 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 12, in Kanley Chapel.

Under the direction of Will Hahnenberg, the chorus will perform "A Joyful Alleluia," "Ave Maria" by Kodaly, "Four Sacred Songs for the Night" and Britten's "Missa Brevis in D." Soloists on the Britten will be Margaret Johnson from Niles, Lisa Kowalsky from West Bloomfield, and Julie Simpson from Fenton. Dr. Kim Kasling, a WMU music faculty member, will be the organist.

Songs of the season will include "Sing We Noel," "A La Nanita Nana," "The Coventry Carol" and "The Twelve Days of Christmas." Rebecca Chamberlin and Jan Bills will be student conductors of the Women's Chorus with Nancy Pittard, flute soloist, and Carrie Monette, accompanist. Soloists in "The Twelve Days of Christmas" will be Nancy Russell from Three Oaks, and Maryanne Wojtowicz from Dearborn.

To Install Rev. Kinzie

There will be a special service of installation at 3 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 8, to install the Rev. Charles E. Kinzie as a campus minister here.

He came to Western last March from Collegeville, Minn., where he had been a fellow in the Institute for Ecumenical and Cultural Research at St. John's University.

Placement Center Still Has Many Job Opportunities for Teachers

A college graduate's chances of finding a teaching job these days are about as rare as a service station selling gasoline for 29 cents a gallon. Right?

Wrong! According to Leon Burgoyne, assistant director of Western's Placement Center, the demand for teachers in certain areas of education is still excellent. In some instances, the employer requests for applicants simply cannot be met, he says.

Reviewing the telephone calls he gets from school administrators each day, Burgoyne said, the requests he receives most often are for junior high mathematics and science teachers. Next on the list of "Most Wanted Teachers" are those with degrees in special education—the areas of visually impaired, emotionally disturbed, crippled and mentally handicapped.

"The demand is strong for teachers in all types of special education," says Anne Nelson, also an assistant director in the Placement Center. That's especially true for applicants who are trained to teach the emotionally disturbed and the learning disabled. Others who have no trouble finding the jobs they want are those trained as school social workers and school psychologists.

Surprisingly, requests for more than a dozen different types of teaching jobs are going unfilled, according to the Placement Center staff. The list includes teachers of agriculture, distributive education, mathematics, business education and all of the sciences, especially chemistry and physics.

Industrial arts teachers also are very much in demand. "We get telephone calls, not just letters, from school officials all over the U.S. asking if we have any job applicants for such positions," Burgoyne said.

Other teaching positions for which applicants are in short supply are: instrumental music teachers at the elementary and secondary level, counselors, remedial reading teachers and elementary teachers with training in the teaching of reading. Home economics teachers, particularly those with vocational certification, will find school personnel officers eager to interview them.

In the Employment Opportunities Bulletin, issued each Friday by the WMU Placement Center, job opportunities for librarians are always greater than the numbers of students seeking such positions. Persons who hold a Master of Library Science degree are most often sought in the bulletin's job opportunity listings at junior colleges, colleges and universities.

Both Mrs. Nelson and Burgoyne point out that one reason graduates do not find jobs readily is because they are too choosy about the locations in which teaching positions are available.

Despite the current generalization that most young people are anxious to get away from home, Placement Center officials find that a major drawback in an applicant's job search too often is an apparent reluctance to move far from family and friends in "the old home town."

The idea that there are no jobs for recent college graduates with teaching degrees is a hard one to dispel, says Burgoyne. There may still be a surplus of applicants for some types of teaching positions these days, but for certain others, the demand is greater than WMU's Placement Center can meet.

Board of Trustees Action

A minor technical change in faculty sick leave policy, remodeling projects and two resolutions—one for matching funds for a police radio network and a second for a juvenile delinquency prevention program—were approved Nov. 22 by the WMU Board of Trustees.

The Trustees amended the Sept. 15, 1972, academic year faculty sick leave payoff policy to read 680 hours rather than 600 hours. This action was recommended by the Faculty Senate and endorsed by the University personnel department; it treats academic year faculty similarly to fiscal year faculty.

Six Administration Building remodeling projects were approved: $16,000, reception-secretarial area; $13,750, admissions office; $13,400 each for the vice president and associate vice president for academic affairs; $10,140, vice president for student services; and $3,645, assistant vice president for administration.

The University provided matching funds in the amount of $13,727 from the allocation to the department of public safety as required

Job Openings

Below is a listing of the position openings currently being posted by the University Personnel Department, for current University employees.

Regular full-time and regular part-time employees interested in applying for these positions should submit a Job Opportunity Program application for to the Personnel Department during the posting period.

48 WMU Students In '75 Who's Who

The Office of Student Activities has announced that 48 Western students have been selected for the 1975 edition of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

The students selection committee, chosen by the Office of Student Activities, received a quota of 48 students from "Who's Who," based upon the student enrollment totals for each institution.

Each honored student will receive a certificate of recognition awarded by the organization and the benefits of a national Student Placement Service provided by the organization if the student needs assistance in finding employment.

The select seniors were chosen on the basis of their scholastic aptitude, leadership and participation in extra-curricular activities, honors and recommendations.

Those chosen include: Thomas Robert Allen, Jean Batey, Laurelle Bennett, John Berka, Thomas Biermann, Jane Blough, John Borsos, Timothy Busch, Larry Cain, Mark Clevey, William Coon, Constance Covert, Danny Michael Dawidowski, Jim Dickie, Nancy Kiehl, Daniel Doescher, Kathryn Drea, Burt Garavaglia, Margean Gladysz, Tim Griffin; and

McGranahan Heads State Slavic Group

The newly-elected 1974-75 president of the Michigan chapter of the American Association of Teachers of Slavic and East European Languages is Dr. William McGranahan, assistant professor of Russian in the WMU department of modern and classical languages.

During the past summer, he took part in an exchange of language teachers at the University of Moscow. McGranahan presented a paper entitled "Some Problems Connected with the Teaching of a Scientific Russian Reading Course" before participants at the conference in the Soviet Union.

Offer 127 Continuing Education Courses

WMU's Continuing Education Division will offer 127 extension courses in 20 Southwestern Michigan communities in the winter semester which begins Jan. 6, 1975. Monday, Dec. 23 is the final day to register.

Fifteen more courses will be available than in the current fall semester in which classes are being held in 17 area communities.

Dr. Leo C. Stine, dean of continuing education, said persons should register early so some classes are not cancelled due to an apparent lack of interest. Additional information can be obtained by contacting him in Walwood Union, 383-1960.

for receipt of a grant from the Michigan Office of Criminal Justice Programs for a communication system improvement development project. It will enable Western to duplicate the Kalamazoo County Sheriff's Department radio communications system to be used as a backup system for emergencies throughout the county.

The Board also designated cash matching funds for the continuation of the juvenile delinquency prevention program under the direction of Dr. Charles Warfield, director of the Para-School Learning Center. This action designates $4,677 from a $5,000 Kalamazoo Foundation grant to be the cash matching contribution by WMU.

Friday American Criminology V.P.

Dr. Paul C. Friday, associate professor of sociology and director of Western's criminal justice program, recently was elected vice president of the American Society of Criminology.

He previously served as a director of the ASC as well as chairman of its international liaison committee. He will be a program director for the Society's 1975 international meeting in Toronto.

Friday has written extensively in the area of comparative criminology and diversionary penal policies. He just returned to Kalamazoo from four months of lecturing and consulting in Europe. He was a visiting professor at the University of Munster (Germany) and served as a consultant to the German Commission on Crime and the Mass Media.

Math Colloquium Today

Dr. William Brown, professor of mathematics at Michigan State University, will speak at Western's mathematics colloquium at 4 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 5, in the Math Commons Room, sixth floor of Everett Tower. His topic will be "Derivations of Commutative Rings and the Zariski-Lipman Conjecture."

Senior Recital Sunday

Mezzo-soprano Cheryl M. Stewart, a senior music student from Livonia, will give a free public recital at 4:30 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 8, in the Oakland Recital Hall. A student of Marcella Faustman, professor of music at WMU, Miss Stewart's program will feature music of the theatre. She will sing compositions by Puccini, Bizet, Offenbach, Mozart, Friml, Romberg and Johann Strauss.

Piano Recital Monday

Jeffrey Manuel, a WMU senior in music from West Bloomfield, Mich., will present a piano recital free to the public at 8 p.m. Monday, Dec. 9, in Oakland Recital Hall. He is a student of Curtis Curtis-Smith, assistant professor of music.

The Western News

The Western News is published by the Office of University Information each Thursday when classes are in session during fall and winter semesters.

Created to disseminate news to the entire University community, distribution is by mail to faculty, staff and emeriti, and students may pick up copies at several on-campus locations. Items should be submitted by noon Monday for publication.

University Information office hours:
8 a.m.-5 p.m., Monday-Friday.
Telephone: 383-0981.

Hansen New Alumni Director

Frederick J. Hansen has been appointed Western's new alumni director by the WMU Board of Trustees.

He has been associate director of alumni affairs for nine years at Bowling Green, Ohio, State University, where he received his bachelor's and master's degrees. He replaces Rick Markoff who resigned to devote full time to professional studies.

"Fred Hansen brings to our program of alumni affairs and development a great deal of experience, training and professional skill," remarked Frank H. Bentz, WMU director of alumni affairs and development. "We are extremely fortunate to have him join our staff."

"He has thorough knowledge and a superb grasp of the whole field of alumni programs and their relationship to the alumni family and the academic community," Bentz continued. "At BG Hansen established a complete computer file system, identifying alumni and special interest groups; and also was a key factor in their national outreach of alumni programs," said Bentz.

Bentz noted that BG is one of the leaders in alumni programs; they just entered and already have reached the half-way point in securing gifts for an $800,000 Alumni Center that will also house the Development Office there. "Fred's close relationship with other Mid-American Conference schools, with the BG Foundation and with board operations of both the Foundation and Alumni Association provide rich background for our plans here," Bentz said.

"Fred Hansen was the unanimous choice of our selection committee, composed of the Alumni Association president, William Griffin; Dr. Myron L. Coulter, vice president for administration; the Alumni Affairs and Development professional staff and myself," Bentz said.

October Gifts & Grants Total $243,312; Trustees Approve Pooled Income Fund

A total of $243,312.70 in gifts and grants to WMU in October was acknowledged Nov. 22 by the WMU Board of Trustees, who also established a pooled income fund to augment the efforts of the University in soliciting private financial support.

Vice President for Finance Robert B. Wetnight told the Board that the gifts and grants received include $168,690 for instruction; $22,875 for research; $13,023 for student financial aid; $15,413 for public service; and $23,311 in other gifts.

Among the grants is a $33,976 award from the Michigan Department of Education for a special project in vocational education in business and office education clubs (B.O.E.C.) for high school students, to be administered through Western's department of distributive education.

The grant will be used to develop leadership skills in the B.O.E.C. members, to provide in-service and pre-service education for teacher education institutions to encourage their involvement in B.O.E.C., and to hold competitive events at the state and regional levels.

Also, the Michigan Office of Criminal Justice Programs has renewed a $88,864 grant to the Parashool Learning Center for the continuance of a juvenile delinquency program to enhance learning skills.

Wetnight also explained that the pooled income fund, which meets the requirements of the Internal Revenue Service, is a device by which persons wishing to donate small amounts can make trust agreements with the University.

Policy guidelines for implementation of the fund will be recommended at a later date.

VanDeVenter to Retire; Change Title

The retirement of a Western Michigan faculty member with 19 years of service to the University was approved Nov. 22 by the WMU Board of Trustees.

Clarence N. VanDeVenter, an associate professor of transportation technology, came to Western in 1955 as an associate professor of engineering technology. He will retire with emeritus status April 26, 1975.

In addition to his teaching duties, VanDeVenter has served as student aviation advisor in the transportation technology department since 1969, and was a dormitory director in Henry Hall, 1960-66, and in Eldridge-Fox Halls, 1966-68.

Prior to joining Western's faculty, VanDeVenter taught in the aviation department of Hammond (Ind.) Technical Vocational High School. He earned his bachelor's degree in 1946 from Winona Teachers College in Minnesota, and his master's degree in 1958 from Purdue University.

In other action, the Board approved a change of title for Robert H. Luscombe, from administrative assistant to the dean of the College of Fine Arts to assistant dean of fine arts, effective Jan. 1, 1975.

Luscombe, who came to Western in 1973 after five years as assistant to the dean of the University of Michigan School of Music, earned his bachelor's and master's degrees at Wayne State University in 1960 and 1967.

A member of several arts-related organizations, Luscombe's other experiences include a year as performing arts coordinator for the Michigan Council for the Arts; public relations responsibilities with the Cadillac Division of General Motors and with General Motors Corporation; and various acting and production experiences.

Christmas Concert Here Dec. 15

In keeping with a tradition that encompasses more than a quarter of a century, Western's department of music will present its annual "Christmas gift" to the community at 3 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 15, in Miller Auditorium. Admission is free and open to the public.

This year's Christmas Concert will feature the performance of J. S. Bach's "Magnificat." The University Symphony Orchestra and Grand Chorus will perform the original (1723) version of this famous work, which includes several rarely performed a capella chorales. Herbert Butler will conduct the "Magnificat," with the choir having been prepared by Mel Ivey.

The hymn to the Virgin, the "Magnificat," has been traced back to the earliest years of Christianity. The text, which has many references to the Old Testament, is found in the Gospel of St. Luke when Mary goes to visit Elizabeth, the wife of the high priest Zacharius. Elizabeth "spoke out with a loud voice, and said, Blessed art thou among women . . . and Mary said, My soul doth magnify the Lord." From the earliest centuries, this inspired song found its way into the liturgy as the conclusion of the evening prayer (Vespers). In the course of the ages it inspired innumerable artists, painters and musicians.

Soloists for the "Magnificat" include soprano Linda Schwartz, a sophomore from Saginaw; Eugenia Hamilton, mezzo-soprano, a vocal graduate assistant from Downey, Calif.; Mary Sue Hyatt, mezzo-soprano, from Ruffsedale, Pa., and also a vocal graduate assistant; senior Sarra Bunce, alto, from Benton Harbor; tenor Jeff Stamm, a senior from Hastings; and bass, Alan Dyer, a senior from Detroit.

Also on the Christmas concert will be two works for brass by Gabrieli.

Seek Foreign Student Hosts

The Office of Foreign Student Affairs is expecting approximately 100 new foreign students to enroll at Western for the coming Winter Semester.

These students will begin arriving around December 30 to participate in a pre-enrollment orientation program and to prepare for registration.

A number of the new students have asked to be placed with a family in the area until suitable housing can be arranged. (NOTE: University residence halls do not open for occupancy until January 3). "Home-stay" placements are now being made through the Office of Foreign Student Affairs, however, additional families interested in hosting a student(s) are desperately needed.

Faculty and staff who would like to host a foreign student for several days prior to the start of the winter semester are asked to contact Mrs. Barbara Garland in the Office of Foreign Student Affairs, telephone 383-0990.

Seek Applications For Berlin Post

Applications are being accepted from Western faculty members for a 1975-76 teaching position at the Padagogische Hochschule in West Berlin, Germany, through an exchange program, according to Peter Krawutschke, an assistant professor of German and chairman of the Berlin Affiliation Committee.

The position, which includes a compensation of about $1,200 per month for a single faculty member, is available for either one year or will be divided into two one-semester positions, Krawutschke said. The compensation is variable depending on number of dependents, age and length of prior university service.

Primarily sought are inquiries from Western faculty who would like to teach English courses, Krawutschke said, but applicants from the fields of education, sociology, political science and psychology are also welcome.

Western has had an affiliation with the Padagogische Hochschule since 1960, and students have been exchanged on an alternate year basis.

Interested faculty members should contact either Dr. Otto Grundler, professor of religion, 383-2210, or Peter Krawutschke, 383-0969, for further details.

Wins Accountancy Scholarship

Douglas R. Nienhuis, a WMU senior from Holland, has won a tuition scholarship for 1974-75 awarded by the Kalamazoo Accountants Association. He is a member of Beta Alpha Psi, honorary accounting fraternity.

DePeaux Painting Wins $1,000 Prize

An untitled painting by Richard DePeaux, WMU associate professor of humanities, has won a $1,000 prize awarded by the Michigan Focus 1974-75 exhibition jury.

Michigan Focus 1974-75 opens the weekend of Dec. 6-8, with paintings shown in Flint, sculptures at the Detroit Institute of Arts, and prints in Grand Rapids. The competition was judged by Robert Pincus-Witten, senior editor of Artforum Magazine; Henry Hopkins, director, San Francisco Museum of Modern Art; Suzanne Delehanty, director, University of Pennsylvania's Institute for Contemporary Art; and Lester Johnson, professor of art, Yale University.

DePeaux's art is now on display in the exhibition area of room 2700 Knauss Hall, and at galleries in London and Tokyo.

WAOP Christmas Luncheon Wednesday

The Western Association of Office Personnel (WAOP) is sponsoring a Christmas luncheon for all office personnel from noon to 1 p.m., Wednesday, Dec. 11, in 157-159 University Student Center.

Reservations for the served luncheon are due Friday, Dec. 6. Cost is $2.50, and checks, payable to WAOP, should be sent to Kathy Olsen, Student Recreation Building.

Gifts will be accepted for patients in the Kalamazoo State Hospital, and candles will be sold for $1 at the luncheon, or may be purchased by contacting Laurel Fenner, 383-1950.

Commencement Dec. 18

Western's fall commencement will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 18, in Read Fieldhouse.

Bronco Cagers Home Saturday

Western's basketball team entertains Northern Iowa at 3 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 7, here in Read Fieldhouse. The Broncos hosted Eastern Michigan last night; the results of that game were not known at press time.

There also will be a preliminary contest Saturday at 12:45 p.m. when Kalamazoo College plays Goshen College in Read Fieldhouse.

Hockey Broncos Host Lake Forest

Western Michigan's men's ice hockey team hosts Lake Forest College at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday in games that Coach Bill Neal and his squad hopes are the first steps toward another Central Collegiate Hockey Association tournament berth.

The Broncos, who along with Lake Forest and Buffalo compete in CCHA Division II play, qualified for the league playoff fourth spot a year ago in view of a 2-1-1 edge in the Buffalo series. Lake Forest is new to the Division II ranks this winter.

Neal's club will carry a 4-1 mark into the weekend series in Lawson Arena after being stopped by unbeaten St. Clair College, 6-2, last Wednesday in Windsor, Ont.

Wrestlers Open In State Tourney

The Western Michigan wrestling team will begin its 1974-75 season this weekend in Ypsilanti at the annual Michigan Collegiate Tournament.

Coach George Hobbs is looking forward to the season opener, stating, "this is a big tournament and a fun tournament. All Michigan universities are eligible and most of them go."

Hobbs sees the Chippewas of Central Michigan as the favorites, with Michigan, Michigan State and the Broncos fighting for the next three spots.

Leading the Broncos are 150-pound and Mid-American Conference champion Gary Martin and Bill Cox, runner-up for loop honors at 190 a year ago.

Mike Bivins

Bivins, Kurzen Lead Cagers

Guards Mike Bivins and Jim Kurzen have been elected by their teammates to co-captain Western's 1974-75 basketball squad.

Bivins, a Detroiter and the only senior on the club, started eight of the final nine games a year ago and had a 3.6 scoring average while turning in strong defensive performances.

Kurzen, a junior from Dalton, O., started all 26 contests for the 1973-74 Broncos and carried a 7.1 scoring mark while setting a school-single season assist record of 114. He also was named to the All Mid-American Conference Academic team. As a freshman the previous year, Kurzen was only one of two players on the team to appear in all 26 games.

Intramural Handball Meeting Here Tonight

An organizational meeting for intramural European team handball competition at Western will be held at 7 o'clock tonight, Dec. 5, in room 103, Gary Center.

European team handball is played in an area much like a basketball court with the two teams attempting to throw a ball similar to a soccer ball into the opponent's goal.

The rules are simple, resembling a cross between basketball and soccer. Running with the ball, dribbling as in basketball, and physical contact are allowed.

Swimmers Face Ontario Foes

Western begins its 1974-75 dual meet swimming season with a pair of meets in the Province of Ontario, opposing Western Ontario on Friday in London and then taking a short journey the next day for competition against the University of Waterloo.

"Our team is progressing better than expected," remarked Bronco Coach Dave Diget after reviewing results of the Brown and Gold intrasquad meet, where co-captains Kevin McCully and Dan McLean turned in the top efforts among the veterans.

Opera Workshop To Perform Dec. 16

Students in Opera Workshop will present staged scenes from four operas from 3:30-5 p.m. Monday, Dec. 16, here in 213 Maybee Hall.

Advanced undergraduate and graduate singers make up the workshop, which is under the direction of William Appel. Scenes to be performed will be taken from Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro" and "Così fan Tutti," "Carmen" by Bizet, and "The Medium" by Menotti. Students participating will include Sue Anthony, Randy Bernhard, Sarra Bunce, Alan Dyer, Steve Grudzien, Eugenia Hamilton, Dixie Hamlin, Mary Linduska, Randy Posthumus, Debbie Smeltzer and Jeff Stamm.

SEED Director To Lecture Here

William A. Burdick, director of Project SEED (Special Elementary Education for the Disadvantaged) for Michigan, will conduct a mathematics colloquium at 11 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 12, in 1118 Rood Hall.

He will present a demonstration, making use of elementary school students from Kalamazoo, in which he will show their ability to do 11th and 12th grade level algebra. The youngsters, chosen at random from the public schools, will work with Burdick for only three or four classroom periods prior to the demonstration.

Sponsored by the state and the city, Project SEED teaches advanced mathematics to help the disadvantaged child to raise his self-concept and achievement level. Burdick earned both his B.A. and M.A. degrees in mathematics from the University of Michigan and has done graduate work at WMU. His father is Dr. William L. Burdick, professor of general business at Western Michigan.

The colloquium is open to all interested persons without charge.

Faculty, Staff Must Re-register Vehicles

Western's Department of Public Safety has announced that re-registration of faculty and staff vehicles will be conducted at several campus locations now through Dec. 17.

All faculty and staff must re-register their cars by Jan. 1, 1975, when tickets will be issued to all cars with old faculty/staff stickers.

At the time of registration, at any of the locations or times listed below, the vehicle registration and faculty/staff identification is required. The new registration sticker must be placed in the lower right hand corner of the front windshield.
