The Nigerian Project
The Technical College, Ibadan, Nigeria is a two year school designed to furnish that country's government with technicians and office personnel. Western Michigan University became involved in the project in 1960 when the United States Agency for International Development asked it to supervise the college.

Since that time WMU has contributed numerous specialists who serve as instructors and administrators. An important aspect of the school is the training of Nigerian students to assume the positions which it now relies on WMU to fill. Under current plans the institution should become self-sufficient by 1968.

When Western entered the project in 1960, Dr. George E. Kohrman, the Dean of the School of Applied Arts and Sciences, was the coordinator from the WMU campus. That position is now held by Mr. Donald Metz, the Assistant Dean of the School of Applied Arts and Sciences, who is also a former principal of the Technical College, Ibadan.

Job Corps

To help young men “to get a job, to keep a job, and to return to society” is the principal goal of the Job Corps program. Western Michigan University plays a vital part in fulfilling this purpose at the Fort Custer Job Corps Training Center near Battle Creek.

As a subcontractor to the United States Industries, Inc., WMU provides a staff of over fifty certified educators who are responsible for the recreation and the academic instruction given at this training center. Mathematics, reading, communication skills, social understanding, audio visual and library study are within their scope of teaching.

However, as the pictures reveal, academic training is only one aspect of the Job Corps program. These young men, and the other 1,500 participants throughout the nation, are learning a trade that will help them to break out of the cycle of poverty.

RESIDENCE HALLS
In the darkest of a misty night, bright lights guide students to a destination known as the Valley. The seclusive atmosphere of valley life is impressive to its residents because it offers an outlet to a purely academic environment. From any point within the confines of the valley, a student may see the aesthetic realities of his natural surroundings.

Valley students are familiar with the advantages of co-ed dorm life, invigorating walks, modified this year by the North Valley Transit System, and the opportunities for good times at inter-quad dances and movies. The “Little Union” has become the traditional meeting place for valley residents.

A new trend in dormitory government was initiated this year. The policy of consolidation provides for the formation of one house council for every two dorms, with the purpose of encouraging uniformity in dorm activities.

The unfamiliar finds a nook in a sprawling dorm complex. In a new educational building, an empty staircase waits to be traveled while worn paths wind to an old familiar rendezvous. Late into the night the atmosphere is quiet and peaceful, but with the awakening of a new day the atmosphere changes — the main campus comes alive as students trudge to eight o'clock classes.

The main campus resident enjoys the convenience of life within the "heart of the campus." They are within a short distance from their classes, the student center, the library, the golf course and Read Field House. They reside in a mixed atmosphere: the traditional era of excitement associated with the union and the serious complexity of education embedded in the library and educational facilities that surround them. As Mesopotamia became the region of assimilation in ancient times, so the main campus attempts to assimilate a diversified student population.

If tradition holds a campus together, then the cradle of Western’s tradition exists on the East Campus where the University was born and took its first faltering steps. Residents of the East Campus live surrounded by an ancestral atmosphere. The architecture symbolizes antiquity outdated in style, but not in spirit. Vandercook, Walwood and Spindler Halls share a common heritage and a unique place in campus life. Although East Campus dorms are few in number, small in size and remote in distance, their influence, their exuberance and their perseverance is felt in campus activities.

During the past year, Walwood continued to sponsor a variety of movies and mixers. The women of Spindler invited the men of Vandercook and Walwood to lunch and dinner, which the men of the “Hungry Halls” gratefully accepted. And then came the Homecoming spirit, which gave the three dorms an opportunity to unite their talents and ideas in the production of outstanding house displays.

Reader's Theatre, Barefoot in Athens — Maxwell Anderson
The University Theatre of the Department of Speech continues to strive for a diversified and exciting program for its audience, and a rich and rigorous one for its student participants. Both student and audience participation in this “live theatre laboratory” continue to grow. That the University Theatre staff continues to seek new ways to make human drama vital and significant to Western is reflected in these pages. “To be continued.”
Waiting for Godot — Samuel Beckett

The Time of Your Life — William Saroyan
"Happiness was Hitchin," Linus said while clutching to his famous warm blanket. Students during the raw winter winds are voicing the same complaint. But sensible Lucy made a sign to help Linus see the light. "Please Help Make W. Mich. Ave. Safe," it said. And a line of people marched to City Hall, after a costly motorcycle death, to place a death wreath on Kalama-zoo’s Safety Award. At the price of death, the hitching lines have ceased.
Buses are now in operation every ten minutes to pick up frozen red legs. With a transit system of much more efficiency than hitchhiking, the buses take students to and from their dorms to classes on both the East and West Campuses.

The Four Seasons
For the first time in three years, the Snow Festival was held with snow even though it came two weeks late. In addition to the usual Jazz Concert, Ski Day, Beard and Queen contests and dances, this year there were three races—Volkswagen, sled and women’s speed skating. Sculptures were built around the theme of “Our American Heritage.”
Western's Choice is Michigan's, too!

Western took a "look and listen" at Esther Smith, a freshman from Portage, and titled her Miss WMU. Then on she went to Muskegon in the summer and returned to campus this fall with the Miss Michigan crown. She is a vocal music major with a special interest in classical opera. It is with great pride that we present her to you here.

ATHLETICS
The intercollegiate athletic squads of Western Michigan University have brought added honor and prestige to the school this year. Their contributions in football, basketball, cross country, indoor and outdoor track, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf, and swimming have been exceptional. Students, faculty, and friends will long remember how a game football team overcame numerous injuries to record a winning season, how the basketball team managed to upset highly regarded Michigan State, and how the cross country team beat the best teams in the United States to retain their national championship. The list of laurels could go on and on. Therefore, we salute all who have worn the brown and gold so well.
Many feel that the 1965 football season began an era of winning football at Western Michigan. Molding together a veteran group of seniors with an outstanding crop of underclassmen, Doolittle produced Western's winningest ballclub, 6-2-1, since 1942.

Under the watchful eyes of Doolittle, the squad made constant improvement in every game, finishing a respectable third in the rugged Mid-American Conference. After splitting their first four games, easing by Louisville and Central Michigan while dropping conference contests to Miami and Bowling Green, the Broncos suddenly found themselves, tying Kent State before a record-breaking homecoming crowd. League foes Toledo, Marshall, and Ohio University fell before Western as did Montana to complete an exciting season.

Some of Doolittle's top performers were Bob Rowe and Marty Barski, Mid-American Conference all-star choices; Dale Livingston, who set a league record by booting six field goals in conference competition; and Ron Seifert, the MAC's leading passer. They all return next year, as does Doolittle who has captured the hearts of all Bronco fans.

Dale Livingston’s talented toe was one of the major reasons for the team’s success. The Bronco’s leading scorer, Livingston, set a WMU record with a 45-yard field goal against Marshall. (Above) Ken Nobis clears the way for sparkplug halfback Jim Long against Miami. (Right) The No. 1 passing arm in the MAC for 1965 belonged to Ron Seifert. Only a junior, brawny Bob Rowe was twice voted Mid-American Conference Lineman-of-the-Week; was selected to the All-MAC defensive unit; and was named MAC Lineman-of-the-Year for 1965. To add the finishing touches, Bob received honorable mention in the All-American polls.

Cross Country

When Western Michigan’s crack cross country team won its second straight NCAA title at the University of Kansas, it marked only the third time in history that back-to-back titles have been won by the same school.

Copping the title was a fine finish for Coach George Dales and his team. During the regular campaign the Broncos won dual meets over DePaul, Air Force Academy, Central Michigan, Northern Illinois, and Michigan State to extend WMU’s record to 43 straight dual meets in which the Broncos have not been beaten. The string started in 1957. In addition, Dales has coached eleven All-Americans since 1956. His latest, Steve Smith, finished sixth out of 162 in the rugged NCAA competition.

Closely following Smith were Wolfgang Lugauer, Ted Nelson, Gary Myers, and Roger Plont. Their total score of 81 points gave Western a wide margin of victory over Northwestern’s Big Ten champions, Tennessee, Georgetown, and Oklahoma State.

Wrestling
When you are on the bottom, there is only one way to go, and that way is up! Last year, Western's grapplers finished in last place in the Mid-American Conference and held the reputation of being push-overs. They no longer hold that title thanks to the efforts of Coach Roy Weitz who took a relatively inexperienced squad and produced a winner.

Working with only two seniors, heavyweight Don Shelton and diminutive Pat Harrington, the Broncos rolled over four rugged opponents—Notre Dame, Western Ontario, Ohio University, and Ball State—in their first five outings. Impressive among the newcomers were John McIlroy in the 123 pound class, Kim Tibbits in the 130 division, and Bob Benge at 152 pounds. Roy Aulwurm and Greg Doty, 160 and 170 pounds, also made fine team contributions.

Both Shelton and Harrington who compiled winning records over their three-year careers will be missed next year, but a young and experienced pack of Broncos will continue to move Western wrestling fortune upward.
Coach Ed Gabel discovered the formula for success many years ago and has made winning a Western swimming tradition ever since. Smoothly blending a talented crew who possessed the necessary desire with rigorous training and excellent leadership, Gabel produced another Bronco powerhouse.

This year's contingent was paced by co-captains Ron Pohlonski and John Woods. Pohlonski, one of the nation's top competitors in the freestyle distance events, and Woods who has made shambles of the school's butterfly marks, have led Bronco tankers to thirty-one dual meet victories in thirty-two tries over a three-year period.

Other top performers for the Mid-American Relays champions were freestylers Rick Barringer and Bob Lorenz; backstrokers Fred Cutler and Ron Klassen; and diver Dennis Noll. All but Noll will return next year to perpetuate the Gabel tradition.
(Above) Dennis Noll displays the form which has made him one of the M.A.C.'s top divers for the past three years by performing a two and one-half somersault. (Below) Bob Lorenz anchors the winning medley relay against Ball State as timers anxiously watch.

Unpredictable is the only word to describe Western Michigan's 1965-66 basketball season. Up when the chips were down, Don Boven's quintet managed to win the big games. And yet, the Broncos usually went sour against less formidable competition.

After dropping the season's opener to old nemesis Central Michigan, the Broncos surprised everyone by thumping Big Ten powerhouse, Michigan State. Outside of the blitz upon the Spartans at Jenison Fieldhouse, Western was very unimpressive on the road, unable to win another away game through the first two months of the season.

The campaign was a disappointment to many fans who hoped that the return of Ajac Triplett on one good leg would place Western among the Mid-American powers once again. However, the slick rebounder reinjured his leg mid-way through the year, shattering all chances of an M.A.C. title in Coach Boven's last year at the helm of the Broncos.

Sophomores Reggie Lacefield, Phil White, Tom Cook, Joe Kramer and Clarence Harville teamed with seniors John Scholten, Bob Blohm, Brian Best and Bill Coole to supply the scoring punch in the absence of Triplett.

1965 was another great year for Western Michigan track and Coach George Dales. Blessed with good talent and plenty of depth, the thinclads tasted defeat only once during the year and walked away with their eighth straight Mid-American Conference title.

Under the leadership of tri-captains Bruce Burston, Steve Kaiser and Jim Vogler, Bronco runners dominated the W.M.U., U. of M., Michigan State, and University of Chicago relays during the indoor season. In the NCAA Indoor Championships, Bruce Burston gained All-American honors by placing third in the mile.

Moving outdoors, the Broncos were equally impressive sweeping over all comers including Big Ten Champions, Michigan State. Western showed their heels to the M.A.C. by sweeping the conference meet and establishing three new records. Ron Stratton finished the high hurdles in record time of 14.4, while Ralph Stephenson won the 880 in 1:49.4. The final meet mark fell as Paul Seeley soared 14' 6½" in the pole vault.

Another Bronco winner, Dennis Holland, completed the year in fine style in the long jump by landing a spot on the All-American team, placing third in his specialty at the NCAA Championships. His best leap, however, was 26' 2½" and placed him sixth in the world during 1965.
Jim Smith, Dennis Holland, and Norm Gottlieb sweep three out of the four top places in the 220 against Michigan State and Miami. Dennis Holland, one of the world’s best in the long jump during 1965. The M.A.C.’s top hurdlers, Jim Vogler and Clay Leek.
Jet-smooth Dennis Holland nips Jim Vogler in 100-yard dash, Central State. Holland also edged Vogler as the thinclads top point producer, scoring 152½ points to Vogler’s 138½.

Once you make it to the top, it's difficult to stay there. However, Coach Hap Sorenson and his netters have been on top of the Mid-American Conference for twelve years.

Prepping for the M.A.C. title on rugged competition in the South and in the Big 10, the Broncos piled up nine wins against seven losses with the likes of Wake Forest, North Carolina, Cincinnati, and Washington of St. Louis falling along the way. The one-two tandem of Bob Gill and Mike Goodrich was unstoppable all season long.

At the M.A.C. Gill was upset in the No. 1 singles and Gill and Goodrich were surprised in the No. 1 doubles, but the inspired play of Norton Thomas, Phil Campbell, Tom Essenberg, and Tali Ripelis saved the day. Goodrich (No. 2 singles), Thomas (No. 3 singles), and Campbell (No. 4 singles) snared individual titles, while Campbell and Ripelis nabbed the No. 3 doubles crown.

With many of the same faces back for another year, Western will again be a team to be reckoned with in the M.A.C., and possibly the N.C.A.A.
The most pleasing feature of the 1965 Golf season was the tremendous improvement of the team according to Coach Dick Raklovits. Starting slowly, the linksters picked up steam, rolling to eight victories in fourteen matches.

John Seiter and Tom Milham, the No. 1 and No. 2 men played consistently averaging 73 strokes per round, and the top six men had a combined average of 75.8 strokes.

The Broncos raised many an eyebrow at the Mid-American Conference on the first day standing in second place, seven strokes behind powerful Ohio University. The Bobcats kept up their pace, but Western ran out of gas on the second day finishing fourth.

Harry Barrett, Dave Zielinski, Jan Blick, Peter Katt, Coach Dick Raklovits, Tom Milham, James Strate, Bill Mindulak, and John Seiter.
What a difference the rain makes! Just ask Coach Charley Maher’s baseball team. Ohio University nipped Western for the Mid-American Conference crown by virtue of winning two more games in league competition. Each lost one game on the Mid-Am schedule, splitting a doubleheader at Hyames Field. Any chances of catching the Bobcats were washed down the drain when a twin-bill with Bowling Green was cancelled due to rain.

On the brighter side, the Broncos compiled a 16-6 record against the best teams in the nation, defeating Michigan; Michigan State; Notre Dame; Wisconsin three times; and the N.C.A.A. number two team, Ohio State. Of course, winning the tough games is nothing new for Charley Maher who has rolled up an amazing 397-187-6 record in twenty-seven years of coaching.

The Broncos were an explosive crew paced by All-Americans Bill Guerrant and John Huizenga. Guerrant led the N.C.A.A. in batting with a lofty .467. Dave Anderson, Dave Reeves, John Stuka and Ed Staron were all formidable with the stick.

Jim Johnson and Dave Gartha headed the mound corps. Other pitching chores were handled by Charlie Kline, Eric Hall, Hal Widener, and Bill Booth.

Young Republicans

The Young Republicans Club can look back on a successful and active year. Among the various programs, the Young Republicans have sponsored such speakers as House Minority Leader Gerald Ford, Congressman Robert Griffin, Senator Thurston Morton and Governor George Romney. Among their goals have been the completion of a campus wide canvassing program and a political opinion survey. Pictured is Dr. Charles Shutz, professor at Albion College, who spoke on the topic – “Republican – a Party or Church?”
Men's Debate

The men's team has had another excellent year in debate and discussion. Individual honors in state and regional were won by Harkai, Russ, Elsner, Wallace, Gillhespy, and Poser. Western men placed third in the U. of M. tournament, second and third in the Ball State tournament, and posted impressive records in the U. of Chicago National Tournament, the U. of Illinois Chicago Circle Tournament, and the MISL Novice Tournament. Charles Poser in his first year of debate was ranked the number one novice debater in the MISL. Bob Harkai did an outstanding job in coaching the novice debaters this year.
Women’s Debate

A public international debate featuring British debaters and WMU women debaters highlighted the season. In preparation for the topic, U.S. Policy in Viet Nam, fifteen women participated in the Department of State Foreign Policy sponsored by the Mott Foundation in Flint, Michigan. During the season, fifteen women participated in twenty-two debate tournaments and two discussion conferences. Seminars with the Prosecuting Attorney, the Judge of the Juvenile Court and policemen oriented the squad to the topic of law enforcement and crime. Participation in the F.B.I. Training Conference climaxed the initial research period.
Membership in the Industrial Education Association is open to majors and minors in industrial education. An annual spring picnic and dinner-dance are their outstanding social functions. Also important is the building of a homecoming float. Their entry this year was awarded first place in its division.
American Society of Tool and Manufacturing Engineers

Plant tours of local manufacturing centers are a method used by the American Society of Tool and Manufacturing Engineers to advance the scientific knowledge of its members in their field. Technical and informative lectures by leading industrialists are also used to further this purpose.

Sigma Phi Omega

Although Sigma Phi Omega participates in many campus social activities, academic achievement is stressed by this organization of food distribution majors. Working toward a cooperation between its members and the food industry as well as developing cordial alumni relations are the fraternity's purposes.
American Marketing Association

The WMU Marketing Club goes beyond the classroom to bring the students more insight into the field of marketing. Speakers who are specialists in their field keep the club members informed of the methods used in business. The Marketing team competes with other collegiate chapters in solving marketing problems, an activity in which last year's team placed first.

Wesley Foundation's theme for the year's Sunday evening vespers series was "The Search for Truth." Truth claims of Ayn Rand's "Virtue of Selfishness," Hugh Hefner's "Playboy Philosophy," and Federico Fellini's "La Dolce Vita" (to name a few) have been set alongside the truth claims of the Christian Gospel in an effort to discover similarities and contrasts and to help each student arrive at what he can suitably accept as truth. Added to this are the fun of social events, the challenge of College Class and many other activities.

(Left) Retreats are not all planning, study and worship. (Below) Worship services at Wesley are generally very creative and something quite informal.
Western's 124-piece marching band is directed by Leonard V. Meretta and assisted by Russel Brown and Robert Davidson. The band played for home football and basketball games, homecoming activities and for other campus events. The highlight of the year took place when the band presented a concert in Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor, for the Midwestern Music Conference. For their final appearance, the band played for Commencement.

News releases about university activities, hometown stories about students and a wide variety of publications originate in this office, including the Western Michigan University Magazine.

THE OFFICE STAFF—Marcia Morris, Jim Harmala, and Linda Nemitz.
The Student Insurance Plan is an effort to provide WMU students with comprehensive health and accident coverage. An office for on-campus organization of the program is staffed by a student administrator. The plan is under-written by Connecticut General. Pictured here are first semester representative, Ben Cannon and second semester representative, Rosanne Gorman.
The new tri-semester school year forced the women of Alpha Chi Omega to condense some of their bond-tightening events such as spring house party. But the excitement of a new sorority house within the coming year encouraged the Alpha Chis to work together to raise funds in order that this dream might be a reality. The Alpha Chi Omega calendar for this year included: service to the Upjohn school for the handicapped, faculty-student seminars and contributions to Homecoming, Sorority Sing and the Spring Arts Festival.
Being small in number and founded upon the ideals of friendship are attributes of Alpha Omicron Pi. Each year the women of A O Pi take pride in presenting the Pi Kappa Rho Scholarship Cup to the sorority with the highest scholastic average for the year. In the fall the girls unite their efforts to sponsor the traditional Campus Couple Dance. A O Pi's also hold an annual doll sale with proceeds going to the Frontier Nursing Service.
Alpha Phi

Have fun, have friends, have love and have faith are all mottos of the Alpha Phi sorority. Through these the women of Alpha Phi were able to keep their strong bond of sisterhood and to become winners in many campus activities. They placed third for their homecoming float, first in Sorority Sing, high in scholarship and in the eyes of all the sisters.
Alpha Phi Alpha carries the distinction of being the first Greek Letter Fraternity to open its doors to all men. It is not only an integrated fraternity, but an international one as well. The men of Alpha Phi Alpha take pride in their increased membership, which has lead to significant contributions to campus life. As “Ambassadors of Goodwill,” they strive for goals that emphasize civic contributions and social cooperation.
Alpha Sigma Alpha

During the year, the Alpha Sigs were seen washing cars, selling candy, winning 2nd place in Sorority Sing or helping mentally retarded children. Each of these had a special significance to the women of Alpha Sigma Alpha, who strive to fulfill their goal of spiritual, intellectual and social development.
Chi Omega

This year ended on a note of success for the women of Chi Omega. Homecoming brought excitement when Chi O's float placed first and Sue Swan reigned as Homecoming Queen. The traditional Chi Omega mixer, ice cream social and Apple Polishing party for W.M.U. instructors were included in this year's calendar of activities. In conjunction with their national philanthropic project, members continued to work on the Douglas Community Center and their support of a leper.
Delta Chi

Spirit runs high among the men of Delta Chi! They feel that their participation in campus life is a responsibility that necessitates their best efforts. Grand trophy for their snow sculpture, second place in football and third place for their Homecoming house display is evidence that the Delta Chis have contributed a great deal to campus projects. Their spirit is evident socially, yet simultaneously present in civic projects like Red Cross and Muscular Dystrophy drives.
Delta Sigma Phi

One of the oldest fraternities on Western's campus, Delta Sigma Phi's goals are engineered leadership and academic responsibility. As a means to obtain these goals, some of the highlights of the Delt Sig year are high ranking in scholarship, participation in Homecoming, Snow Festival, a Sailor's Ball, interfraternity football games, and an annual book drive. French Hall was the setting for a Delt Sig Pledge Auction. The brothers have shown that they really do back up their motto, "Go Big, Go Delt Sig."

Delta Sigma Theta

Delta Sigma Theta is a Greek women's organization known nationally. There are 273 chapters. The Delta Upsilon Chapter became active on Western's campus in 1953. Delta Sigma Theta stresses service and scholarship and the girls are active in many campus activities. Their annual formal dance is called "Crimson and Creme."
Delta Upsilon

A monumental house on South Street, the status of being the oldest and only non-secret fraternity, a case filled with trophies and a mascot named "Chauncey" are the ingredients that add flavor to the life of a DU. Highlighting this year's social calendar was the DU Variety Night—a fraternity-sorority skit program in which participants compete for prizes. Grand trophies for Freshmen Carnival and for Homecoming were presented to the men of Delta Upsilon in recognition of their outstanding achievements. Complementing their social endeavors was their participation in civic projects and in leadership positions.

Delta Zeta

This past year marked the 15th anniversary of the Delta Zeta chapter at WMU, making it the oldest national sorority on campus. Their tradition of participation in all phases of campus life has been recognized by awards received at Sorority Sing, DU Variety Night and the Blood Drive. The pale pink rose and the lamp of gold symbolize the strong bond of sisterhood shared by the individuals of Delta Zeta, as it continues to grow on campus and in the hearts of each member.

Kappa Alpha Psi

The program of Kappa Alpha Psi is geared toward uniting men of culture, patriotism and honor in a bond of fraternity brotherhood. One of the most outstanding expressions of this is the Guide Right Movement, a national service program designed for the career orientation of youth.

In addition, Kappa Alpha Psi stresses scholarship through a national scholarship fund, leadership through the Undergraduate Leadership Conference, community and social responsibility through various civic projects, better graduate, undergraduate relations through advisory councils and finally a program of wholesome social activities.

Phi Mu

In an atmosphere filled with rolling dice, falling chips and shuffling cards the women of Phi Mu dressed as casino girls and entertained Western students to a night in Las Vegas. This was quite a contrast to the pleated skirts, personalized sweaters, and Mickey Mouse ears which protruded from the heads of Phi Mu participants in the Homecoming parade. The women of Phi Mu are known not solely for their versatility in high fashion, but also for their dedication to their national philanthropic project—the USS Hope—and for their contributions to Sorority Sing and D.U. Variety Night.
This was the year for the brothers of Phi Sigma Epsilon. A year in which membership rose to eighty-five strong; victories were won in athletic competitions and DU Variety Night; and recognition was gained in Fraternity Sing. It was the year that contributions were made by members of Phi Sigma Epsilon to student government, to intramural and varsity sports and to Homecoming activities. This was the year that was!

Phi Sigma Kappa

Phi Sigma Kappa participates in all campus activities. Phi Sigma Kappa's purpose is the training of its members in the arts and practices of living together socially and culturally. One of the highlights of their social calendar was a beatnik party. Aims of the fraternity are to promote brotherhood, stimulate scholarship, and to develop character.
A new coat of paint and new furnishings supplemented by hard work restored the Phi Kappa Alpha house on Walnut Street that had been damaged last year in a fire. Aside from domestic improvements, the men of Pi Kappa Alpha found time to participate in Homecoming and Snow Carnival activities; to sponsor their annual Dream Girl Ball; to entertain their Mom's on Mom's Day; and to contribute to both the Blood drive and the Muscular Dystrophy drive.
The brothers of Sigma Alpha Epsilon sponsored many activities this year. As a service to Western, SAE distributed litter barrels around campus. They are active in all campus and IFC affairs while upholding their goals of scholarship, brotherhood, and leadership. An important part of life at the fraternity house is "Schnapps," the SAE mascot.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon
In 1962, Sigma Delta was organized with the expressed purpose of becoming a chapter of Sigma Chi International Fraternity. On January 9, in an atmosphere filled with excitement and congratulations this goal was a reality – Sigma Delta became Sigma Chi. The Sigma Chis also placed third this year in all-sports competition; won both scholarship trophies; participated in Homecoming and sponsored activities at the Lakeside Boys Home.

Sigma Kappa

The women of Sigma Kappa aspire to achieve a well balanced program of social, intellectual and spiritual activities because they believe a worthwhile college career should cultivate these interests. They are proud to be first scholastically on Western campus and many of their members hold campus and dormitory offices including Mortar Board, Student Council, USCB, AWS, Alpha Lambda Delta, and Daisy Chain. Through the year they socialize with other Greek and campus organizations and participate in the Kalama-zoo United Fund Campaign.
Sigma Phi Epsilon’s goals and activities come under the headings of Scholarship, brotherhood, and social activities. To this end, the brothers strive for scholastic superiority, work for the unity of the fraternity, work on community projects, and participate in such campus activities as athletics, Fraternity Sing, Snow Festival, Freshman Carnival, Homecoming. Their snow sculpture (opposite page) won first place honors in the Greek Division, and their football team (right) won the all-campus championship.
Things were "Topsy Turvey" as usual early in the fall when the Tri Sigs sponsored their traditional dance with proceeds going to the Robin Page Memorial Fund. During the year the women of Sigma Sigma Sigma also combined their efforts in a Homecoming float and a house display; sponsored a Christmas party for underprivileged children; and entertained their dads on Dad's Day. In the spring the Tri Sigs competed in Sorority Sing — winning third place for their vocal efforts.

Sigma Tau Gamma dates back to 1913 when the Forum, forerunner to the present Sigma Tau Gamma, was founded. This was the first social organization at WMU. In the early 30's the Forum became the first local fraternity at Western, and in December of 1940, Sigma Tau Gamma became the first national fraternity on the campus. Pictured here are Sig Tau's Campus Couple entry, Exec Board (in fine form for the Phoo's Phoo contest), and D.U. Variety Night activities.
The men of Tau Kappa Epsilon were visited by a contagious disease known as Trophyitis. The symptoms of their disorder is diagnosed as follows: grand trophy for their Homecoming house display, second place in the all-sports race, Blood Trophy for the fifth consecutive year, and third place in fraternity sing. It was also noted that the men residing in the Stuart Mansion recorded high temperatures caused, in all probability, by their scholastic and leadership endeavors. Conclusive to this diagnosis is this fact: It's a great life, if you can "teke" it.
The purpose of Theta Xi is to provide a college home environment for its active members in which fellowship and alumni guidance lead to wholesome mental, moral, physical and spiritual growth. To that end, Theta Xi has actively supported and augmented college and community efforts since its founding at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, New York, on April 29, 1864. The Theta Xi social program was highlighted this year with their pledge formal, held at the Harris Motor Inn.
Zeta Beta Tau

The men of Beta Tau Colony have continued to strive for fraternal excellence under the leadership of Bill Roemer, President; Elliot Lande, Vice President; Rick Markoff, Treasurer; Bob Gatherum, Secretary. ZBT has an outstanding social program, this year highlighted by a feed-the-monkey party, beatnik party, an annual get-together with Bowling Green’s chapter of ZBT, and Spring Formal. This was complemented by outstanding contributions to both the Cancer and Blood Drives. A new addition to the ZBT family is Judy, a baby alligator.
On December 3, 1965, Delta Chi Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority was admitted to national status on Western’s Campus. The sisters of Alpha Kappa Alpha are indeed proud to have joined the more than 40,000 AKA’S in the United States and abroad. The major purpose of Alpha Kappa Alpha is to promote high quality, social and scholastic leadership. In accordance with this objective, AKA’s participate in such worthwhile projects as: Halloween parties for orphans, providing toys for children in hospitals and entertaining children in detention homes. The women of Alpha Kappa Alpha are also active in campus events including Freshman Carnival, Homecoming, and Sorority Sing.
Although relatively new to Western's campus the Gamma Theta Chapter of The Phi Kappa Tau Fraternity has grown considerably. The Phi Taus stress as their goals, a sense of leadership, brotherhood, and scholarship. They participate in all intramural sports and the brothers have membership in many campus organizations and are active in community service projects. Much time is spent in close association and they enjoy a well rounded social life.

Inter-Fraternity Council, the governing and regulating body of Westen's social fraternities, is striving for a better Greek System. The council is composed of the president and one representative from each fraternity, the executive board and sponsors. IFC establishes policies and co-ordinates activities in different areas from social to scholarship, from rush to athletics. Inter-Fraternity Council teams with Panhellenic Council in a dual sponsorship of dances, Greek Week and civic projects.
Seated: John Pate, Bill Roemer, Pat Laughlin, Tom Rivard, George Ball, Bill Rebey. Standing: Dick Pippen, Dave Guinn, Mr. Jo Serra.
Panhellenic Council

Panhellenic Council is the co-ordinating body which handles all matters affecting the sorority system, organizes fall and spring rush, and establishes all rushing rules. The Council is comprised of the president and two representatives from each sorority. Panhellenic has been re-evaluated and for the first time has elected executive officers. Panhel is striving to strengthen the Greek System by uniting all sororities with hopes of obtaining common objectives. In doing so, the university and all women will gain from responsible and efficient leadership supplied by Greek women.

GRADUATES
Senior Class Officers

Sponsoring three programs on current issues, including as a speaker a member of the state department; publishing a senior newsletter; working closely with the Alumni Office; and arranging for a fireplace to be built in the soon-to-be developed park area in Goldsworthy valley comprise the senior council's activities. Their combined efforts have produced distinct accomplishments that the Class of 1966 can honor.

Commencement, Class of 1965
Four years of higher learning endow seniors with many capabilities. The ability to print around those tiny holes in IBM cards, the knowledge that madras really does bleed (and the red tennis shoes to prove it), the patience required to make a telephone call from a dormitory, the self-restraint of a solid hour's study in the library, and the wisdom and frugality to make a five-dollar bill cover three weeks' activities assure seniors that their schooling has been fruitful. The academic training, also bestowed abilities, knowledge, and wisdom that are composed of more vital substances. From these acquisitions graduates have gained broadmindedness, tolerance, perception and understanding—the essential qualities.

CONGRATULATIONS WESTERN GRADUATES

Welcome to a new, exciting world! You stand on the threshold of the nuclear-powered age, space travel and interplanetary communication.

Today the emphasis is on education — and rightly so because education gives you special training in the art of living as well as in the art of making a living. Your college diploma is your assurance of a good start.

In planning for the future, why not make Consumers Power Company your career? Job opportunities include a broad range of skills in many areas of engineering, accounting, economics, business administration, utilization of nuclear energy, mathematics, science, and computer applications. Job security is excellent at Consumers because its services are in demand 24-hours a day, year in and year out. And as the demand for Electricity and Natural Gas grows in the years ahead, Consumers will continue to grow and offer increased opportunities for its employees.

Sincere congratulations from all of us at Consumers Power... where "C.P." stands for Continuing Progress.

and neither are the stores who sell them!

You cannot "see" the difference in diamonds... you must rely on your jeweler's knowledge and reputation for honesty. We're different from others because we've earned the title Registered Jeweler, awarded by a non-profit Society of educators and gemologists called the American Gem Society. Only a limited number of jewelers in the country hold this title, your assurance when you buy diamonds here.

Looking back . . .

My sincere thanks to the staff for lots of effort and hard work: Wayne Harrison, Jim Goss, Linda Melton, Rick Markoff, Sandy Dow, Kerry Raber, Sue Greve, Sally Johnson, Jane Randall, Sue Beebe, Mary Fagg, Allan Stamberg, Louie Kolb, Gary Robbins, Alan Icany, Sue Wiegel, Sue Perry, Larry Strauss, Liz Kemf, Connie Brown, Kiti Kershaw, Pat Kennedy, Joanne Orr, Jani Mohr, Carol Lannert, Jolene Morris, Pam Pavlik, Linda Hayner, Judy Ream, Jack Korthals, Patsy Moore, Jackie Sobie, Martha Charles, Sarah Nobles, Jane Bellanger, Carol Fisher, Jan Hensch, and Janet Brenneman; to Marlene "Cookie" Smith for the introduction copy; to Joan Reitzel for some of the Features copy; to Jim Carter for help and advice; to Carl Eerdmans, Dice VanderMolen and the Kalamazoo Gazette for photographs; to the people who didn't say, "but it's black and white?!"); to the Administration and faculty for abundant cooperation; to Dr. Ken Macrorie for his opinions; to Sandy Dow, Sue Greve, Dale Martin and Linda Melton for service above and beyond the call of duty; to Mr. Zane Cannon and his advertising class for help with the ads; to Sigma Alpha Epsilon for extra cooperation; to Sam Fields, Delma Studios; to Mr. Robert Miller, S. K. Smith Company; to Mr. Ken Hicks, Dean-Hicks Company; to Mr. Joe Freeman, our advisor; to all our advertisers for helping to support the yearbook; and special thanks to my husband, Keith, for all his help and understanding and for encouragements like, "Oh well, you can't judge a book by its cover."
