The doctoral examination of Steve E. Bojorquez for the degree of Doctor of Education will be held at 4 p.m. Thursday, March 13, in 3106 Sangren Hall. His topic will be: "Acceptance of Community Education's Preferred Role for the School and Its Relationship to Exemplary Community Education Programs in Southwest Michigan." All interested persons are invited to attend.

Final Academic Forum Tuesday

"The Coordinated System of Higher Education and W.M.U." is the topic of the final program in the 1974-75 Academic Forum series to be presented at 4 p.m. Tuesday, March 18, here in 3770 Knauss Hall.

Speaking will be Dr. Wilfred Kaplan, University of Michigan professor of mathematics and former president of the Michigan chapter of the American Association of University Professors; Dr. T. Harry McKinney, Michigan State University professor of higher education; and Dr. Stephen R. Mitchell, WMU vice president for academic affairs.

Dr. Jean Lowrie, professor and director of the WMU School of Librarianship, will be the moderator.

U. Dames Spring Luncheon Saturday

Five retirees' wives will be honored at the spring luncheon of the University Dames at 12:30 p.m. Saturday, March 15, here in the West Ballroom of the University Student Center.

They are: Mrs. James Ansel; Mrs. Theodore L. Carlson; Mrs. George Kohrman; Mrs. Clayton Maus; and Mrs. William VanDeventer.

Luncheon co-chairpersons are Mrs. Einard Haniuk and Mrs. John Sandberg.

Physics Lecture Today

The physics department will present a free public lecture at 4 p.m. Thursday, March 13, in 1110 Rood Hall by Dr. Phillip T. Larsen, associate professor of natural science in WMU's College of General Studies. He will speak on "S.I. Metrics—Applications to the Teaching of Physics."

Advise Administrators To Refrain From Senate, Council Participation

WMU administrators have been advised to refrain from participation in the affairs of the Faculty Senate and its Councils because of the risk of unfair labor practices in light of the new collective bargaining environment on campus.

In a letter Tuesday, March 11, to the Faculty Senate executive board, WMU President John T. Bernhard said, "... under Michigan law, the University is now obliged to deal exclusively with the certified bargaining agent on subjects relating to wages, hours and the terms and conditions of employment. As an administration, therefore, we are precluded from dealing with any other faculty group on these matters."

Western's teaching faculty voted 396-355 on Feb. 26-27 in favor of having the campus chapter of the American Association of University Professors be the exclusive representative for collective bargaining.

"Further," Dr. Bernhard stated, "given the comprehensive nature of the Senate's agenda, and given the inevitable and persistent mixing of mandatory and permissive bargaining items in Senate affairs, the University would run the continual risk of unfair labor practices if administrative personnel were to continue to participate in our former shared governance system.

"While it is possible that the bargaining contract might clarify this situation, it seems neither prudent nor sensible to compromise the bargaining process through an involvement with an alternate faculty representative," he continued. "Therefore, until these matters are more fully resolved and clarified, we must of necessity take the following steps:

"First, we are advising all non-bargaining unit personnel—including vice presidents, deans, directors, heads and chairpersons—to refrain from participation in the affairs of the Senate and its Councils.

"Second, we will neither receive nor recommend to the Board of Trustees any Senate or Council proposals or policies dealing with the mandatory subjects of bargaining. ... We will receive but obviously cannot promise action on policies and proposals outside the mandatory scope of the bargaining process.

"Third, concerning the two policies approved by the Senate and awaiting Board consideration, the Part-Time Faculty proposal will not be recommended at this time; the General Education Policy, which was received by the Trustees last month, will be scheduled for action at the March 21 meeting."

Bernhard added, "We sincerely and deeply regret the necessity for taking these steps, but the bargaining environment seems to us to require them. The Senate's faculty majority is, of course, free to pursue its own agenda in its own way. Vice President (Stephen R.) Mitchell and I are certainly willing to discuss with you the contents and the significance of this letter, as you may wish."

There are 82 persons in Western's Faculty Senate, counting Bernhard as an ex officio member. Those Senate members believed to be affected by Bernhard's letter advising them to "refrain from participation" are: Dr. Alan H. Jacobs, professor and chairman of the anthropology department; D. B. Leonardelli, director of in-service education, Division of Continuing Education; Dr. Raymond E. Zelder, professor and chairman of the economics department; Dr. Fred V. Hartenstein, professor and chairman of the management department; Lt. Col. Samuel W. Focer, Jr., professor and chairman of the military science department; Dr. Robert R. Fink, professor and chairman of the music department; Dr. Joseph S. Ellin, professor and chairman of the philosophy department; and Dr. Ernst A. Breisach, professor and chairman of the history department.

Senate To Discuss Its Interim Role

Western's Faculty Senate will meet as scheduled at 7 o'clock tonight, March 13, in the Adrian Trimpe Distributive Education Building, but the agenda as distributed will not be discussed, according to Dr. Laurel Grotzinger, Senate president.

Instead, the proposed new agenda will be a general discussion of the role of the Faculty Senate as it functions without administrators during the interim period before a collective bargaining contract is negotiated, she said.

All newly-elected Senators, who do not take office until next month, are encouraged to attend tonight's meeting.

Public Safety Dept. Issues Warning

The WMU public safety department has issued a warning that the University's Ordinance prohibition against driving any motor vehicle upon other than established roadways or parking areas will be closely enforced.

Driving on walkways is not only a potential danger to pedestrians but also to property, especially now that the ground will begin to thaw. However, it is recognized that it is sometimes necessary for emergency and maintenance vehicles to use walkways.

Set Bosses Day Luncheon April 9

The tenth annual Bosses Day Luncheon, sponsored by the Western Association of Office Personnel, will be held from noon to 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 9, in the West Ballroom of the University Student Center.

With the themes of "April in Paris," Jacobson's will present a special Fashion Show by French couturiers featuring daytime as well as evening items. A flyer with the reservation form will soon be sent to both members and non-members.

Explain Simplified Registration

The simplified procedure of advance registration for classes at Western Michigan University is now in progress for spring session, and will be conducted soon for fall semester and summer session, according to the registration office.

Mary Kay Leamy, director of registration, stresses that advance registration increases the chances of receiving desired classes, noting that approximately 85 percent of those students who advance register are placed in requested classes.

"It is particularly important to advance register for fall semester since we have decided to discontinue the traditional 'final day,'" Leamy said. "The overwhelming number of students, over 5,000, who waited until the final day of registration last fall caused a tremendous overload on our capacity to adjust course offerings to meet demand and thus, many students were disappointed by not receiving desired classes."

For fall semester, the final day will be replaced by an "open house" request period from 3-9 p.m. August 27 and 9 a.m.-4 p.m. August 28 in Read Fieldhouse. Following no alphabetic or classification schedule, students will pick up a permit to register and complete a course request card and the "mark sense sheet" for the courses desired. Course requests will be assessed for charges and fees payment must be made in full before leaving the Fieldhouse. Departmental personnel will be available only for academic counseling.

However, the availability of courses will not be guaranteed, according to Dennis Boyle, University registrar, and students will not know whether they received the courses requested until they pick up their schedules on the first day of classes. If requested classes are not received, students must participate in the drop-add procedures.

The traditional final day of registration will be continued as usual for the spring and summer sessions, Boyle noted.

Advance registration for spring session continues through March 21, and advance registration for fall semester will be conducted from April 1-July 18. The final day of registration for spring is Saturday, May 3, in Read Fieldhouse, and classes begin May 5. Course schedules for the summer session will be held May 1-15. Summer session begins July 1 and ends August 22.

Schedules and request forms may be obtained at the registration office, 2010 Administration Building.

Certify Three For In-Service

Two WMU faculty members and a retired member have been certified by the Michigan Department of Education and Wayne State University to conduct in-service programs on the use of competency-based instruction.

Isabelle Smith, chairperson of the home economics department; Dr. Carol Payne Smith, associate professor of teacher education; and Dr. George E. Kohrman, emeritus professor of applied sciences, recently completed a five-day workshop in Lansing.

They are now qualified to work with vocational education teachers, administrators and other classroom teachers throughout the state to develop competency-based programs in their schools. They will also be available as consultants to school districts to implement accountability Model Grants from the State of Michigan.

Anthropology Lecture Tonight by Maher

Dr. Robert F. Maher, WMU professor of anthropology, will give a free public lecture on "The Archeology of Central Ifugao" at 7:30 tonight, March 13, in 118 Moore Hall.

One of the foremost authorities on Philippine archeology, he has conducted several research sessions in the area and has written extensively on the subject. His talk, which is part of the department's bi-weekly colloquium series, will report some of the results of his recent excavations in northern Luzon.

Opera Tickets Now on Sale

"Dialogues of the Carmelites," a full-length opera by noted French composer Francis Poulenc, will be jointly produced March 20-22 by Western's music department and University Theatre. Performances will be given at 8 p.m. in Shaw Theatre.

Named "best opera" in 1958 by the New York Music Critics' Circle, it is the story of a group of Carmelite nuns who choose martyrdom during the terror of the French Revolution, rather than renounce their vows.

Musical director is William C. Appel, associate professor of music, and Dr. Robert L. Smith, director of the University Theatre, is stage director.

Others who will assist in the production are Dr. Zack L. York, professor of communication arts and sciences, scenic designer; William Livingston, assistant professor of communication arts and sciences, technical director; and Jill K. Peterson, instructor of communication arts and sciences, costume designer.

Reserved seat tickets are $3. Mail orders are now being accepted at Shaw Theatre and tickets went on sale at the box office Monday.

WMU To Host Polish Debaters

Two university students from Poland will visit the WMU campus Tuesday, March 18, for the first of a series of international debates.

The free public debate at 8 p.m. in 2750 Knauss Hall will be on: "Should Students Assume More Power Than Faculty in the Administration of the University?"

Nancy Diehl, a senior from Grosse Pointe, and David Brennan, a senior from Saginaw, will represent Western against Andrzej Czyz of Gdansk University and Piotr Malecki of Jagiellonian University. They are on a tour of 31 American colleges and universities in 14 states.

Future plans call for annual debates between WMU and Eastern European representatives, according to Dr. Chester Hunt, professor of sociology, who is supervisor of the University's debate program.

Faculty Quintet To Perform in Carnegie Recital Hall; To Give Preview Concert

New York's famed Carnegie Recital Hall will be the last stop for the Western Brass Quintet when it tours the Eastern United States in late April.

The Kalamazoo community will have an opportunity to preview this Carnegie Recital Hall program at a free concert at 8 p.m. Friday, March 14, in Oakland Recital Hall. Members of the quintet are: Donald Bullock and Stephen Jones, trumpets; Neill Sanders, French horn; Russell Brown, trombone; and Robert Whaley, tuba.

Since its formation in 1966, the Western Brass Quintet has performed extensively throughout the Midwest and North Central states, specializing in concerts for college and university communities. The April tour will include concerts and clinics at the West Virginia Institute of Technology, Ohio University at Athens, Kent State University, Susquehanna University at Selinsgrove, Pa., and Pennsylvania

Pulp, Paper

Conference Here

Fifteen technical speakers are being featured at the 19th annual Pulp and Paper Conference yesterday and today, March 12-13, at Holiday Inn West, Kalamazoo.

WMU's department of paper science and engineering, Kalamazoo Section of the Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry (TAPPI) and the Michigan Division of the Paper Industry Management Association (PIMA) are the sponsors. The conference theme is "Chip Refining and Fiber Forming."

Ward Harrison, formerly of Kalamazoo and now chairman of the board, Howard Paper Mills, Dayton, Ohio, will be the speaker following tonight's dinner. Other session topics are: "Systems for High Pressure Refining of Chips"; "New Development of Plastic Wires"; and "Cross Direction Control, the Unexploited Dimension."

Kissinger Talk Tuesday

"Henry Kissinger's Study of History and His Current Diplomatic Activity" is the subject of a talk by Dr. Sterling Kernek, history professor at Western Illinois University, at 4 p.m. Tuesday, March 18, here in 4090 Friedmann Hall.

His free public lecture is sponsored by the WMU history department as part of its continuing lecture series.

Poet Gunderson To Speak Here

Dr. Keith Gunderson, University of Minnesota professor and a fellow of creative writing in poetry, will present a free public lecture at 2 p.m. Friday, March 14, here in 3020 Friedmann Hall.

His topic will be "Epistemic Normality and Psychopathology." He is the author of "Mentality and Machines" and editor of "Language, Mind and Knowledge."

He will also speak at 8 p.m. Thursday at Kalamazoo College on "What Aesthetics Should Be All About." His appearances are being sponsored by the philosophy departments at WMU and Kalamazoo College.

Offer Tropical Biology Course

Applications are still being accepted for a June 12-July 12 tropical biology course in Belize, Central America, co-sponsored by WMU.

Student participants in last year's program will show color slides and movies taken there to any interested persons at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 25, in 158 Wood Hall.

Dr. Richard W. Pippen, associate professor of biology at WMU, is program director for the course, which will be conducted by the Associated Universities for International Education, comprised of nine universities including WMU.

The course, open to advanced undergraduate and graduate students in the biological sciences, consists of ecologically oriented studies designed to acquaint the student with all aspects of tropical biology through field investigations and lectures. Additional information can be obtained by contacting Pippen.

Mass Spectrometry Symposium Monday

Western's chemistry department will present a one-day Mass Spectrometry Symposium on Monday, March 17, in 3190 McCracken Hall.

Dr. James P. Zietlow, associate dean of WMU's College of Arts and Sciences, will present the opening remarks starting at 9:30 a.m. The first lecture will be given by Dr. D. C. DeJongh, professor of chemistry at the University of Montreal. He will discuss "The Principles and Practices of Mass Spectrometry."

At 1:30 p.m., Dr. J. H. Futrell, professor of chemistry at the University of Utah, will talk on "Recent Advances in Mass Spectrometry: New Techniques." The 3:30 p.m. speaker will be Dr. K. Biemann, professor of chemistry at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, whose topic will be "Applications of Mass Spectrometry to Biochemistry."

The Western News

The Western News is published by the Office of University Information each Thursday when classes are in session during fall and winter semesters.

Created to disseminate news to the entire University community, distribution is by mail to faculty, staff and emeriti, and students may pick up copies at several on-campus locations. Items should be submitted by noon Monday for publication.

University information office hours: 8 a.m.-5 p.m., Monday-Friday.
Telephone: 383-9781.

To Present Workshop Series For Campers, Hikers, Cyclists

A series of four workshops on backpacking equipment, trail cooking and menu planning will be offered here on campus beginning at 8 p.m., Tuesday, March 18, in the lounge of LeFevre Hall.

Mary Brown, assistant professor of women's physical education, will conduct the workshops for campers, hikers and cyclists.

On March 18, she will speak on "Backpacking Equipment: Make It, Scrounge It, Rent It, Buy It." On March 25 at 9 p.m. in Shilling Hall lounge, the topic will be "Backpacking Menus and Cooking on the Trail." The same workshop will be held at 8 p.m., April 2 in Eicher Hall. At 8 p.m., April 16 in LeFevre Hall, she will again discuss backpacking equipment.

Brown is a member of the American Camping Association and served as secretary of the organization's Michigan section. She also is an active member of the state and national Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

The workshops are offered in cooperation with the WMU Honors College and the staff of Goldsworth Valley I and II residence halls.

Bilingual Education Program Friday

Dr. Frank Pino, Jr., associate professor of foreign language, University of Texas branch at San Antonio, will give a free public lecture on "Bilingual Education" here at 1 p.m. Friday, March 14, in the Martin Luther King Room, University Student Center.

Among his many public service activities, Pino has prepared Spanish versions of Rural Manpower Center and Michigan Department of Labor brochures. At Michigan State University in 1971-72, Pino administered a research and development grant from the University's Office of Provost to investigate and establish courses related to Mexican-American Studies. During that same period, he was nominated for the Teacher-Scholar Award presented by MSU.

His visit is sponsored by WMU's Minority Student Services and the Chicano Movement.

Math Talk Monday

Dr. Bernard R. McDonald, professor of mathematics at Pennsylvania State University, will speak at a special mathematics colloquium at 4 p.m. Monday, March 17, in the Math Commons Room, 6th floor, Everett Tower. His topic will be "Endomorphism Rings of Infinitely Generated Projective Modules."

Dr. Tilman C. Cothran, associate dean, College of Arts and Sciences, recently gave the Negro History Week address for Mount Zion Baptist Church of Kalamazoo. He also is providing the keynote address for Alpha Kappa Mu Honor Society at its national meeting in Richmond, Va., today.

Cagers, Griffin Close on Top

Western's varsity men's basketball team finished its season with an impressive, 85-68 win at Toledo, and junior forward Paul Griffin has already won two important post-season awards.

The victory at Toledo knocked the host school out of the Mid-American Conference title chase and it also marked the Broncos' third straight league win on the road after Western had dropped 17 consecutive MAC away games.

Coach Eldon Miller's squad finished the season with a 16-10 overall record and 8-6 league mark. That's the best WMU cage record since 1951-52, when the Broncos posted a 16-8 record. That's also the best league mark since WMU finished 7-5 in 1962-63.

By a vote of his teammates, Griffin became the first Bronco ever to win both the most valuable player and most improved player awards for the same season. He posted a 10.6 scoring average and 10.0 rebounding average. He finished with a .563 field goal percentage; he ranks second to sophomore center Tom Cutter in career accuracy and fifth in career rebounding with 731.

Discuss Neglected, Abused Children

Dr. Vincent DeFrancis, director, Children's Division, American Humane Association, Denver, Colo., will speak on "Protective Services and Community Responsibilities for Neglected and Abused Children" at 8 p.m., Thursday, March 20, here in 3750 Knauss Hall, sponsored by the WMU School of Social Work.

Faculty/Student Forum Here Next Thursday

A Faculty/Student Forum on the funding of intercollegiate athletics, intramural sports and recreation programs will be held at 9 p.m. Thursday, March 20, in Lefevre Hall Lounge, sponsored by the Goldsworth Valley Two Community.

Campus Career Day Is Underway Today

Representatives from business, industry and government will confer with WMU students during Career Day from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. today in the east ballroom of the University Student Center.

Sponsored by Alpha Kappa Psi, national professional business fraternity, the one-day program is open free of charge to all WMU students.

A film entitled "Upjohn Today" provided by the Upjohn Co. of Kalamazoo will be shown periodically throughout the day.

Set Family Swim

The Sunday afternoon recreational swimming program has added family swim privileges at the Gabel Natatorium. These hours (2 to 4 p.m.) are in addition to the Gary Center Friday night family swim. The Sunday program will be provided for University students, faculty, staff and their families.

Valid University identification cards must be presented at the locker room door prior to entering the pool area. These additional family swim hours will take effect Sunday, March 23, provided necessary repairs are completed at the Gabel pool.

Campus Calendar

Dunlop Leads Hockey Broncos

Freshman right wing Tim Dunlop set three records and tied two others in leading his WMU ice hockey team to a fine 19-8 record in its second year of varsity existence.

Playing in all 27 games, the Corunna, Ont., native notched school seasonal records for goals, 30; total scoring points, 64, and hat-tricks with five games of at least three goals.

He and sophomore right wing Jeff Lindsay of Sarnia, Ont., tied Bob Hutchins' record of four game winning goals while Dunlop also equaled another of Hutchins' standards by picking up two or more points in eight straight games.

Another freshman, Neil Smith of Don Mills, Ont., meanwhile set new standards for defensemen by picking up 33 assists and 39 points.

Junior goaltender Steve Roth of Dearborn also was credited with 12 victories. In WMU's initial varsity campaign, both Roth and Weldon Good were in the nets for 11 wins apiece.

As a team, Coach Bill Neal's squad averaged 7.84 goals per game en route to establishing marks for goals, 213; assists, 342; points, 555, and hat-tricks with 16.

Three Gymnasts Win at Lake Erie

Bill Waddell and Rich Heil will be Western's entries at the NCAA Eastern Regional Gymnastics Qualifying Meet, Friday and Saturday at Southern Illinois University.

In competition last weekend, Waddell captured parallel bars honors at the Lake Erie League championships while Heil was the winner on rings. They have respective averages of 9.05 and 8.66 out of a possible 10.0.

WMU's other Lake Erie champion, floor exercise performer Mark O'Malley, will not make the trip to Carbondale because he has been bothered by shoulder problems.

Swimmers Shatter 11 School Records

Coach Dave Diget's varsity men's swimming broke 11 school records and tied one while placing fifth in the recent Mid-American Conference meet at Central Michigan. It marked the first time since 1969 that Western finished in the MAC's first division.

They ended the season with an 8-6 record, including 4-4 against league opponents.

Martin Wins Swim Crown

After capturing his second straight Mid-American Conference 150-pound title, Gary Martin of WMU will compete for national collegiate championship honors this weekend at Princeton University.

Martin, a junior from Flint, owns a 13-4-1 record and is unbeaten in his last nine matches. As a sophomore, he split evenly in four NCAA matches at Iowa State.

Western has had one All-American performer from each of the last four national meets. Rich Bacon finished sixth in 142-pound competition in 1971 and 167-pounder Doug Wyn earned three straight All-American certificates the following three years, including championship honors last winter.

Irish Netters Here Saturday

Western Michigan's varsity men's tennis team makes its first local appearance of the 1975 season with a 6 p.m. Saturday engagement against Notre Dame at the YMCA indoor courts.

Coach Jack Vredevelt's squad took four of seven matches on a recent trip through the South, including 9-0 shutouts against Pfeiffer College and The Citadel.

In singles play, Mid-American Conference titlist Tony Lamerato owns a 5-2 mark at No. 1 as does freshman Jim Buck, who divided playing time between No. 3 and No. 4. Lamerato and freshman Bob Learman also own a 5-2 record at No. 1 doubles.

Six Broncos At NCAA Meet

Sprinter Curtis Long; 35-pound weight thrower Tom Meyer and a distance medley relay unit will represent Western at the NCAA Indoor Track and Field championships this weekend at Detroit's Cobo Arena.

Long qualified for the 60-yard dash field with a clocking of :06.1, while Meyer came through with a 59-0¼ effort in his specialty last weekend to earn a trip to Detroit.

The distance medley unit posted a top time of 9:53.4 this winter and could do even better this weekend with a juggled lineup that will have Central Collegiate 1,000-yard titlist Bob Norman running the opening 880, Steve Brown the quarter and finishing with Tom Duits and Dan Landman.

Linguistics Lecture Workshop Tuesday

A free lecture-workshop on linguistics will be conducted here Tuesday, March 18, by Veta Smith, instructor of English at Kalamazoo Valley Community College.

Starting at 3:30 p.m. in the Faculty Lounge of the University Student Center, she will discuss the topic "How Would You Feel if You Had to Change Your Dialect?" A reception will be held at 3 p.m. The workshop is sponsored by WMU's department of linguistics.

Publish New Book By C. J. Gianakaris

A new book, "Foundations of Drama," written by Dr. C. J. Gianakaris, professor of English, has been published by Houghton Mifflin Co., Boston.
