March 5, 2012: Rhetoric & Writing Studies/First Year Writing Position

Department of English

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.wmich.edu/english_blog

Part of the Creative Writing Commons, Digital Humanities Commons, English Language and Literature Commons, and the Linguistics Commons

WMU ScholarWorks Citation

This Blog is brought to you for free and open access by the English at ScholarWorks at WMU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Gleanings: Department of English Blog Archive by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks at WMU. For more information, please contact wmu-scholarworks@wmich.edu.
Monday, March 5, 2012

Rhetoric & Writing Studies/First Year Writing Position

WESTERN MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY

Assistant Professor of English – Rhetoric and Writing Studies/First Year Writing.

Major Responsibilities: Support First-Year Writing and Developmental Writing Programs; teach within Rhetoric and Writing Studies undergraduate major and English graduate programs; engage in research; provide university service.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in Rhetoric and Writing Studies or closely related area (e.g., composition studies, professional communication); a record of research and successful college teaching, including rhetoric and writing studies courses; involvement with teacher mentoring; experience with digital technologies.

Desirable: Interest in curriculum development, diversity, community writing, collaborative projects and grants, community outreach, new media.

The University: Western Michigan University is a dynamic, student-centered research university with an enrollment of 25,000. WMU is focused on delivering high-quality undergraduate instruction, advancing its growing graduate diversion and fostering significant research activities. The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching places WMU among the 76 public institutions in the nation designated as research universities with high research activity. U.S. News & World Report’s annual ranking of American colleges and universities includes WMU as one of the nation’s top-100 public universities.

Salary: Competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience, with an excellent benefits package.

Required Application Documents:
Applicants must visit WMU’s Human Resources site at http://www.wmich.edu/hr/careers-at-wmu.html to apply and submit:

- Letter of application
- Curriculum vitae
- Graduate transcripts
- Three letters of recommendation
- Summary of teaching evaluations (if available)

Send materials that cannot be submitted electronically to: Dr. Jonathan Bush, Chair, Department of English, Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, MI 49008-5331.

Western Michigan University is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer consistent with applicable federal and state law. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply.

Posted by Richard Utz at 4:22 PM No comments: 🌟
"Integrating Comics into English Studies Courses"

Hi Gang--

Please see the attached flyer announcing Dr. Gwen Tarbox's upcoming workshop on teaching comics in English Studies Courses, to be held Friday, March 16, 2012 in Brown 2037 from 1-3 p.m. This workshop promises to be especially useful as graphic selections increasingly make their way into the anthologies we use in any number of courses.

All are encouraged to attend.

Jon

Department of English
Workshop for
Faculty and Graduate Instructors
March 16, 2012
1:00-3:00 pm
2037 Brown Hall

“Integrating Comics into English Studies Courses”
Dr. Gwen Athene Tarbox

Interested in adding a graphic novel to one of your English Studies courses? This workshop will address the following topics:
• Developing a basic theoretical and pedagogical grounding in comics studies
• Selecting comics texts that work well in English Studies courses
• Creating comics-centered assignments

Posted by bethlynn at 10:50 AM