

1964

Twins

Larry Fahrner
Western Michigan University

Follow this and additional works at: <http://scholarworks.wmich.edu/calliope>

 Part of the Creative Writing Commons

Recommended Citation

Fahrner, Larry (1964) "Twins," Calliope: Vol. 12 : Iss. 1 , Article 13.
Available at: <http://scholarworks.wmich.edu/calliope/vol12/iss1/13>

This Poetry is brought to you for free and open access by the English at ScholarWorks at WMU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Calliope by an authorized editor of ScholarWorks at WMU. For more information, please contact maira.bundza@wmich.edu.

---

I heard a song sparrow and wondered why the worms never crawled away but just stayed on day after day in all that cow shit. I thought how you can pick worms, but you can't pick song sparrows.

I began to eat. After, I swung on the rope with the tire. I could only reach a certain height and then the rope would jerk and I had to slow down. Going back and forth on the rope was like traveling.

Frank and I always swung on the rope. Even though it jerked when you went too high, it was fun and like flying for a while.

Jim Sadler

Twins

---

We poisoned our father and mother,
We poisoned our sister and brother,
Then out of professional jealousy,
We cleverly poisoned each other.

Larry Fahrner