

Campus Briefs

The annual banquet of the WMU Men's Faculty/Staff Bowling League will be held at 7 p.m. Friday, April 4, at the Holiday Inn-West. A cocktail hour will begin at 6 p.m.

The Student Employment Referral Service is currently taking applications from students who will be interested in part-time employment for spring and/or summer. Because funding is by tuition dollars, the applicant must be an enrolled student at Western. Since the service is only available to currently-enrolled students, a validated ID will be required upon request.

The department of public safety has available copies of the Campus Map and Parking and Traffic Regulations which can be mailed to persons attending conferences or seminars on campus this spring and summer.

Dr. Myron L. Coulter, WMU vice president for administration, recently was appointed to the Kalamazoo County Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

George Dales, WMU professor of men's physical education, recently served as the coordinator for the Detroit News' High School Track Coaches Clinic at Detroit's Cobo Hall for the 11th straight year.

Western's annual Faculty Recognition Dinner will be held Tuesday, April 15, in the Student Center. Reservations at $5.25 per person must be made by April 4 with Robert L. Culp, men's physical education department, 383-1780. There will be punch at 5:30 p.m. and dinner at 7 p.m.

The Faculty Senate's annual dinner meeting will be held at 5:30 p.m. Thursday, April 17, in the South Ballroom of the University Student Center.

Dr. Katharine M. Stokes, emeriti WMU director of libraries, is one of two persons selected to participate in the University of Michigan School of Library Science's seventh annual Alumnus-in-Residence Program April 3-4 at Ann Arbor.

Ten years of paintings by Robert Knipschild, professor of fine arts at the University of Cincinnati, are on display through Friday here in Gallery II in Sangren Hall.

Announce Library Weekend Hours

The WMU libraries have announced revised hours of operation for the Easter weekend, Friday, March 28-Sunday, March 30.

All libraries, including Waldo Library, the Business Library, the Educational Resources Center, the Music Library, the Physical Sciences Library and the School of Librarianship Library, will close at 5 p.m. Friday, will be open from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Saturday, and will be closed all day Sunday.

Broadway Comedy by Neil Simon Coming to Auditorium Monday

Neil Simon's 13th comedy hit, "The Sunshine Boys," comes to Miller Auditorium for one performance at 8 p.m. Monday, March 31. The comedy, which is the last Broadway event of the 1974-75 Patron's Choice series, features veteran actors Eddie Bracken and Arny Freeman.

"The Sunshine Boys," which Clive Barnes of The New York Times called "Simon's best play yet," is only one of a number of long-run hit plays, written by Simon. Having achieved 538 performances while on Broadway, which these days is considered super, "The Sunshine Boys" thus joins such previous Simon triumphs as "Barefoot in the Park," "Plaza Suite," "The Odd Couple," "Prisoner of Second Avenue," "Last of the Red Hot Lovers," "Promises, Promises," and "Sweet Charity."

Tickets are $5.50, $4.00, and $3.00 and reservations may be made by calling the Miller Auditorium box office.

Public Affairs Institute Prepares Region III Council Application

An application seeking the designation of Region III, Southcentral Michigan Planning and Development Council as a Wastewater Treatment Planning and Management Area Agency, notes that "the most pervasive problem in the proposed designated area is disposal of residential sewage."

The application required 2,500

man hours of preparation by Western's Institute of Public Affairs staff.

Dr. Robert W. Kaufman, political science professor and institute director, last week presented the three-volume document of more than 100 pages, complete with maps, charts, graphs and supporting data in two volumes alone, to Mrs. Bess H. Jordan, a Calhoun county commissioner from Pennfield Township and chairperson, Region III Council.

WMU compiled the application under grants from the Kalamazoo Foundation, Inc., the Albert L. and Louise B. Miller Foundation, Inc., of Battle Creek, and the State of Michigan, to Region III.

The application has been sent to Governor William G. Milliken for action. Region III is only the second of Michigan's 14 regional planning councils to develop a wastewater treatment planning and management area. It is composed of Barry, Branch, Calhoun, Kalamazoo and St. Joseph counties.

Bosses Luncheon Deadline April 3

Thursday, April 3, is the reservation deadline for the 10th annual Bosses Day Luncheon to be held from noon to 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 9, here in the south Ballroom of the University Student Center, sponsored by the Western Association of Office Personnel.

With the theme "April in Paris," Jacobson's will present a special fashion show by French couturiers, featuring both daytime and evening items. The smorgasbord luncheon and fashion show price is $4.75 each for members and $5.75 each for non-members.

A flyer was sent to all clerical/technical employees last week, but this program is open to all University employees. Anyone interested, should contact Seija Suter, 383-1937, for a reservation blank; they should be sent to Kathy Olsen, Lawson Ice Arena.

The program chairman is Lynn Ross. Other committee members are: Helen Pressey, entertainment; Laurel Fenner, decorations; Marcia Howe, hospitality; Olsen, name tags and reservations; Zephine Culp, programs; and Suter, publicity.

WMUK Wins Ohio Award

Western's radio station, WMUK (FM), recently was awarded a 1975 Ohio State Award for meritorious achievement in educational, informational and public affairs broadcasting at the 39th annual Ohio State Awards Luncheon, in the Fawcett Center for Tomorrow, Columbus, Ohio.

WMUK's winning entry is one of the programs from the science fiction drama series, "Future Tense!," produced and directed by Eli Segal, WMUK special projects, and manager of audio services for WMU's Division of Instructional Communications.

Sandberg Chairs Int'l Program

Dr. John Sandberg, dean of Western's College of Education, will participate in the Second International Community Education Conference on April 1-3 as its program chairman.

The conference will be held in Las Cruces, N.M.; Juarez, Mexico; and El Paso, Tex.

Sandberg has arranged for U.S. Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller to give the keynote address on "The Role of Federal Government in the World Community." Sandberg will lead discussions on "The Role of Institutions of Higher Education in the World Community."

WMU educators have been active supporters and leaders in the efforts to facilitate world-wide involvement in community education.

To Present Easter Readings Program

A campus program of readings for the Easter season will be given Thursday, March 27, by the oral interpretation area of the department of communication arts and sciences.

Starting at 4 p.m. in 1114 Brown Hall, it will feature selections from the Bible and excerpts from the biographical novel "Pontius Pilate" by Dr. Paul L. Maier, professor of history at WMU.

A scripture reading and a song by Kalamazoo junior Laurie Cottrell will open the program; the doors will be closed at 3:55 p.m.

Energy Conservation Pamphlets Available

A limited supply of two special informational pamphlets on energy conservation, prepared by the Federal Energy Administration in Washington, D.C., are available free to interested members of the WMU campus community.

They are: "Gas Mileage Guide for New Car Buyers," the 1975 fuel economy test results for automobiles; and "Tips for Energy Savers."

Requests should be sent to C. Edward Smith, communications manager in the WMU Physical Plant, 383-0060.

TEED Participation Meetings Next Week

Western students who are taking teaching and learning, TEED 300 or TEED 301, during spring, summer or fall semesters, and who need to apply for their pre-directed teaching participation experience, should attend a participation meeting, according to Mrs. Norma L. Hungerford, coordinator of participation.

The spring-summer participation meeting is scheduled for 3:30-4:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 1, in 2304 Sangren Hall, and the fall participation meeting is set for 3:30-4:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 2, in 2304 Sangren Hall.

Trustees Table Proposed Room, Board, Non-Resident Tuition Hikes

In accordance with its established practice of tabling fee increases for one month, the WMU Board of Trustees Friday (March 21) delayed taking action on proposed room and board rate and non-resident tuition hikes.

Robert B. Wetnight, WMU vice president for finance, recommended that the non-resident tuition fee be increased by $7.00 per credit hour for both undergraduate and graduate students; the current rates are $46 and $62 per undergraduate and graduate hour, respectively.

He explained that the proposed tuition increase is necessitated to comply with Section 7 of Public Act 227 of 1974 which requires that non-resident students pay at least 75 per cent of the total instructional cost.

The proposed room and board rate increase is $50 per semester; that would bring the total per semester to $690 "which would still be one of the lowest rates in the state," commented Wetnight. The cost per semester for room only would be increased $15 to $240. No change is recommended in the single room supplemental fee of $131.25 per semester, but the monthly fee for Spindler Hall, a non-food, year-round dormitory, would be increased $4.00 to $70 per month.

A $3.00 per month increase is proposed for all of the University's apartments. If approved at the April 25th Board meeting, the revised monthly fee would be as follows: one bedroom, Stadium Drive, $126; two bedroom, Stadium Drive, $136; one bedroom, Elmwood and Goldsworth Valley, $116; two bedroom, Elmwood and Goldsworth Valley, $129; unfurnished one bedroom, Elmwood and Goldsworth Valley, $109; and unfurnished two bedroom, Elmwood and Goldsworth Valley, $119.

Wetnight stated that increased costs for wages, utilities, maintenance and/or food are the reasons for the proposed rate hikes.

Approve General Education Policy

A new WMU policy on general education which recommends the appointment of a general education coordinator, changes the composition of the general education committee and establishes new criteria for the selection of general education courses was approved last Friday (March 21) by the WMU Board of Trustees.

The policy was accepted with the proviso that sections "4a" and "4b" (dealing with the relationship of the General Education Committee to the Educational Policies Council and to the College Curriculum Committee) be approved with the understanding that modification of these sections may be necessary as a result of collective bargaining.

"This policy strengthens the University's commitment to providing undergraduate students the opportunity to extend their educational experiences beyond the mastery of a particular area of concentration by offering a variety of courses in many subject areas," Vice President for Academic Affairs Stephen R. Mitchell told the Board.

As distinguished from the specialized education of concentrated study in majors and curricula to ensure a detailed, specific competence in techniques and subject matter, Mitchell explained that general education offers students a balance of knowledge, expression and critical insight in the humanities, and the social and natural sciences to help them become well-informed, responsible citizens.

The policy states that the general education requirement for graduation at Western should remain at 35 credit hours to be selected from either the distribution program—a list of approved courses offered by the undergraduate colleges—or the integrated programs offered through the College of General Studies.

In addition, the current eight-member University general education committee will be replaced by a 13-member committee consisting of two representatives from each undergraduate college, two undergraduate students and the coordinator of general education, who will be appointed by the vice president for academic affairs in consultation with the deans of the colleges. This marks the first time that students will have committee representation.

Finally, the policy establishes new, better-defined criteria to evaluate courses submitted for inclusion in the general education program.

Prior to Board approval, the policy was adopted by the Educational Policies Council and approved by the Faculty Senate.

Hugo To Read Poetry Tonight

Richard Hugo, director of creative writing at the University of Montana, will read selections from his own poetry at 8 o'clock tonight, March 27, here in 3321 Brown Hall. The free public reading is being sponsored by Western's English department.

Currently serving as a visiting professor at the University of Colorado, he is author of four books of poems and will have another published this spring. Hugo has twice won the Helen Bullis Award from Poetry Northwest magazine and has received the Theodore Roethke prize for his poems.

Set Biology Seminar

Dr. William Steiner, assistant professor of genetics and development at the University of Illinois, will speak at Western's biology seminar at 4 p.m. this afternoon, March 27, in 181 Wood Hall. He will discuss "Relationships Between Enzyme Polymorphism and a Physiological Trait in Two Hawaiian Drosophila" at the free public program.

The Western News

The Western News is published by the Office of University Information each Thursday when classes are in session during fall and winter semesters.

Created to disseminate news to the entire University community, distribution is by mail to faculty, staff and emeriti, and students may pick up copies at several on-campus locations. Items should be submitted by noon Monday for publication.

University Information office hours: 8 a.m.-5 p.m., Monday-Friday. Telephone: 383-0981. Martin R. (Joe) Gagle, Director; Patricia M. Coyle, Associate Director.

Name Director of Annual Fund, Acting Industrial Ed. Chairman

The appointment of a new director of Western's Annual Fund was among the personnel action taken last Friday (March 21) by the WMU Board of Trustees.

Helen J. Flaspohler was named to fill the Annual Fund directorship vacated in February by Larry R. Koenes, who resigned to accept the position of WMU director of investments and risk management.

Flaspohler, who earned a bachelor's degree in business education in 1953 from Central Methodist College in Fayette, Mo., has served as administrative secretary to the WMU director of alumni affairs and development since April, 1973. She served on the staff of the director of a federally funded school guidance training project for the Kalamazoo public school system, 1970-73.

A native of Salisbury, Mo., Flaspohler also has held staff positions at the University of Michigan School of Public Health, the Northeast Missouri State University Alumni Office and the University of Missouri College of Arts and Sciences.

The Board also confirmed the appointment of Dr. Charles G. Risher, professor of industrial education, as acting chairman of industrial education, effective April 1, 1975 through January 1, 1976; and accepted the resignation of Dr. Ollin J. Drennan, professor of natural science, as associate dean of general studies.

Risher will serve as acting chairman of industrial education during the period the current chairman, Dr. John Feirer, is reassigned to a United States Office of Education project in metric education.

Risher joined Western's faculty as an assistant professor in 1958 and has previously served twice as acting head of the department, from June, 1963-65, and from August, 1972-June, 1973. Before coming to Western, he was an associate professor at East Carolina College, taught at a Buffalo, Mo., high school, and was a visiting instructor at Northwest Louisiana College.

Drennan, who has served as associate dean since 1971, will return to full-time teaching duties. He joined Western's faculty as an associate professor of physics in 1964, and was named professor of natural science and chairman of the science area, College of General Studies in 1967. He previously was on the faculty of Northeast Missouri State Teachers College, Evansville, Ind., College and Missouri Valley College, Marshall, Mo.

Sebaly Heads National SPE

Dr. A. L. Sebaly, professor and chairman, Western's department of directed teaching, was installed as president of the Society of Professors of Education (SPE) at its recent national convention in Chicago.

He has served as vice president and as a member of the executive board of SPE. Sebaly received his B.A. degree from WMU and his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Michigan.

The SPE met in conjunction with the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education and several other educational organizations.

At the same meeting, Dr. Mary Cain, WMU professor of teacher education, presented a paper on "Affirmative Action—Women—and the Professoriate of Education."

Sebaly chaired a session where Ronald A. Crowell, WMU assistant professor of teacher education, spoke on "The Center Directors' Viewpoint on Teacher Centers."

Five Business Students Cited

Five WMU students of the total 62 enrolled in the department of business education and administrative services' secretarial cooperative program have been named as honor students.

Selection is based on scholarship, plus cooperation in class projects and future potential. It was made by department faculty members who nominated 30 students for consideration. Part of the selection includes the awarding of a large, hard-bound secretary handbook.

Announce Easter Weekend Hours

WMU's Walwood Union and Goldsworth Valley snack bars will be closed during the Easter weekend, March 28-30, and the University Student Center will be open only on Friday, March 28.

The Center and counter will be open from 7 a.m.-5 p.m. Friday, and the Center snack bar will be open for vending only during those same hours.

Colloquium Monday

Dennis Leinbaugh, graduate student in the University of Iowa's computer science department, will conduct a free, public colloquium at 4 p.m. March 31 in the Math Commons Room, Everett Tower.

His topic will be "Translatability of Program Chemata: A Technique to Study the Intricate Power of Programming Language Features." Refreshments will be served at 3:30 p.m.

Physics Lecture Today

A free public lecture by Dr. William P. Pratt, Jr., assistant professor of physics at Michigan State University, will be given at 4 o'clock today, March 27, here in 1110 Rood Hall. His talk is entitled "Ultra-low Temperature Physics" and is sponsored by the WMU physics department.

Abolish On-Campus Housing Policy Raise Tuition $1 Per Credit Hour

The WMU Board of Trustees last Friday (March 21) abolished the policy requiring freshmen and sophomores to live on campus and increased tuition by $1.00 per credit hour.

The tuition increase will be used to establish an Auxiliary Reserve Fund to maintain the University's fiscal integrity in the retirement of its bonded indebtedness. The abolishment of the residency policy is effective in the summer of 1975.

This action is in line with the proposal presented to the Trustees

Russell Comedy In Arena Theatre

Charlie L. Russell's comedy, "Five on the Black Hand Side," will be the University Theatre's final Arena Theatre production of this season at 8 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday, April 1-5.

Written by black playwright Russell, "Five" is set in Harlem with an all-black cast. This engaging ethnic comedy is said to possess a kind of life energy which evokes a rolling laughter of regeneration and of life while seeming to help clarify both the hope and the challenge in a contemporary life.

The cast includes Terrian E. Bell and Tony Lucas, both of Detroit; Niambi Efuru, Don Daniel, John H. McCants, Jr., Madelyn Porter, Yogi Adams, Tim Waller, Vaughn G. Phillips, Von H. Washington, Robert L. Nichols, Jr., Evonia Davis, Joseph Lewis, Doretha Bond, Ralph King, Michael R. LeSueur and Donald Kennedy.

Dr. Russell J. Grandstaff of the UT staff is director. Student assistants Chuck Drury, Therese Nunn and Barb Thompson are technical director, costume coordinator, and makeup supervisor, respectively. Susan M. Maraia is assistant director.

General admission tickets are $2.00 and are available through the Laura V. Shaw Theatre box office. Telephone 383-1760 for reservations.

Feb. 21 by the University administration. In keeping with its long-standing policy, the Board tabled the proposal last month to allow time for further study because a student fee increase was involved.

Commenting on some concerns expressed publicly in the past month about the effects of abolishing the on-campus housing policy, Tom Coyne, WMU vice president for student services, stressed the following points:

1.) A voluntary rather than mandatory residency requirement will enhance the educational potential of dorms;

2.) There are fewer WMU students living off campus today than there have been in each of the last five years;

3.) The University feels the vast majority of students who move from residence halls will go into already established apartment complexes;

4.) The Kalamazoo community has housed more than 825 students off campus than it is accommodating today. Coyne noted that the figure of 825 is more than the best estimates of the number of students who might opt to live off-campus if the housing policy is abolished; and

5.) According to the University's Off-Campus Housing Office, there are currently more than 1,000 unoccupied spaces in off-campus apartment complexes. They were originally designed to house four college students per unit, but many are presently accommodating fewer students.

Coyne denied that the University will cease, in any way, to program for better race relations or campus life as was suggested by critics of the proposed change.

Select China Trip Participants

Twenty students have been selected to join three faculty members as a part of Western's study/seminar tour of the People's Republic of China.

Student participants are: John Costello, junior in economics and government; Britton E. Theurer, junior in music; Richard R. Hartman, junior in paper science and chemistry; Terry Schweitzer, freshman in a general degree program; John Bercini, graduate assistant in political science; David C. Borsos, junior in economics and government; Deborah L. DeZeeuw, junior in French; Charles V. Dumas, junior in building trades (carpentry) and automotive engineering; John Andrew Foster, freshman in biology; Mrs. Joyce Huizinga, junior in home economics; Phillip A. LaVoy, freshman in aviation technology; Janyce Rebecca Lyman, junior in history and religion; Charles C. Crosse, junior in business and government; Paula Ann Gantner, junior in psychology and social work; Phillip Lee Kline, freshman in paper science and chemistry; Thomas Michael LaFerriere, junior in biology; Deborah Kay Nelson, junior in journalism, government and writing; Deborah Scott, junior in music education; Michael J. Shire, junior in history and government; and Gregory Allan Stikeleather, junior in psychology.

Although they will be gone from March 31-May 4, they will actually be on mainland China from April 5-24. Stops are scheduled in Hawaii, Tokyo and Hong Kong while they are en route.

"We hope to visit colleges and universities in China and to meet Chinese faculty and students, as well as visit communes, factories, schools, housing facilities and sites of cultural and historical significance," said Dr. Samuel I. Clark, WMU professor of political science and director of the Honors College.

He and Dr. Alfred K. Ho, professor of economics; and Dr. John R. Lindbeck, professor of industrial education and director of Western's Center for Metric Education, will lead the WMU group. All three men have traveled extensively, but only Ho has been to China; he was born in Peking, China, and he visited China a year ago.

Part of the cost for student participants is being provided by grants from the Kalamazoo Foundation, Sage Foundation, The Upjohn Company, the WMU Annual Fund and an anonymous gift. Student participants will receive four hours of academic credit for the program as a special Honors College seminar.

Set Doctoral Exam Series

To Discuss Shakespeare

Dr. C. J. Gianakaris, WMU professor of English, will deliver a paper at a special symposium on Shakespeare April 4 at the University of Michigan.

Outdoor Track Here Friday

Western's varsity men's track team will hopefully begin the outdoor portion of its 1975 schedule here Friday afternoon with the WMU Invitational.

Weather permitting, all of the competition with the exception of the pole vault will take place at the new Kanley Track starting at 3 p.m. The latter event will be staged in Read Fieldhouse.

"This will be the first time we contest standard events like the 100, high hurdles and steeplechase and will do so even if the meet has to be run in the Fieldhouse," remarked Coach Jack Shaw. "We'll be using this competition to determine our team for a triangular meet the following week at Ball State."

Partial entries are expected from Michigan, Michigan State and Eastern Michigan with Aquinas College, Ferris State, Grand Valley State and Wayne State entering full squads. Also sending complete teams are Jackson, Kalamazoo Valley, Mott and Glen Oaks Community Colleges.

O'Malley Recipient Of Poe Scholarship

Gymnastics co-captain Mark O'Malley of WMU has been designated as the recipient of the Andrew Poe Scholarship Award, named in memory of Andrew (A. J.) Poe, a former Bronco gymnast, who died last summer in Clearwater, Fla.

Poe lettered as a still rings performer at WMU in 1970 and 1971 after overcoming polio as a youth. The scholarship was contributed by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Poe of Cassopolis.

McKee Scholarship To Frosh Hurler

Freshman pitcher Dave Surch is the second recipient of the Harold McKee Scholarship Award, presented annually to a Bronco baseball player from Greater Kalamazoo who is majoring or minoring in physical education.

Surch, a 6-3, 185-pounder, was the "most valuable" player in 1974 as a pitcher and outfielder at Portage Central High School. He won eight of 13 pitching decisions over three years and earned National Honor Society membership. In his first semester at WMU, he earned a 3.5 average on a 4.0 scale.

This scholarship award is donated by Harold McKee, who lettered in football at Western in 1927 and 1931.

Dunlop, Eve, Smith Get Ice Honors

Right wing Tim Dunlop has been elected by his teammates as Western's "most valuable" hockey player for a 1974-75 season in which the Broncos compiled a 19-8 record.

In other balloting, center Phil Eve was selected for "most improved" honors and defenseman Neil Smith earned the "Bronco Award" for contributing to morale both on and off the ice.

Bronco Grid Drills Underway

Work on technique will be the order of business for Western Michigan's football team in its four workouts this week and for the remainder of spring practice.

In the initial four sessions, Coach Elliot Uzelac and his staff installed the new "Power I" offense and a defense featuring a five-man front. "Technique work is needed at this point," stressed the first-year coach. "We scrimmaged Saturday and while our players performed with a lot of emotion and hit well, they forgot about technique. As a result, we experienced too many fumbles and mistakes."

This week's work included a Tuesday goal-line scrimmage and a full-game scrimmage except for the kicking game on Saturday.

McCully, Brannick Win Swim Awards

For the second consecutive year, Kevin McCully has been cited by his WMU varsity men's swimming teammates as the squad's "most valuable" performer. Elected as the "most improved" swimmer was freshman Greg Brannick.

Math Colloquium Today

With the use of popsicle sticks, pictures, blocks and mini-computers, abstract mathematical concepts can be taught to children, according to Dr. James Riley, WMU associate professor of mathematics.

He will discuss his ideas at a free public colloquium at 4 o'clock this afternoon, March 27, in the Math Commons Room, Everett Tower. His topic, "The Teaching of Mathematics to Young Children."
