

Vol. I, No. 1

May 8, 1975

TV PRODUCTION WINS TOP AWARD

"Gwen Frostic-Impressions," a television services production by the University's Division of Instructional Communications won first place in a recent 12-state northern regional competition of the Industrial Television Association. The internationally-known author, artist and creative printer, Gwen Frostic is a WMU alumna.

STATE WILL ASSESS SERVICE CHARGE

Effective May 5, the state assesses a service charge of 2% on all purchases by the University against contracts established by the Central Purchasing Department of the state. So that departmental monthly statements correctly reflect the total cost of items purchased, 2% of the amount will be charged directly to the appropriate cost center and object code and then transferred to revolving account for payment to the state. The new system will preclude the use of U-orders and M-orders in making purchases against state contracts. All such orders must be channeled through the University Purchasing Office.

FRESHMEN GIVEN PARKING PRIVILEGES

At the recommendation of the University Parking Committee, the University has granted parking privileges on campus to all freshmen students. Effective immediately, the regulations read: "All students are eligible to park, possess or operate a motor vehicle on University property: however, they must first register their cars (or motor bikes, motorcycles, etc.) with the Department of Public Safety."

ACCOUNTANTS MEET HERE SATURDAY

"Education for Accountants" will serve as the theme of the annual conference of Michigan Accounting Educators when they meet Saturday, May 10, in 2302 Sangren Hall. Hosted by WMU accountancy department, more than 100 state educators are expected for the 8-9 a.m. registration. Dr. John T. Bernhard, Western's president, will address a noon luncheon in the University Student Center west ballroom.

METRIC CONVERSION SEMINAR SLATED

A special seminar for all administrators in businesses, small or large, on the problems of converting to the metric system will be held May 16 at Kalamazoo's Holiday Inn-West. It is sponsored by the Business Research and Service Institute of WMU's College of Business. Speakers for the program include representatives of companies which are leaders in metric conversion.

ART EXHIBITION CONTINUES THIS MONTH

A showing of modular prints by Allegra Ockler, art department instructor, will continue through June 1 at the Kalamazoo Art Center.

C.E.T.A. JOB REQUESTS REPORTED

Stanley Kelley, director, Employee Relations and Personnel, has reported that Comprehensive Employment Training Act (C.E.T.A.) funds for Federal emergency unemployment jobs have been committed to other projects. WMU requests currently cannot be filled, but some may receive funding later, depending upon priority and availability of funds. The Kalamazoo County C.E.T.A. office has asked that all university requests be channeled through the Personnel Department or Office of Research Services.

ANNOUNCE ENGLISH EXAMINATION DATES

The Graduate College will give English Qualifying Examinations in Dunbar Hall on the following dates:

May 10	10-12-noon	room 2480
14	" " "	" "
22	7:30-9:30 p.m.	" "
31	10-12-noon	" "
June 2	1-3 p.m.	room 3560
10	9-11 a.m.	" "
19	7:30-9:30 p.m.	room 2480
23	1-3 p.m.	room 3560

All students who plan to enroll for graduate study are required to take the test on one of the dates available. A $2 fee will be collected at the time, and students must show an ID with photo or driver's license. No advance registration is required except for the final two days.

OFFER SPECIAL PRICES FOR PRINTING

Printing Services is now taking orders for letterheads and envelopes at the annual mass order special prices. Information and details available by calling 383-0992.

JOB OPENINGS LISTED

The following position openings have been posted by the Personnel Department for current university employees:

- Secretary I, H-04, Directed Teaching - posted 5/5-5/9
- Secretary I, H-04, Speech Path. & Audiology - posted 5/2-5/8
- Account Clerk I, H-02, Accounts Payable - posted 5/5-5/9
- Clerk II, H-03, Annual Fund - posted 5/6-5/12

Regular full-time and part-time employees interested in applying should submit a Job Opportunity Program application to Personnel during the posting period.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

- May 9--Tennis, WMU vs. Ball State, Ellsworth Courts, 2:30 p.m.
- May 10--Michigan Accounting Educators Conference, 2302 Sangren Hall, all day
- May 10--Baseball doubleheader, WMU vs. Ball State, Hyames Field, 1 p.m.
- May 10--Tennis, WMU vs. Ohio U., Ellsworth Courts, 10 a.m.
- May 11--Baseball doubleheader, WMU vs. Miami, Hyames Field, 1 p.m.
- May 12--Chemistry colloquium, Thos. Kinstle, speaker, 5280 McCracken Hall, 4 p.m.
- May 12--Thomas Hardie, baritone and Mary Sue Hyatt, mezzo-soprano, Oakland Recital Hall, 8 p.m.
- May 13--Pianist Andrea Anderson Swem, Oakland Recital Hall, 8 p.m.
- May 14--Anisa Education Model lecture, Dr. Dan Jordan, Univ. of Mass., Oakland Recital Hall, 8 p.m.
- May 14--Conference on Consumer Education in Elementary & Middle Schools, Student Center, all day
- May 14--WAOP luncheon meeting, 158-159 Student Center, 11:45 a.m.
- May 15--Anisa Education Model lecture, Dr. Dan Jordan, Univ. of Mass., 2304 Sangren Hall, 10 a.m.

CAMPUS BRIEFS

Dr. Robert J. Griffin, assistant professor of Spanish, recently addressed the Ohio Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese in Columbus on "Teaching Hispanic Culture Through Music."

Zane Cannon, assistant professor of marketing, was awarded an all-expense paid $850 fellowship for a one week course on "The Basics of Direct Mail Advertising" held at Oakbrook, Illinois recently.

Two faculty members have been elected to top leadership positions with the Michigan Classical Conference. Dr. George F. Osmun, professor of classics, and Elizabeth Giedeman, associate professor of classics, were chosen president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

Dr. Raymond A. Dannenberg, chairman, distributive education department, was a judge at the annual National Distributive Education Clubs of America Career Development Conference last week in Hollywood, Florida.

Two articles written by Dr. Ferdinand Schoeman, assistant professor of philosophy, have been published in recent issues of academic journals, The Personalist and Journal of Value Inquiry.

Linda Harrison, geology instructor, is co-author of a paper describing geologic findings in Texas' Rio Grande River delta. It was read at the recent annual meeting of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists in Dallas.

Associate professor of English, Dr. Clifford Davidson, is the author of two articles in recent literary journals. They deal with new developments in 15th century drama which paved the way for the realistic treatment of topics in the Shakespearean era.

BASEBALL TEAM HAS BUSY WEEKEND AHEAD

The Bronco baseball squad will play two doubleheaders this weekend at Hyames Field, starting Saturday with a 1 p.m. game against Ball State. On Sunday, Miami, the defending MAC champions, will test the Western team.

WMU THINCLADS HEAD FOR PITTSBURGH

The University of Pittsburgh Invitational track meet on Friday and Saturday, May 9-10, will provide the Bronco team with its final tune-up before they host the Mid-American Conference championships the following weekend. Coach Jack Shaw is hopeful that distance runner Tom Duits can perform at Pittsburgh following a week's layoff with a sprained ankle.

TENNIS TEAM PLAYS AT HOME THIS WEEKEND

Western's tennis team will face two Mid-American foes this week--Ball State, 2:30 on Friday, May 9, and Ohio University, 10 a.m. Saturday, May 10. The meets will serve as previews of the MAC Conference which WMU will host at Stowe Stadium May 15-17.

GYMNASTS MEET HERE

The U.S. Gymnastics Federation regional meet will be held Saturday, May 10, in Gary Center. Olympic compulsories start at 9:30 a.m., optional routines at 2:30 p.m.

DINNER TO HONOR DR. KISS

A dinner and program honoring Dr. Rosalia Kiss, former department head and long-time member of the occupational therapy department, will be held Saturday, May 10, in the new Kalamazoo Center. It begins at 6 p.m..

OFFICES TO REMAIN OPEN

Effective Monday, May 12, the following University offices will maintain service during the lunch period: Accounts Receivable, Admissions, Cashiering, Financial Aids, Graduate College, Records, Registration and the third floor administrative wing of the Administration Building.

WAOP WILL HOLD MONTHLY MEETING

Members of the Western Association of Office Personnel who plan to attend the Wednesday, May 14, meeting from 11:45-12:45 in 158-159 University Student Center are urged to bring copies of the organization's constitution. The slate of officers will be discussed. Ballots will be mailed.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT RECITALS SCHEDULED

Graduate assistant Mary Sue Hyatt, mezzo-soprano, and associate professor Thomas Hardie baritone, will present a free public recital Monday, May 12, at 8 p.m. in Oakland Recital Hall.

Andrea Anderson Swem, concert pianist, will play compositions by Bach, Schubert, Ravel and Chopin in a guest recital Tuesday, May 13, at 8 p.m. in Oakland Recital Hall. The free program is sponsored by the Music Department and Cultural Events Committee.