CAMPAIGN KICKOFF—Western’s United Way campaign began Oct. 8 with a kickoff for more than 100 fund raisers from various departments and areas in the Bernhard Student Center. Here, from left, Jim Hendricks, a loaned executive to United Way from Borgess Medical Group; researcher and writer with Edward J. Heising, education and professional development, Michael W. Little, physical plant, and Robert M. Heinig, campus business and finance. Heising and Bean are co-chairing the drive, while Little is in charge of the coordination for the local chapter of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees. The University’s goal is $900,000. “This year I would again like to choose 100 percent participation,” said President Haenicke in a letter to employees. “If each one of you contributes, regardless of the size of your contribution, it would mean a great deal to those in the community who benefit from our generosity. It would also serve to remind the concern and pride we have at Western for members of the Kalamazoo community.”

Speaks to CTO

Service the key to success in the ’90s, says Haenicke

Western must become a more service-oriented institution if it is to be successful in the next decade. And the University’s support staff will play a key role in achieving that goal, said President Haenicke.

Speaking to more than 100 people at a Clerical/Technical Organization meeting Oct. 8, Haenicke discussed where he thinks the University needs to go and how support staff can help it get there.

Critical areas include both stepping up recognition of the University’s support staff and making Western a more attractive place for nontraditional students.

“We have to be much more imaginative and innovative. We also have to be much more deliberate about what we are showing ourselves in the foot if we don’t do it,” he said. “We need these people more than ever.”

There are many other very fine colleges in this state,” he said.

Support staff members are important in recruitment because they often are the first point of contact for prospective students and their parents, Haenicke said. Whether they are a member of the staff or not, they should be open to handle the business and how

Haenicke said he would like various offices to decide what hours they should be open to handle the business and how

Sara Knuckles, “Blight”

Knuckles, a senior English major, was recently awarded the Nelson Algren Prize. She has offers from four New York publishers on the book.

In 1982, she had published her first book of fiction, "Blight." She has written two other books and has been a teacher, social worker, advertising copywriter, and the editor of a literary magazine.

Knuckles wrote, "I have two principles when I teach," said Dybek. "I try to encourage the individual's voice. I also try to teach people how to use the tools, and there's tremendous carry-over into real life."

Dybek has been successful with such a plan at other universities and is convinced it can work at Western.

Dybek named Distinguished Faculty Scholar

As a faculty member in English since 1973, Dr. Dybek, who recently received both the College of Arts and Sciences' Distinguished Faculty Award and the University’s highest honor to a faculty member, will be presented during the seventh annual Academic Convocation, which begins at 3 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 29, in the Dieter Center Reheal Hall. The award carries a $2,500 honorarium and an invitation to give a presentation at a Distinguished Faculty Scholar Colloquium.

Dybek’s presentation, titled “Readings from Works in Progress,” will be given at 4 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 14, in the Faculty Lounge of the Bernhard Student Center. It will be carried live on WMU-FM (101.1). Dybek’s reception will be held in the adjacent Brown and Gold Room. Both events are open to the public.

Selection criteria for the award include that, “there be a significant body of achievement, with recognition from the University and most of the achievement be accomplished as a faculty member at WMU,” said President Haenicke.

Dybek was born in Poland and grew up in Germany. He received a Ph.D. from the University of Iowa in 1972.

Dybek received an Arts Foundation of Michigan award this year, a National Endowment for the Arts Fellowship in 1983 and a Guggenheim Fellowship and a Michigan Council for the Arts Creative Writing Grant in 1985. His novels, poetry and non-fiction have been published in such magazines as the New Yorker, Atlantic Monthly, Antaeus, the Paris Review and the New American Review.

Dybek has bachelor’s, master’s and doctorate degrees from Loyola University in Chicago and a master of fine arts degree from the University of Iowa. He grew up in an ethnic neighborhood in Chicago from which many of his characters come.

Dybek has been a teacher, social worker, advertising copywriter, and the editor of a literary magazine. He has been described as a "true and rare" talent. He has written two other books, "The Good-bye Man" and "The White Angel," and has offers from four New York publishers on the book.

Dybek is often called the "vocon of his generation." He has been described as a "true and rare" talent. He has written two other books, "The Good-bye Man" and "The White Angel," and has offers from four New York publishers on the book.

Dybek's presentation, titled "Readings from Works in Progress," will be given at 4 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 14, in the Faculty Lounge of the Bernhard Student Center. It will be carried live on WMU-FM (101.1). Dybek’s reception will be held in the adjacent Brown and Gold Room. Both events are open to the public.

Selection criteria for the award include that, “there be a significant body of achievement, with recognition from the University and most of the achievement be accomplished as a faculty member at WMU,” said President Haenicke.

Dybek was born in Poland and grew up in Germany. He received a Ph.D. from the University of Iowa in 1972.
Teaching tips compiled in new booklet

Creating a better teaching environment is the goal of a new booklet distributed to faculty members at Western.

Making Connections: Tips on Teaching and Learning is the title of the publication covered by the University Retention Policy Committee. It contains tips and advice on everything from preparing course syllabi to teaching nontraditional students from Western's very own faculty members.

"Faculty play a critical role in the retention effort," said Susan B. Hannan, assistant provost for academic affairs and the coordinator of the committee. "As members of the University Retention Policy Committee made presentations in various departments, faculty suggestions were sought and considered. Many faculty members offered tips and advice that they felt were effective in communicating with students and improving course evaluation.

The tips were collected over the past year and edited by Robert M. Supnick, business information systems.

"University teaching is a high calling and one to which we are called," said Western President Karl Tomm. "We will adopt and strive for excellence in teaching throughout the University, and I support this effort to celebrate and to improve on higher standards.

"These tips are divided into several categories, ranging from 'Creating a Learning Environment' to 'Giving Feedback'. Special sections are devoted to teaching in traditional and part-time, minority, women, handicapped and international student groups.

Sample tips include: 'Learn students' preferred names and attempt to refer to students by name; in large sections, seat chairs and tables; no for nontraditional students, Western's very own faculty members.

"Faculty play a critical role in the retention effort," said Susan B. Hannan, assistant provost for academic affairs and the coordinator of the committee. "As members of the University Retention Policy Committee made presentations in various departments, faculty suggestions were sought and considered. Many faculty members offered tips and advice that they felt were effective in communicating with students and improving course evaluation.

The tips were collected over the past year and edited by Robert M. Supnick, business information systems.

"University teaching is a high calling and one to which we are called," said Western President Karl Tomm. "We will adopt and strive for excellence in teaching throughout the University, and I support this effort to celebrate and to improve on higher standards.

"These tips are divided into several categories, ranging from 'Creating a Learning Environment' to 'Giving Feedback'. Special sections are devoted to teaching in traditional and part-time, minority, women, handicapped and international student groups.

Sample tips include: 'Learn students' preferred names and attempt to refer to students by name; in large sections, seat chairs and tables; no for nontraditional students, Western's very own faculty members.

"Faculty play a critical role in the retention effort," said Susan B. Hannan, assistant provost for academic affairs and the coordinator of the committee. "As members of the University Retention Policy Committee made presentations in various departments, faculty suggestions were sought and considered. Many faculty members offered tips and advice that they felt were effective in communicating with students and improving course evaluation.

The tips were collected over the past year and edited by Robert M. Supnick, business information systems.

"University teaching is a high calling and one to which we are called," said Western President Karl Tomm. "We will adopt and strive for excellence in teaching throughout the University, and I support this effort to celebrate and to improve on higher standards.

"These tips are divided into several categories, ranging from 'Creating a Learning Environment' to 'Giving Feedback'. Special sections are devoted to teaching in traditional and part-time, minority, women, handicapped and international student groups.

Sample tips include: 'Learn students' preferred names and attempt to refer to students by name; in large sections, seat chairs and tables; no for nontraditional students, Western's very own faculty members.

"Faculty play a critical role in the retention effort," said Susan B. Hannan, assistant provost for academic affairs and the coordinator of the committee. "As members of the University Retention Policy Committee made presentations in various departments, faculty suggestions were sought and considered. Many faculty members offered tips and advice that they felt were effective in communicating with students and improving course evaluation.

The tips were collected over the past year and edited by Robert M. Supnick, business information systems.

"University teaching is a high calling and one to which we are called," said Western President Karl Tomm. "We will adopt and strive for excellence in teaching throughout the University, and I support this effort to celebrate and to improve on higher standards.

"These tips are divided into several categories, ranging from 'Creating a Learning Environment' to 'Giving Feedback'. Special sections are devoted to teaching in traditional and part-time, minority, women, handicapped and international student groups.

Sample tips include: 'Learn students' preferred names and attempt to refer to students by name; in large sections, seat chairs and tables; no for nontraditional students, Western's very own faculty members.

"Faculty play a critical role in the retention effort," said Susan B. Hannan, assistant provost for academic affairs and the coordinator of the committee. "As members of the University Retention Policy Committee made presentations in various departments, faculty suggestions were sought and considered. Many faculty members offered tips and advice that they felt were effective in communicating with students and improving course evaluation.

The tips were collected over the past year and edited by Robert M. Supnick, business information systems.

"University teaching is a high calling and one to which we are called," said Western President Karl Tomm. "We will adopt and strive for excellence in teaching throughout the University, and I support this effort to celebrate and to improve on higher standards.

"These tips are divided into several categories, ranging from 'Creating a Learning Environment' to 'Giving Feedback'. Special sections are devoted to teaching in traditional and part-time, minority, women, handicapped and international student groups.

Sample tips include: 'Learn students' preferred names and attempt to refer to students by name; in large sections, seat chairs and tables; no for nontraditional students, Western's very own faculty members.

"Faculty play a critical role in the retention effort," said Susan B. Hannan, assistant provost for academic affairs and the coordinator of the committee. "As members of the University Retention Policy Committee made presentations in various departments, faculty suggestions were sought and considered. Many faculty members offered tips and advice that they felt were effective in communicating with students and improving course evaluation.

The tips were collected over the past year and edited by Robert M. Supnick, business information systems.

"University teaching is a high calling and one to which we are called," said Western President Karl Tomm. "We will adopt and strive for excellence in teaching throughout the University, and I support this effort to celebrate and to improve on higher standards.

"These tips are divided into several categories, ranging from 'Creating a Learning Environment' to 'Giving Feedback'. Special sections are devoted to teaching in traditional and part-time, minority, women, handicapped and international student groups.

Sample tips include: 'Learn students' preferred names and attempt to refer to students by name; in large sections, seat chairs and tables; no for nontraditional students, Western's very own faculty members.

"Faculty play a critical role in the retention effort," said Susan B. Hannan, assistant provost for academic affairs and the coordinator of the committee. "As members of the University Retention Policy Committee made presentations in various departments, faculty suggestions were sought and considered. Many faculty members offered tips and advice that they felt were effective in communicating with students and improving course evaluation.

The tips were collected over the past year and edited by Robert M. Supnick, business information systems.

"University teaching is a high calling and one to which we are called," said Western President Karl Tomm. "We will adopt and strive for excellence in teaching throughout the University, and I support this effort to celebrate and to improve on higher standards.

"These tips are divided into several categories, ranging from 'Creating a Learning Environment' to 'Giving Feedback'. Special sections are devoted to teaching in traditional and part-time, minority, women, handicapped and international student groups.

Sample tips include: 'Learn students' preferred names and attempt to refer to students by name; in large sections, seat chairs and tables; no for nontraditional students, Western's very own faculty members.

"Faculty play a critical role in the retention effort," said Susan B. Hannan, assistant provost for academic affairs and the coordinator of the committee. "As members of the University Retention Policy Committee made presentations in various departments, faculty suggestions were sought and considered. Many faculty members offered tips and advice that they felt were effective in communicating with students and improving course evaluation.

The tips were collected over the past year and edited by Robert M. Supnick, business information systems.

"University teaching is a high calling and one to which we are called," said Western President Karl Tomm. "We will adopt and strive for excellence in teaching throughout the University, and I support this effort to celebrate and to improve on higher standards.

"These tips are divided into several categories, ranging from 'Creating a Learning Environment' to 'Giving Feedback'. Special sections are devoted to teaching in traditional and part-time, minority, women, handicapped and international student groups.

Sample tips include: 'Learn students' preferred names and attempt to refer to students by name; in large sections, seat chairs and tables; no for nontraditional students, Western's very own faculty members.

"Faculty play a critical role in the retention effort," said Susan B. Hannan, assistant provost for academic affairs and the coordinator of the committee. "As members of the University Retention Policy Committee made presentations in various departments, faculty suggestions were sought and considered. Many faculty members offered tips and advice that they felt were effective in communicating with students and improving course evaluation.

The tips were collected over the past year and edited by Robert M. Supnick, business information systems.

"University teaching is a high calling and one to which we are called," said Western President Karl Tomm. "We will adopt and strive for excellence in teaching throughout the University, and I support this effort to celebrate and to improve on higher standards.

"These tips are divided into several categories, ranging from 'Creating a Learning Environment' to 'Giving Feedback'. Special sections are devoted to teaching in traditional and part-time, minority, women, handicapped and international student groups.

Sample tips include: 'Learn students' preferred names and attempt to refer to students by name; in large sections, seat chairs and tables; no for nontraditional students, Western's very own faculty members.
Media services

Here is a list of newly acquired films and videotapes for use by faculty members. For more information or to book for classroom use, persons may call the AV Center in Waldorf Library at 3-1620.

Media

Lawrence Ziring, political science, discussed espionage activities between the U.S. and the Soviet Union this year on, "Our Council is 50-minute radio and television program produced by the Office of Public Information. This week's "Focus" is scheduled to air Saturday, Oct. 28, 12:30-1:00 p.m., on WKPR-AM (1420) and at 12:25 p.m. on WZKO (590).

"Newsviews Legislative Report is a 30-minute radio and television program featuring WMUK-FM news director Tony Griffin. The program will feature interviews with area legislatures, will be aired on WMUK-FM and cablecast on Kalamazoo Community Access Television during the week of Oct. 20. Updates will be provided by media services television in cooperation with WMUK-FM, the program will be played on WMUK-FM (102.1) at 12:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 20, and on Fetzer Cablevision channel 7 at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 21; 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 22; 8:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 24; and 7 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 25. Participating in the program will be State Reps. Mary Brown, Dorothy Messner, Pauline Trembley, and State Sens. Harmon Crouphey and Jack Welborn.

Retirement receptions planned for staff members

Receptions for three staff members who are retiring are scheduled for next week.

Dr. Virginia E. Norton, handicapper student services, will be honored from 4 to 6 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 25, in the Student Union Lounge of the Bernhard Administration Building. Dr. Norton is retiring and her office is unable to honor: "Nicknames---"We maintain your legal name and nickname for the files suit for personal and professional purposes and for federal wage and tax information (W-2) preparation. We cannot accept your nickname."

Correct spelling in two-part names---"Sorry, our records indicate only one single last name (so, a single first name and single middle initial). But there's good news for persons who use their first name and second name and only the initial of their first name, such as F. John Doe. Our program has been updated to accept capitalization of the second name, a capability we did not have before.

Dual names for spouses---"We have only eight positions for a spouse name. John Doe will fit, but John Doin will not, because of the space between names.

Home addresses---"Sometimes they are longer than we can accommodate and we abbreviate them as best we can. At present we do not have space for more than 3-3/4 p.m."

Building names---"We use the official three-position building abbreviations listed in the directory.

Non-bargaining titles are assigned by the University Classification and Compensation System (UCCS) and are not susceptible to change by others.

Multiple department names and/ or telephone numbers---"Our capacity is limited to one for each person.

Specific unit names---"We maintain general department names for postal delivery purposes; therefore we prefer not to list small units. We generate a large number of campus labels for mailing from our files."

Trembley wishes to stress that careful security is exercised over who has access to information maintained in personnel files. Both state and federal laws exist regarding employment, help you secure your security, and University policy covers accessibility regulation. For further information, Trembley is Kris Olsen, records coordinator, Billie Blake, senior clerk, and Linda Tender and Valerie Long, secretaries.

Senate

The Graduate Studies Council of the Faculty Senate will meet at 3 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 26, in the Student Union Lounge of the Bernhard Administration Building. Agenda items include a discussion of the academic integrity policy and an introduction of a review of 1976 assumptions regarding graduate education at Western.

Zest for life

Any job, whether it is sitting at a desk, driving a truck or standing behind a counter, can cause the "creeping tension" syndrome. Little by little, some part of your body tightens and tensions until tension has crept into the muscles and has caused such reactions as a headache or backache. Many times you don't realize the amount of tension that exists in certain muscle groups until you take a good stretch.

Try the following quick tension releasing techniques:

1. Slow your shoulders forward five times.
2. Squeeze your eyes shut, and then open them as wide as you can. Relax your eyes by looking away at something in the distance.
3. Breathe deeply and then a bit more deeply. Hold it and slowly exhale. Repeat this deep, slow breathing several times.
4. Stretch your legs and tense the muscles, then relax them. Do the same with your arms.
5. If you can leave your work station, take a walk away from your tension. Even walking up one flight of stairs and down the other instead of standing with a cup of coffee helps you to quell your anxiety.

Try to release muscular tension as it occurs helps lower stress levels. Perhaps you can't walk away from your stresses, but you can learn ways to try to become more relaxed. A more relaxed perspective helps potentially disastrous problems become more manageable.

HELP AVAILABLE---Students are available for advice on any problem, whether it involves getting a job, deciding on a career, or any other job. Contact the Student Employment Referral Service at 3-1490.

For Sale---1979 Olds Cutlass Supreme. 73,000 miles, p.s., p.b., cruise, air defrost, super clean, $2,500. Call 315-4658.
October 16, 1986

Western News

Calendar

October 16

Thursday

(thur 18) Homecoming "36, "Broncos on Broadway." Employee vehicle registration, Sangam Hall lobby, 9-11:30 a.m.; Wood Hall lobby, 1-4 p.m.

(thur 22) Contemporary Basketry Invitational, Gallery II, Sisgen Hall, 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

Meeting, Graduate Studies Council of the Faculty Senate, Conference Room A, S Eroten Administration Building, 3 p.m.

Opening of student-faculty members, Rooms A and B, Bernhard Student Center, 3-5 p.m.

Debate Night: Koch vs. Fred Upton, candidates for the 4th Congressional District, 2020 Friedmann Hall, 3 p.m.

Anton Group meeting, "The Concept of Multiple Intelligence: An Introduction as Delphi, Kansas social science 108 floor lounge, Speaker Tower, 3:30 p.m.; refreshments, 3:15 p.m.

Certification seminar concluded by Business Week's Guide to Careers magazine, West Ballroom, Bernhard Student Center, 3:30 p.m.

Mathematics and statistics colloquium, "Some Surprising But Elementary Approximations," Professor Francis, Michigan State University, Commons room, sixth floor, Everett Tower, 4:10 p.m.; refreshments, 3:45 p.m.

Film, "Norma Rae," 2750 Knaus Hall, 4:15 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Homecoming "76, Waldo Student Center, 6:30 p.m.

* (Thursdays thru Oct. 30) Conference, "Alive and Aware," Lindsay South, Center for Women's Services, CWSS conference room, third floor, Ellsworth Hall, 10 a.m.

* (and 23, Nov. 6, 11) Project EXCITE workshops, "Introduction to Desktop Publishing," prerequisite "Introduction to Macintosh," or equivalent knowledge of Macintosh computer graphics, word processing and electronic publishing.

Cornelius Low Lecture in Medieval Studies, "The Romans in Germany," Helmut Benda, University of Passau, Germany, 2020 Fetzer Center, 8 p.m.

Friday/17

"Journalism Day," Bernhard Student Center, all day.

Employee vehicle registration, Brown Hall lobby, 8-11:30 a.m.; Kohrman Hall lobby, 1-4 p.m.

Meeting, Budget and Finance Committee of the Board of Trustees, Board Room, Bernhard Student Center, 8 a.m.

Meeting, Academic and Student Affairs Committee of the Board of Trustees, 204 Bernhard Student Center, 9 a.m.

Meeting, Board of Trustees, Board Room, Bernhard Student Center, 10 a.m.

Homecoming, Freret Fest, Goldwater Valley intramural fields, 1 p.m.; Soap Boogie, Ramsey Hall, 7 p.m.

Reception for faculty and staff members sponsored by President Hamncke and the Board of Trustees, Bernhard Student Center, 2:30-4:30 p.m.

15th anniversary open house, Sara Swickard Pavilion, 1211 Knoddy, 3:30 p.m.

Talking About Teaching Discussion, "Learning to Write vs. Writing to Learn—Howard Gardner, Professor of Cognitive Development, Harvard University, Common, Casley, Intellectual Skills Development Program, Honoros College, Lounge 3, 10th floor, 3 p.m.

Psychology colloquium, "Magical Misdirection in the Ways We Talk," Philip Hilinine, psychology, Temple University, Kivra room, Faunice Student Services, 10th floor, 4 p.m.

Reception, faculty art show, Dalton Center Multi-Media Room, Dalton Center, 6-8 p.m.

* Reunion dinner, Class of 1961, Fetzer Center, 7 p.m.

Saturday/18

* Homecoming reception for returning alumni and guests, second floor, Bernhard Student Center, 9:30 a.m.; "Indoor Tailgait," reception, East Ballroom, Bernhard Student Center, 10 a.m.; "Champagne Brunch," East Ballroom, Bernhard Student Center, 11:45 a.m.-noon.

* (thru 30) Faculty art show, Dalton Center Multi-Media Room, Mon.-Fri., 10 a.m.-5 p.m.; Tue., 25, 10 a.m.-p.m.

* Football (Homecoming), WMU vs. Miami, Walsh Student Center, 12:15 p.m.

* Distinguished Alumni Awards dinner, Fetzer Center, 6 p.m.

* Student dance. West Disdinaui•ed Alumni Award dinner, Fctttt Ccn1cr, 7-9 p.m.

* Board of Trustees, Board Room, Bernhard Student Center, 10 a.m.

* (and 22) Project EXCITE workshops, "Introduction to Apple Macintosh Computer," or equivalent knowledge of Macintosh computer graphics, word processing and electronic publishing.

* (and 22) Project EXCITE workshops, "Introduction to Apple Macintosh Computer," 102 Maybell Hall, 11 a.m.-p.m.

* Center for Women's Services workshop, "Barnstorm: Ways to Recover," Lynne Becker and Sara Sue Shaffer-Almidon, Room A, Bernhard Student Center, 6:30-8:30 p.m.

* Student Entertainment Committee concert "The Call," South Ballroom, Bernhard Student Center, 8-10 p.m.

Monday/20

Employee vehicle registration, Kohrman Hall lobby, 8-11:30 a.m.; Brown Hall lobby, 1-4 p.m.

Project EXCITE workshop, "Introduction to Desktop Publishing," 102 Maybell Hall, 9:30 a.m.; "Introduction to Macintosh," or equivalent knowledge of Macintosh computer graphics, word processing and electronic publishing.

* Project EXCITE workshops, "Introduction to Apple Macintosh Computer," 102 Maybell Hall, 11 a.m.-p.m.

Evaluation Lecture Series, "Latins in the 1st Century BC," Charles Trinkaus, University of Notre Dame, 10th floor, 1-2 p.m.

* "The Case for Economic Sanctions," 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.; documentary and discussion, "The Case for Divestment," 2:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.; all in 2750 Knaus Hall.

* Project EXCITE workshop, "Introduction to Apple Macintosh Computer," 102 Maybell Hall, 9:30 a.m.; "Introduction to Desktop Publishing," 102 Maybell Hall, 9:30 a.m.; "Introduction to Apple Macintosh Computer," 102 Maybell Hall, 9:30 a.m.

* Volleyball, WMU vs. Michigan, Fieldhouse, 7-30 p.m.

* Concert, Eric Clapton, Detroit Symphony, 7:30 p.m.

* Musical, "Tap Dance Kid," Miller Audition room, 8 p.m.

* Dalton Series, tenor Jeffrey Stamm, Dalton Center Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

* (and 29, Nov, 12) Project EXCITE workshops, "Introduction to Apple He Micr-ocomputer," 109 Maybell Hall, 9-11 a.m.

* Faculty workshop, "Preparation of Slide/Tape Programs," Media Lab, 3102 San-n Hall, 11 a.m.

* World Awareness Fair for Freedom in South Africa; documentary and discussion, "The Case for Divestment," noon, 3:30 and 7:30 p.m.; documentary and discussion, "The Case for Economic Sanctions," 3 p.m.; all in 2750 Knaus Hall.

* Documentary interview training workshop; prerequisite, "Introduction to Interviewing" workshop; advanced registration required, placement services, first floor, Bishop Hall, 6-8 p.m.

* Retirement reception for Charles E. Streub, student activities, and Virginia E. Norton, handicap student services, Fetzer Center, 4-6 p.m.

* Student evening, Department of Dance, Dalton Center Dance Studio, 5 p.m.

* "Creating Effective Resumes and Letters," placement services, first floor, Bishop Hall, 6:30-8 p.m.; advanced registration recommended.

* (Wednesdays thru Nov. 19) Workshop, "Search," Karolyn Kaeser, Center for Women's Services, Red Room C, Bernhard Student Center, 7 p.m.

* Visitor Orientation, "The Tag in TV: Television and American Society," J. Fred MacDonald, history, Northeastern Illinois University, Chicago, and curator, Museum of Broadcast Communications, 2750 Knaus Hall, 8 p.m.

* "John the Apostle." York Arena Theater, 8 p.m.; post-show discussions after each performance.

* (and 29) Project EXCITE workshops, "Introduction to Apple Macintosh Computer," 102 Maybell Hall, 9:30 a.m.; "Introduction to Desktop Publishing," 102 Maybell Hall, 9:30 a.m.; "Introduction to Macintosh," or equivalent knowledge of Macintosh computer graphics, word processing and electronic publishing.

* (and 22) Project EXCITE workshops, "Introduction to Apple Macintosh Computer," 102 Maybell Hall, 11 a.m.-p.m.

* Evaluation Lecture Series, "Intelligence of NSF on Science Curriculum," George G. Mallon, Illinois Education, B-429 Ellsworth Hall, noon-1 p.m.

* "Center for Women's Services workshop, "Barnstorm: Ways to Recover," Lynne Becker and Sara Sue Shaffer-Almidon, Room A, Bernhard Student Center, 6:30-8:30 p.m.

* Student Entertainment Committee concert "The Call," South Ballroom, Bernhard Student Center, 7:30 p.m.

* Admission charge.

Images of Guatemala—About 2,000 students from area schools were among those who toured the exhibit "Images of Guatemala" Oct. 3-10 in the Dalton Center on the campus of Western Michigan University. Students viewed an Indian market scene, a gallery of photographs on Guatemalan people and a presentation with 24 slide projectors and a movie projector. Left, left, Michael Buxton, Honors College, shows some of the textiles to Kamozano South Junior High School students Jeml Starke, Yahkela Brown and Yorgo Denetropakos. The production was the work of a team of faculty and staff members and students who visited Guatemala in 1984. The exhibit was sponsored by the Department of Geography, the Office of International Education and Programs, the Honors College and the Latin American Studies Program.

Media services wins two cable television awards

Two video projects produced by Western's media services have won top honors in the 1986 Philo T. Farnsworth video competition.

A series of sports programs and a documentary took first place in their categories for the awards made by the Central States Region of the National Federation of Local Cable Programmers at its recent convention in Columbus, Ohio.

"Bronco Football '85," a series of 13 half-hour shows about WMU's football team, was one of seven cable systems and two broadcast stations. It was produced and directed by Harvey Stewart, media services, and Steven M. Balke, formerly sports information.

"Steven Hansen: Papier Mache Sculpture" was a documentary profile of the Kamozano-based artist whose work is now sought and displayed to a growing audience across the country. Mark Spink, media services, was the producer.

Media services was responsible for nearly one hundred cablecasts on community channels across Michigan last year.