

WMU ScholarWorks Access Agreement for Capstone Papers

ScholarWorks at WMU is an online open access repository for Western Michigan University's research, scholarly and creative output. It also serves as a permanent digital archive for these materials. At a minimum, we will be putting up a citation to your work, but cannot put up the actual work without your permission. By agreeing to contribute to ScholarWorks you are adding to the scholarly output of WMU, allowing future scholars access to your work, and increasing the visibility of your research. ScholarWorks will track and report your work's downloads on a monthly basis to the email associated with the account.

Publishing Options

Both of the publishing options will eventually allow your work to be viewed by anyone, anywhere through ScholarWorks at WMU. The embargo option, if chosen, simply delays the access to your work - it will not be available to anyone for the period of the embargo. While embargoed, ScholarWorks will publish only the citation and abstract.

Please choose one:

Open Access Publishing - No Embargoes

I authorize immediate open access to the electronic full text of my work.

Open Access Publishing - One year Embargo

This option is appropriate for scholars who wish to publish their work (e.g. as a journal article), who wish to pursue a patent, or who might seek to monetize their research in some other fashion.

In exceptional cases, a scholar may want to embargo his or her work for a longer time frame. If this applies to you, please contact wmu-scholarworks@wmich.edu to discuss your options.
