Reflecting on 30 years of service

Western is bigger and better, says Denenfeld

Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs Philip Denenfeld looked backward over 30 years of service to the University at Western's seventh annual Academic Convocation Oct. 29. He called it "30: Personal Reflections." And he looked forward.

"We are a community, above all, where our words and blemishes, where and how we have fallen short and could be better," he told an audience of colleagues in the Dalton Center Recital Hall.

"We have fallen short and could be understood the strong base on which we can build our future.

Denenfeld will retire Dec. 31, come to Western from Northwestern University in 1956 as a member of the faculty in the Department of English. He would complete a doctorate degree in English literature from Northwestern in 1957. He has since served as acting president, provost and vice president, acting vice president and associate vice president for academic affairs; and associate vice president and vice president, vice president, and associate vice president for academic affairs. He has served as acting president; provost and vice president, and associate vice president for academic affairs plans to retire Dec. 31.

REFLECTING ON 30 YEARS—Looking back over 30 years of service to the University at the Academic Convocation Oct. 29, Philip Denenfeld said his experiences have given him "a pretty sound notion of just how good we are. It seems to me very important that we all know that, and understand the strong base on which we can build our future."

"When I first came to Western, the faculty used to complain that their students couldn't read, write, or punctuate. Today's faculty—on their bad days, and not having been introduced to one of our Medallion Scholars—sound that same alarm." (Continued on page four)

Denenfeld reception Friday

All faculty and staff members are invited to attend a reception honoring Philip Denenfeld, provost and vice president for academic affairs, on his retirement. The event is scheduled for 2 to 5 p.m., Friday, Nov. 7, in the West Ballroom of the Bernhard Student Center (changed from the Red Rooms).

Denenfeld will retire Dec. 31, after 30 years of service at the University.

Only $7,138 to go for United Way drive

As of Nov. 4, with only two days remaining in the official WMU campaign, United Way contributions were $7,138 short of the $90,000 goal.

Responses received from 1,249 employees and 94 emeriti and friends of Western totaled $82,842. That figure is 92.1 percent of the University's goal.

In the words of President Haenicke, "... All of us benefit immeasurably from assistance provided by United Way; one in three Kalamazoo County residents will probably use a United Way service in any given year. If each of us contributes, regardless of the size of the contribution, it would mean a great deal to agencies that provide important benefits to the ill, aged, home- less, handicapped and the young... . It underscores the concern and pride we have at Western for members of the Kalamazoo community... ."

Co-chairspersons Robert M. Beam, vice president for business and finance, and Edward J. Hering, education and professional development, emphasize that donations, or pledges by payroll deduction or United Way billing, will continue to be accepted. Please remember to send contributions to the Office of the Vice President for Business and Finance.

Specialist in human ecology to speak on resource management as visiting scholar

Emilio F. Moran, chairperson of the Department of Anthropology at Indiana University, will speak at Western Wednesday and Thursday, November 22 and 23, as part of the Visiting Scholars Program. Moran is the specialist in human ecology, tropical agriculture and rural development, and his first address at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in 3750 Knauss Hall.

The time for the Monday, Nov. 10, talk by noted Irish author, diplomat and journalist, Mr. O'Brien has been changed. The event will be at 10 a.m. rather than 7:30 a.m., as stated in last week's Western News.

The title of his talk will be "World Trouble Spots: Northern Ireland, the Middle East and South Africa." It will take place in the political science library, 5200 Friedsam Hall.

O'Brien also will speak at 8 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 1, at the Light Fine Arts Building at Kalamazoo College. He will speak on the conflict between the Jews and Arabs in the Middle East.

His visit is being sponsored by Kalamazoo College, the Kalamazoo Jewish Federation and these WMU units: the Institute of Government and Politics; the Office of the Vice President for Student Services; and the Honors College.

Vice presidential search on Senate agenda tonight

A report on the search for a replacement for Philip Denenfeld, provost and vice president for academic affairs, on the agenda for the Faculty Senate meeting scheduled for 7 p.m., Nov. 6, in 1008 Trimpe Distributive Education Building.

Information on Grand Valley State College, Grand Rapids and the University and on the WMU Community Ambassadors Corps also will be presented. In addition, there will be a recommendation on the plans for some master plan project and elections for three councils.

HONORED AT CONVOCATION—Among those honored at the seventh annual Academic Convocation Oct. 29 were the recipients of Alumni Teaching Excellence Awards and the Distinguished Faculty Scholar Award. Teaching award winners pictured above with Richard G. Carson, right, president of the WMU Alumni Association, are, from left, Ray Olson, political science; Shirley Chy Scott, English; Gilbert R. Hutchings, engineering; Distinguished Faculty Scholar Stuart J. Dybek, English, pictured below, second from left, with: Philip Denenfeld, left, provost and vice president for academic affairs; Trustee Carol A. Wackiem, left, second from right; and President Haenicke, right.

The talk will focus on mineral development and land settlement in the Amazon basin. Moran will propose research and policy agendas to prevent the destruction of the largest rain forest in the world.

Moran will present a paper titled "Adaptation and Maladjustment in Newly Settled Areas" at 2:30 p.m. Thursday in 0116 Moore Hall. He will compare current humid tropic settlement with earlier settlement in North America, in which there were significant changes in the last of (these past) three decades, another significant change occurred," Denenfeld said. "But, again, it had all begun in the mid-50s.

"What does all this mean?" he asked. "It is clear that we are bigger, have more buildings, more students, more faculty, more everything. But bigger is not necessarily better. Are we a better institution after 30 years? Has there been progress?"

Like a "smart administrator," he gave two kinds of answers, one "a bit frivolous, but not without some point" and the other appropriately grave and serious. Both are personal views, which, after 30 years, is my privilege."

In examining the "frivolous," Denenfeld noticed that "the old and the new, in some respects, seemed in retrospect not at all different."

"During my second year on the faculty, we had a payless payday... . This year, though we did pay everybody, we have a million-dollar deficit."

"When I first came to Western, the faculty used to complain that their students couldn't read, write, or punctuate. Today's faculty—on their bad days, and not having been introduced to one of our Medallion Scholars—sound that same alarm."

Time changed for O'Brien speech

The time for the Monday, Nov. 10, talk by noted Irish author, diplomat and journalist, Sir John O'Brien has been changed. The event will be at 10 a.m. rather than 7:30 a.m., as stated in last week's Western News.

The title of his talk will be "World Trouble Spots: Northern Ireland, the Middle East and South Africa." It will take place in the political science library, 5200 Friedsam Hall.

O'Brien also will speak at 8 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 1, at the Light Fine Arts Building at Kalamazoo College. He will speak on the conflict between the Jews and Arabs in the Middle East.

His visit is being sponsored by Kalamazoo College, the Kalamazoo Jewish Federation and these WMU units: the Institute of Government and Politics; the Office of the Vice President for Student Services; and the Honors College.
Many countries and states represented in fall on-campus enrollment figures

Students from 66 foreign countries, 47 states and 82 Michigan counties are attending Western this fall. According to figures compiled by the Office of the Registrar, Records and Registration, there are 1,072 international students on campus. That figure is about 5.4 percent of the University's total on-campus enrollment of 19,192. The number of countries represented is up by two over last year, while the number of students represented is down by two.

Western's total fall enrollment, including 2,555 continuing education students, is 21,747, up 3.7 percent over last fall's total of 20,963.

The top three foreign countries represented at Western this fall are Malaysia with 64; Thailand with 67; and Nigeria with 56.

Students from all states except Alabama, Delaware, Hawaii, the District of Columbia and Western's on-campus population. The three states with the highest number of students are Ohio with 374; Michigan with 183; and Ohio with 73.

A total of 14 states-of-students are enrolled, composing 5 percent of the total on-campus enrollment. All Michigan counties except Luce in the Upper Peninsula are represented in the on-campus enrollment. The total number of WMU students is 4,356; Wayne and 566; and Oakland with 1,392.

Michigan students on campus number 17,169 this fall. That figure is 89.5 percent of the total students on campus.

Alumni group to 'go Hawaiian'

Alumni and friends of the University will have a chance to get away to lush, tropical beaches on a Hawaiian holiday March 25 through April 3. The trip is being sponsored by the WMU Alumni Association. Participants will tour the islands of Oahu, Maui and Kauai. They will spend three nights in Waikiki relaxing at the Sheraton Waikiki Hotel and touring the city of Honolulu.

The next stop is Kauai. Participants will tour the Waialua River and cruise to the Fern Grotto. Accommodations in Kauai will be provided by the Sheraton Coconut Beach Hotel.

Finally, participants will spend three nights at the Kahala Beach, where they will be guests for a beach vacation. Participants who stay in Maui also will include a tour of the Iao Valley and the Maui Ocean Center.

Prices are: $1,499 per person, triple occupancy; $1,499 per person, double occupancy. Special places include inter-island airfare and roundtrip airfare from Grand Rapids, Chicago or Detroit.

Limited space is still available. For more information on this trip contact the Office of Alumni Relations at 3-6160.

Woman researcher conference set for Nov. 14

Almost 30 researchers from across the country will give presentations Friday, Nov. 14, at the seventh annual conference "Women in Research Skills" at Western. The conference will run from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the University Center.

The event is designed to respond to the needs of academics, researchers and graduate students who are interested in the issues and problems of women researchers. It provides a special forum for beginning researchers to get expertly published women researchers and allow these to serve as models for novice researchers.

This year's program will feature a special presentation by Dr. June K. Wilson, professor of psychology at the University of Michigan, and who chairs the Women's Studies Program in Ann Arbor.

Among the presentations to be made in concurrent sessions during the Friday conference are "Committing Marriages, A Growing Trend in the United States," "Research Skills:" "Futuring the School: The Paralyzing Effect: The Future Classroom," and "Pastoral Care: The Paralyzing Effect: Professional Entrepreneurship." The workshop will end with a luncheon from 12:15 to 1:45 p.m. with Candace Anderson, grant administrator, historical researcher, composer and creative performer, from Kalmaroo. She will present a spoken and musical commentary on "Who Will Be the Woman Changer" at Western.

Registration for the conference is $35, or $15 for students and senior citizens. That registration fee includes two meals, lunch and two speakers, coffee, breaks, the luncheon and a reception.

Contact the Office of Alumni Relations at 3-6160.

Runners interested in one last race before the snow flies should plan to enter the "Sara Swickard Memorial Run" at 9 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 15, at the preschool, 1211 Knochwood.

The race is designed as a fundraiser for the preschool, which is celebrating its 15th anniversary this year.

The three-mile event will start and finish at the preschool. The course will be entirely on campus.

Registration is $5, to be awarded to the overall male and female winners. Long-sleeved t-shirts will be awarded to a several age group winners, depending on how many entrants there are in each group. All entrants will receive a "Sara Swickard Memorial Run" logo, which is available for sale. A limited number of leftover t-shirts will be available for $5 each.

Limited space is still available. For more information on this trip contact the Office of Alumni Relations at 3-6160.
Student directory by ZIP code available

Copies of the 1986-87 student directory that include the addresses of students by ZIP code are available for reference at several campus locations.

The locations are: the student activities area of Faunce; the main lobby of Waldo Library; the business library's Campus Bookstore; the main desk of Eicher-LeFevre residence halls; and the lobby of the Office of Admissions in Seiber Administration Building.

Casting conference here

Western will be the host site for an international conference on metal casting, titled "Advanced Casting Technology: International Conference and Exposition," Wednesday through Friday, Nov. 14, at the Fetzer Center.

About 250 persons are expected to attend the conference, which is designed to train those in the field of casting with the latest techniques and technologies in ferrous (iron) and non-ferrous castings and the changing business pattern of the casting industry worldwide.

The event is sponsored by the department of engineering and technology, mechanical and the Metal Casting Technology Committee of the American Society for Metals.

Retirements approved

The retirements of one faculty member and three staff members were approved by the Board of Trustees Oct. 17.

Roger L. Wallace, management, will retire with the fluc- tuous status Dec. 31, 1986. Wallace, a member of Western since 1966, is a member of the faculty.

For information of these staff members, along with their years of service and effective dates also were approved. Wimia B. R Украин, social work, is a member of the faculty. Ronald T. Burke, Davis Hall food service, will retire with the fluctuous status Dec. 31, 1986. Burke, a member of the faculty, is a member of the faculty.

The retirements were recommended by the Board of Trustees. Their recommendations for approval by the Board were made at its regular meeting Oct. 17.

Zest for Life

"Stress and Conflict—Coping and Conquering," a five-session workshop, will be conducted from 5 to 7 p.m. Tuesdays, Nov. 11 and 18, and Thursday, Nov. 21, at the 3110 Alumni Office.

The workshop will focus on helping participants identify personal sources of stress and develop strategies for controlling stress in their lives.

Excessive demands, loss of control and lack of predictability all contribute to unhealthy stress in our personal lives and in our work lives. We become fatigued, anxious, irritable, with a lack of self-confidence, creativity, the ability to think clearly and personal relationships. It contributes to low self-esteem and lowers resistance to infection and disease, and plays a significant role in many physical illnesses.

Fortunately, we can escape stress—but how we perceive and deal with it can become a lifelong habit. To register for the workshop, call the Zest for Life office at 3-6004.

Personnel

Noon hour film series premiers Nov. 11

Three changes in the personnel department's noon hour film series Tuesday, Nov. 11 in the R. R. H Alter Student Center.

All Western employees are invited to attend these presentations for informational purposes. Beginning Nov. 11 and continuing through the lunch hour of each Tuesday, the series is designed to individualize and diversify the noon hour or lunch information. The films have been selected to reflect a variety of topics that may have immediate interest or concern to the employees.

A discussion of this presentation will be led by Stanley W. Kelley, employee relations and personnel. "In Search of Excellence" will be the feature Wednesday, Dec. 17, when additional segments will be screened.

The "directory is provided as a service to students who may wish to identify other students or businesses here at Western and within the areas of their state or elsewhere," said Thomas E. Coyle, vice president for stu- dents.

The directory is provided by the Division of Student Services and the Office of the Ad- missions.

Board approves new Alumni Association bylaws

The Board of Trustees Oct. 17 approved a revision of Western University's Alumni Association bylaws.

Major concerns seeking changed Board authorization and more clearly defining the rules of the association's chapters and con- cerned societies.

The purpose of the association, according to the new bylaws, "is to organize Western University's graduates and former students, to develop and encourage their continued association with the University and to sponsor programs for the welfare, benefit and bet- terment of the University, its faculty, students and alumni."

As the association exists to serve the University's alumni, approval of the bylaws from the University's governing body was sought.

Notes

Denny H. Thompson, social work, issued a roundtable discussion on guardianship services at the 17th Governor's Conference on Aging in Illinois. The conference, which took place in a workshop on "Community Re- sources—Valuable Links in the Chain," was attended by Edward J. Pawlak, social work, presented a day-long workshop for the society, LeFevre residence Legal Aid Bureau. The workshop was conducted by management and staff in the Kalamazoo Department of Social Services at the University.

The summary issue of Reading Horizons con- tains an article on "Family Education Development and Rosa Lloyd. The research was based on the following informal discussions with a small number of high school students talking about their experiences as teachers and how they can make a better tomorrow. The article was written while gathering information for a larger study that was supported by a grant from the Faculty Research Fund.

Alan D. Peling, psychology, has published a paper in the Journal of the American Psychological Association which appeared in the December 1985 issue of the Psychological Bulletin. The paper included the results of an experimental study of the effect of Antisocial Behavior in an External Artificial Intelligence system. The paper was presented at the Conference on the Future of Artificial Intelligence which took place in the Journal of Advanced Research in Artificial Intelligence in New York.

John W. Bensen, languages and linguistics, presented a paper at the annual meeting of the Association of American University Professors in Bogota, Colombia. The paper was titled, "Narration in Spanish: An Example of Interpersonal Communication: The Case of David Sanchez-Juliano." He also wrote a paper on "Prose Iga, Pura, Universidad de David Sanchez-Juliano" which was published in Chasqui.

Owen R. Bishop and languages and linguistics, presented a paper at the Annual Meeting of the American Psychological Society, San Francisco, Calif., during the annual meeting of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish in Portugal and in Madrid, Spain.

Jorge M. Festin, languages and linguistics, presented a paper at the Conference on the Society of Hispanic American, San Diego, Calif., in November.

Peloza, and languages and linguistics, presented a paper at the Conference on the Society of Hispanic American, San Diego, Calif., in November.

The purpose of the association is to provide support services and to foster the professional development of the Behavioral Sciences in the University. The group's purpose is to provide support services and to foster the professional development of the Behavioral Sciences in the University.

Michael J. Matthews, public information, is working on a program of on-line correspondence for the University. Matthews is working on a program of on-line correspondence for the University.

Two news items which have appeared in the most complete magazine. He is the author of the most complete history of the University. Matthews is working on a program of on-line correspondence for the University.

The group's purpose is to provide support services and to foster the professional development of the Behavioral Sciences in the University.

Two news items which have appeared in the most complete magazine. He is the author of the most complete history of the University. Matthews is working on a program of on-line correspondence for the University.

The group's purpose is to provide support services and to foster the professional development of the Behavioral Sciences in the University.

Two news items which have appeared in the most complete magazine. He is the author of the most complete history of the University. Matthews is working on a program of on-line correspondence for the University.

The group's purpose is to provide support services and to foster the professional development of the Behavioral Sciences in the University.

Two news items which have appeared in the most complete magazine. He is the author of the most complete history of the University. Matthews is working on a program of on-line correspondence for the University.

The group's purpose is to provide support services and to foster the professional development of the Behavioral Sciences in the University.

Western provides two audio news pro- grams to radio stations throughout Michigan. The programs, titled "Focus" and "News Call," are produced by staff in the news service of the Office of Public Infor- mation.

"Focus" is a monthly feature program that contains four or five interviews with faculty and staff members at Western. Each interview is about five minutes in length and addresses a timely topic or con- cern of widespread interest. "Focus" is dis- tributed to more than 100 radio stations across the state.

"News Call" is a radio news program that contains a one-minute story and three comments from a faculty or staff member on a timely event. Each "News Call" is offered to more than 45 radio stations across the state.

An address to the National Press Club by M. Peter McPherson, head of the U.S. State Department, has been broadcast on a 1972 MBA graduate of the University, will be aired live on community access television Wednesday, Nov. 12. The ad- dress, titled "Future Directions in Foreign Aid," begins at 7 p.m. on Channel 9, available to subscribers of Fetzer Cable Vi- sion. It is being received by satellite from C-SPAN and broadcast on the University's public-affairs satellite television service.

The Research Policies Committee of the Faculty Senate will meet at 3 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 6, in Conference Room A of Seiber Administration Building. Agen- d items include discussions on the faculty travel fund and on animal care policies.

The Undergraduate Studies Council of the Faculty Senate will meet at 3 p.m. Tues- day, Nov. 11, in Conference Room A of Seiber Administration Building. Agenda items include a report on the selection of the Undergraduate Studies Council's annual literature requirement and a report on the baccalaureate-level writing requirement.
Calendar

NOVEMBER 6, 1986  Western News

THURSDAY

(thur 3) Exhibition, "Works on Paper 1956-1986." Will Petersen, master printer, Gallery II, Sangren Hall; Nov. 6, slide lecture, Dalton Center Recltal Hall, 7 p.m. and reception, Dalton Center Green Room, 8 p.m.

(thur 4) Exhibition, "Gary Latchis," Gary Latchis, Project EXCITE workshops, "Introduction to AppleWorks-II," 109 Maybee Hall, 9 a.m.-11 a.m.; prerequisite: literacy workshop or previous experience using microcomputers.

Planning for Retirement seminar, "Financial Planning," Jerry Hoover and Laura Price, First Federal Savings and Loan, 204 Bernhard Student Center, 1-3 p.m. (and 13, 18, 20) Project EXCITE workshops, "Introduction to Macintosh

Meeting for Glade Wilcox, emeritus in electrical engineering, Kaney Chapel, 3:15 p.m.

Meeting, Research Policies Council of the Faculty Senate, Conference Room A, Seiber Administration Building, 3 p.m.

Mathematics and Statistics colloquium, "The First Course in Statistical Methods," sixth floor, Everett Tower, 4:10 p.m.; refreshments, 4:35 p.m.

Film, "Research lecture," 59 knox Hall, 4:15 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Tuesdays and Thursdays thru Nov. 18) Quit for Life-Stop Smoking Program, 3270 Sincinicus Health Center, 6-8 p.m.

(thur 13) Project EXCITE workshops, "Introduction to Desktop Publishing," 102 Maybee Hall, 7-9 p.m.; prerequisite: "Introduction to Macintosh" or equivalent knowledge of Macintosh computer graphics, word processing and electronic printing.

Meeting, Faculty Senate, 1008 Trimpe Distnbutive Education Building, 7 p.m.

Cornell Loue Lecture, "Women and Literature in Medieval France," Lynette Mui, University of Leeds, England, 3231 Brown Hall, 8 p.m.

Concert, flutist Donna Wassinger and pianist Sylvia Kahman, Dalton Center Lecture Hall, 8 p.m.

*thur 9 and 14, 15) "A Chorus Line," Shaw Theatre, 8 p.m.; Nov. 7, post-performance discussion; Nov. 9, matinee, 2 p.m.

FRIDAY

Reception honoring the retirement of Philip Denefeld, provost and future president for academic affairs, Western Bernhard Student Center, 2-5 p.m.

National Association of Teachers of Singing Great Lakes Regional Auditions, Fri., Nov. 7, recital, baritone Dale Moore, Indiana University, and regionals director, 3:30 p.m. and "Opera Fest," featuring students from University of Michigan, Oberlin Conservatory and Indiana University, Dalton Center Recital Hall, 8:30 p.m.; Sat., Nov. 8, 8 a.m., recital, St. Paul's Recital Center, Recital Hall, beginning at 11:15 a.m.; recital, soprano Debra Fitzgibbon, 1986 NATS Artist Award winner, Dalton Center Recital Hall, 4 p.m.

Psychology colloquium, "How to be a Consultant," Norman Sidney, private consultants, Minneapolis, Kiva Room, Student Service Building, 4 p.m.

Reception, Commission on the Status of Women, Montague House, 814 Oakland Drive, 4-6 p.m.

Organ recital, John W. Ourensena, Dalton Center Organ Studio, 8 p.m.

SATURDAY

*Center for Women's Services workshop, "Masculine/Feminine: What's in Re- cognition?" captured by Margaret Knauf and Robert Tomlin, Red Room A, Bernhard Student Center, 9 a.m.-12:30 p.m.

Foothills Drama Workshop, WMU vs. Ohio, Wadlow Stadium, 1 p.m.; faculty and staff members are admitted for free.

*Volleyball, WMU vs. Pittsburgh, Fieldhouse, 7:30 p.m.

SUNDAY

*Dalton Series, "The Cleveland Ovct, Dalton Center Recital Hall 4 p.m.

MONDAY

(thur 12) Project EXCITE workshops, "Introduction to Desktop Publishing," 102 Maybee Hall, 8:30-10:30 a.m.; prerequisite: "Introduction to Macintosh" or equivalent knowledge of Macintosh computer graphics, word processing and electronic printing.

Project EXCITE workshops, "Producing Teaching Aids on the Apple II," 109 Maybee Hall, 9 a.m.

Academic Computer Center, part two of two-part workshop, "Introduction to IBM III," 102 Maybee Hall, 9:45-10:30 a.m.; prerequisite: some experience with microcomputers.

Discussion, "World Trouble Spots: Northern Ireland, the Middle East and South Africa," Coral Cruise and Robert Toffenn, Red Room A, Bernhard Student Center, 9 a.m.-12:30 p.m.

*Foot ball, WMU vs. Ohio, Schmidt Stadium, 7 p.m.; prerequisite: prior experience using microcomputers.

Tuesday

Management and executive development seminar, "Using Financial Data for Business Decision Making," Henry H. beaman, management, Fetter Center, 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

Personal department noon hour film series, "In Search of Excellence," followed by divisional dinner, Red Room A, Bernhard Student Center, noon.

Course Change Day, 11 a.m. for Life Take Care of Your Back program, 15 Oak- land Gym, 3:45-4:45 p.m.

*Physics colloquium, "Basic Concepts of Theoretical Molecular Solids," S. Mahashi, Michigan State University, 1110 Rod Hall, 4 p.m.; refreshments, 4:35 p.m.

(thur 13, 18) Zesi for Life workshop, "Stress and Conflict—Coping and Conquer- ing," 11 a.m., University Center Conference Center, 1-3 p.m.

*Center for Women's Services workshop, "Assessment Training," Anne Harrison and Conste Laine, Kiva Room, Faunzel Student Service Building, 7-9 p.m.

Furniture piano recital, David Pocock, music, Dalton Center Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

Wednesday/12

(thur 14) International conference on metal casting, "Advanced Casting Tech- nology: International Conference and Exposition," Fetter Center, 9 a.m.

Project EXCITE workshops, "Introduction to Apple IIc Microcomputers," 109 Maybee Hall, 9-11 a.m.

Meeting, College Personnel Organization, Red Rooms, Bernhard Student Center, noon.

Community arts and research colloquium, "Space Shuttle Disaster: Ethical Issues in Organizational Decision Making," James Jaksa, communication and arts, and Ron Kramer, sociology, Faculty Lounge, Bernhard Student Center, 1-3 p.m.

Planning for Retirement seminar, "TIAA-CREF," Michael Mulken, benefits counsel, TIAA-CREF, 204 Bernhard Student Center, 1-3 p.m.

Convocation Series concert, guitarist Laura Ohlman and pianist John Duske, Dalton Center Recital Hall, 2 p.m.

Dance performance, "The Sentry," students in the Department of Dance, Dance Studio B, Dalton Center, 7 p.m.

(weekdays thru Nov. 19) Center for Women's Services workshop, "Search," with Carolyn Kayser, Red Room C, Bernhard Student Center, 9-11 a.m.

Visiting Scholars Program lecture, "Resource Management of Brazil's Amazonian Region," Michael B. Harris, chairman of anthropology, Indiana University, 7570 Knuss Hall, 8 p.m.

THURSDAY

Academic Computer Center, part one of two-part workshop, "Advanced Lotus 1-2-3," 203 Maybee Hall, 9 a.m.-10:30 a.m.; prerequisite: introduction to Lotus 1-2-3 or equivalent experience using microcomputers.

Visiting Scholars Program paper presentation, "Adaptation and Maladaptation in Newly Settled Areas," Emilio F. Moran, chairperson of anthropology, Indiana University, 0116 Moore Hall, 2:30 p.m.

Film, "Blue Collar," 109 Maybee Hall, 7-9 p.m.

Reception for applicants for the Cordis Corporation, the Oakland, 5:30-7 p.m.

*lecture demonstration with guest artist Cathy Ward, Erick Hawkins Dance Company, Dance Studio B, Dalton Center, 7 p.m.

The Woman Researcher pre-conference workshop, "Developing Research Skills," Carolyn Kayser, Red Room C, Bernhard Student Center, 7-9 p.m.

"Cold Company Speak Preview," 102 Maybee Hall, Recital Hall, 8 p.m.

*Admission charged.

YELLOW GORILLAS OR BAKED WART HOG WITH WOLF BANE?—That's what the 85 and over Halloween lunch in the Bernhard Student Center, which were served. Some of the seniors said it has kept them up to their old tricks last Friday and celebrated the holiday in style. Witches served up "wart hog" to unsuspecting patrons, who were forced to walk through a tunnel of dough—only to find a clown at the cash register! By the way, those "critters on withered skin" were fried in cholesterol-free oil.

Denefeld

(Denefeld continued from page one)

Turning to the more "serious," Denefeld expressed a sense of "loss" that people at Western don't know each other as well as they did 30 years ago, and that we "tend to forget the size and complexity" and "a sign—and a price—of maturity." Nonetheless, he pointed to "the extraordinary progress of 30 years."

"I have great student, I p.m.," Denefeld said, "We still have a way to go, and always will have at least that I look backward to 1956—which I do with affection and respect—and then look at WMU in 1986, I must say, 'That ain't too bad for a little old under-funded normal school.'"

Drawing his remarks to conclusion, Denefeld said, "We still have a way to go, and always will have at least that we look backward to 1956—which I do with affection and respect—and then look at WMU in 1986, I must say, 'That ain't too bad for a little old under-funded normal school.'"

"I'm grateful for having been a part of both Western worlds, the distant 1956s and today—and all that was in-between. That long, happy association gives me a special and wonderful feeling. And, if you can imaagine me, which I cannot, aside old faithful Friger, riding off into the sunset, please note that the back is straight and the head high."

Denefeld