Nearly 400 students, including 120 from each of the three campus areas, will be honored at the first Medallion Scholarships ceremony this spring, according to a WMU spokesperson.

The Medallion Scholarships, each established in 1984 under the leadership of WMU President Michael Kemp, a Kalamazoo attorney and former chairman of the WMU Board of Trustees, and the WMU Board of Trustees, will qualify for Board of Trustees Scholarships of $5,000 per year or $12,000 for four years," he said. "At least 130 students will be offered WMU Tuition Scholarships valued at $1,500 or $6,000 for four years."

"The most prestigious $20,000 Medallion Scholarships will be offered to 50 students, each with a 3.2 GPA and an ACT score of at least 30.

Emotions
The time for the Friday, April 4, dinner reception was changed from 6:30 to 6:50 p.m. It will be in the Red Room of the Bernhard Student Center.

Graduate enrollment is highest since 1980
Graduate enrollment and credit hours at the Kalamazoo campus have increased over spring 1986, according to Registrar Dennis Boyle.

A solid increase in graduate students over spring 1985 enrollment was the most positive feature of the winter 1986 enrollment report, Boyle said.

Graduate credit hours increased by 4.8 percent to a total of 20,887 and 10.1 percent of the University's total credit-hour count of 198,063. Total enrollment increased 1.6 percent for winter to a total of 17,369 students.

There are 3,296 graduate students enrolled as full-time students or 18.9 percent of total enrollment.

Western has recorded third behind the University of Michigan and Wayne State University in the percentage of graduate students to total enrollment, although comparative data for the current semester are not available.

The College of Arts and Sciences enrolled the greatest number of all students, with 5,121; it is followed by the College of Business with 4,697 students. Enrollment in the College of Education increased this winter by 18.3 percent, the largest increase of any college, Western Michigan student attend Western from 55 other countries, the University's Central Stores.

In addition, 13 students currently hold WMU paper titles and financial aids as well as informal meetings with academic advisers.

The Office of Admissions is sponsoring a series of Gold Pride Receptions for prospective students and their parents. The series began Monday, Feb. 17, in high school. They will continue through Feb. 27 in Ann Arbor, Southfield, Grand Rapids, Muskegon, St. Joseph and Northbrook, III., a Chicago suburb. Each reception includes formal presentations on housing and financial aid as well as informal meetings with academic advisers.

The event begins at 10 a.m. in the East Ballroom of the Bernhard Student Center with a welcome by Henderson and E. Thomas Lawson, chairperson of the WMU Board of Trustees.

The forum, which is open to the public, is sponsored by the Dean's Advisory Council.

"The college has crucial impact in the teaching-learning process," said Else B. Jorgens, English, faculty dean in the college, "both directly, in the classroom, and indirectly, in our various outreach programs, our contacts with students and schools and our input on local and state boards and commissions."

Griffith, who has traveled extensively in the United States and Europe, has developed slide-tape programs on Hispanic folk music that has received a broad audience in West Michigan high schools with the programs, his talk Friday will include slides.

Davis, who is the undergraduate adviser to prospective students, will speak on topics related to the role of the college in the training of elementary and secondary teachers as the next Arts and Sciences Forum at 3 p.m. Friday, Feb. 21, in 2750 Knapp Hall.

The speakers and their topics are: Robert J. Griffith, languages and linguistics, "The University and Community Schools: Bridging the Gap," 10:30 a.m., Room 1, Donahue Hall; "Teacher Training: Challenges and Opportunities for the College of Arts and Sciences;" and Robert A. Lanig, mathematics, "Developing a Model for Statewide Collaboration in Undergraduate Education."

Mead Corp. awards gift of $25,000
Western has received a $25,000 gift from the Mead Corp. of Dayton, Ohio, for the proposed 2.8 million print management and research center.

The center will serve as the Midwest's educational and research center for print-related research. The center will be totally funded by the University of Michigan and universities and corporations.

The event begins at 10:30 a.m. in the Fetzer Center. A panel of faculty members and Mead officials will give presentations at 1:45, 3 and 4:15 p.m.

Mead Corporation, named for Robert A. Welborn, the late chairman, president and chief executive of the Mead Corp. of Dayton, Ohio, for the spring of 1986. It is being funded by a combination of public and private contributions. The legislators recently appropriated another $500,000 toward $1.3 million in state funds for the center. The private campaign will be directed to private foundations, from industry, foundations and individuals to match the funding from industry, foundations and individuals.

The 24,000-square-foot facility will be used for increased research and expanded space at the northeast corner of West Michigan Avenue and Buckout Street. The building will house the University's Central Stores. The building is to be named for a Mead Corporation product, the Mead Corporation of an instrument for the donation, according to Dean James B. Matthews, engineering and applied sciences.

The University plans to begin construction on the printing center in the spring of 1986. It is being funded by a combination of public and private contributions. The legislators recently appropriated another $500,000 toward $1.3 million in state funds for the center. The private campaign will be directed to private foundations, from industry, foundations and individuals to match the funding from industry, foundations and individuals.

Luscombe elected to international post
Robert R. Luscombe, fine arts, has been elected the first president of the West Michigan chapter, an at-large representative to the executive board of the National Council of Fine Arts Deans.

The council was founded in 1964. Luscombe was elected to provide a forum for the exchange of information and techniques related to the needs of academic/professional administrators in the area of fine art, as well as to facilitate the obtaining of two or more arts disciplines. It now represents more than 200 higher education leaders in the arts.

Last day to drop is Feb. 28
The last day to drop winter semester classes is Feb. 28. Drop slips must be officially processed in the academic records office on the third floor of Selbert Administration Building. Hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Drop slips are required for chemistry, physics, science and transportation classes.

Nearly 400 students were honored at the first Medallion Scholarships ceremony this spring, according to a WMU spokesperson.

Nearly 1,000 prospective students and their parents will participate in this year's Medallion Scholarship Program Saturday, Feb. 22, at Western.

During the program, 388 students will be honored. Scholarships ranging from seven prestigious $20,000 Medallion Scholarships to awards worth several hundred dollars are participation. Both talks will be in 3020 Fried.

He will address "The Future of Interpersonal Communication. Hi via it i pon ored by the Michigan high school with the program. Lid-tape program on Hi panic folk science;" and Robert . Laing, art and science will pe k on topic niversityand ommunity chool: Bridg--
Henderson announces appointments in admissions

Several staff changes and appointments in the Office of Admissions have been announced by Stanley E. Henderson, director.

New in the office are Danny E. Sledge, as associate director and Virginia W. Malone, as admissions counselor. Cheryl A. Pokey has been promoted from admissions counselor to assistant director for on-campus programs. Paul E. Holkeboer, University coordinator of academic advising, has assumed additional duties as coordinator of community college articulation. James W. Dempsey, formerly associate director of admissions, has been named coordinator of student relations.

Sledge previously was director of Western's Martin Luther King Jr. Program. He has been on campus five years and was a councilor at the WMU admissions office in 1979-80 and director of a WMU residence hall complex from 1977-79. In addition, he directed a vocational education program for the Twin Cities Area Council of Community Teachers. He earned both a bachelor's and master's degrees from WMU.

"We are very pleased to have someone with Mr. Sledge's rich WMU experiences, as well as his enthusiasm for fresh approaches and programs," said Henderson. "His positive approach to the issues facing us is providing valuable leadership to our division's mission."

Sledge is responsible for directing the office's marketing activities, supervising the professional staff, developing publications and servicing schools in the Grand Rapids area.

Malone will call on schools in suburban Detroit. She also will work with Western's Alumni Ambassadors Program and the admissions student telephone.

A graduate of the University of Georgia, Malone previously worked in consumer products (telemarketing sales for The Upjohn Co. in Kalamazoo. She also conducted interviews for the University of Georgia's Survey Research Center and has held positions in sales.

"Her enthusiasm, new ideas and marketing background bring special skills to this most crucial recruiting territory," said Henderson.

Curtis-Smith earns ASCAP award

Curtis-Smith Serenade, is a recipient of a 1985-86 American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP) award. It is the ninth time Curtis-Smith, who has more than 75 compositions to his credit, has received such an ASCAP honor.

Award winners, who receive $1,500, are chosen by an independent panel and are selected on the basis of the unique value of their catalogs. ASCAP offers the awards to assist and encourage writers of serious music.

Person needed to head faculty development

Susan B. Hannah, assistant vice president for academic affairs, has invited all tenured faculty members to apply for special assignment as associate director of the Office of Faculty Development.

The two-year appointment will begin with the fall semester and will consist of full-time academic year and half-time spring and summer employment ending with the 1988 summer session. Appropriate replacement funding is available for the faculty member's home department.

Interested faculty members should submit a statement to Hannah describing their interest in the position and relevant qualifications and background. Applications are due Friday, March 14.

Curtis-Smith

The Office of Faculty Development was established five years ago in the WMU-AAUP agreement. Its purpose is to aid the faculty in their ongoing effort to maintain relevance and efficiency in its roles as teachers, researchers, providers of professional and public service and partners in the development of a strong University in government.

The associate director is responsible for the planning, coordination and operation of the office and its programs. He or she is assisted by a Faculty Development Advisory Committee composed of faculty and staff members. The associate director works closely with and reports to the assistant vice president for academic affairs.

In the past, the office has been involved in such projects as professional development workshops, interinstitutional exchanges, tuition subsidies and a faculty development fund.

Curtis-Smith

The office has been headed by Caroline Payne Smith, education and professional development, and V. Jean Ramsey, management and personnel assistant. As required by the WMU-AAUP agreement, final selection will be made in consultation with Mary A. Cain, education and professional development, and president of the WMU-AAUP.

For more information, persons may contact Hannah at 3-400 or Ramsey at 3-1357.

WNU WESTERN NEWS

Editor: Beth A. Skees, Photographic: Greg O. Rankin, Proofs: Donn F. Rankin, Public Information, 845-1671.

Publication: Twice weekly during fall, winter and spring quarters, every other week during summer quarters, except during winter session; issued during academic quarters.

Publication office: 2212 E. Michigan Ave., Kalamazoo, MI 49008.

Periodicals postage: Payment for mailing of this publication at the regular rate is included in the price of subscriptions.

Western News is distributed without charge to faculty and students of Western Michigan University by the University Mail Room. Persons interested in receiving news of campus events should contact the Public Information office.

Western News is published by the University of Michigan at Kalamazoo. Ed. 2245. All rights reserved. Copyright 1986.

Western News is distributed without charge to faculty and student employees of Western Michigan University and other friends of the University including students, who may request service at several campus locations.

Deadlines: Items to be considered for publication should be submitted to the News Desk in the Administration Building by the day of work publication. Office hours are from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, except on University holidays.

WMU is an equal opportunity/affirmative action insti-
Natural resources and people topic of book

Kenneth A. Dahlberg, political science, is the coeditor of a new book, "Applying the Social Sciences and People: Conceptual Issues in Interdisciplinary Research."

The book, published by Westview Press, is an outstanding work by the Kalamazoo-Battle Creek area for the purpose of sharing information about job opportunities with spouses of relocating employees. Resumes of spouses seeking employment are circulated to network members for review. Member employers are responsible for notifying you of job openings which match the qualifications of the spouse looking for employment. Since its founding the network has been contacted and used by six member employers.

Blackmon is the University's contact person. She may be reached by calling 3-0475.

Counseling for March 4-5

American Red Cross Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) instruction will be offered for all employees Tuesday and Wednesday, March 4-5. Sessions will run from 8 a.m. to noon or 1 to 5 p.m. both days in 216 Berendal Student Center.

In order to complete the course, participants must attend eight hours of class and pass a written test and a series of skills tests. This course includes physical strain, the possibility of cross-infection and emotional stress. If your physician has recommended that you avoid strenuous exercise or limit activity, you should realize that CPR is hard work and may not be for you!

If your family has an employee who is relocating, ask the spouse about relocation employees is the predominant method used to address dual-career relocation for faculty members.

The job opportunity involves contact with the University's personnel office. The position requires five years of experience in an area of organization. The incumbent will be responsible for maintaining personnel records and processing employment applications. The successful candidate will have a working knowledge of personnel policies and procedures. If interested, please apply in writing to the Personnel Office, University of Michigan Dearborn, 9490 W. 14 Mile Rd., Dearborn, MI 48128. Applications must be received by February 28, 1986.

Personnel

AWARDS OFFERED FOR COST-SAVING IDEAS

If you or your department implement a cost-saving idea in 1985 that missed the March 14, 1986, deadline for submitting cost-saving ideas, please submit your idea immediately. The committee is entitled to accept your submission for possible implementation.

The committee will review proposals with an emphasis on cost savings, ease of implementation and adherence to University policy. The committee will also consider the potential for the idea to be implemented on a larger scale.

The committee will solicit additional suggestions for ideas from faculty and staff. Suggestions may be submitted in writing or discussed at upcoming meetings. Faculty and staff are encouraged to suggest ideas for cost savings.

Spouse referral program initiated

One of the newest initiatives to aid faculty and staff relocating to the area is the spouse referral program. This program is designed to help faculty and staff who are relocating to the area.

The program is administered by the Personnel Office and is available to all faculty and staff. The program will be advertised in the Personnel Bulletin and in the University's newsletter for new employees.

Spouse referral forms will be sent to all faculty and staff who are relocating to the area. The forms will include information about the spouse referral program and guidelines for using the program.

The following is a list of the benefits available through the spouse referral program:

1. Assistance in finding employment
2. Assistance in finding housing
3. Assistance in finding child care
4. Assistance in finding adult education services

The program is funded by a grant from the National Science Foundation. Applications for funding will be accepted on a competitive basis.

Applications will be reviewed by a selection committee consisting of faculty and staff members. The selection committee will determine the criteria for selecting programs to be funded.

Applications must be submitted by March 15, 1986, to the Personnel Office, University of Michigan, 9490 W. 14 Mile Rd., Dearborn, MI 48128. Questions about the spouse referral program should be directed to Jim Brown, Personnel Officer, at 3-0475.
FEBRUARY
Thursday/20
(thur 21) Handicapped Awareness Week.
(thur 22) "Venus and Adonis," and "The Love of Don Perlimplin and Belisa in the Garden," 8 p.m.
(thur 28) Exhibition of drawings, prints and watercolors by Donald Roberts and June Carter Roberts, Ohio artists, Gallery II, Sangren Hall, 10 a.m.-5 p.m.
(Fri 23) "An Authentic Design," photographs by Doug Kizer, Eastern Michigan University, drawn from the personal collection of Katherine McCoy, Cranbrook Academy of Art, Design Center and case displays in the center, 8 a.m.-noon and 1-5 p.m.
Blood pressure screening, Waldo Library ground floor lobby, 9:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m.; physicals, Campus Center, noon-1 p.m.
Faculty development media workshop, "Making Title Slides," 3206 Sangren Hall, 11 a.m.
Concert, "High Noon," Delta Chapter library, noon.
Public lecture, "China and the Recent Reform," Zhengyi Yi, economics, and "The Future of the American City," Larry Johnson, English, 4 p.m.
Workshop, "Women's gymnasium, WMU vs. Bowling Green, Gary Center Gymnasium, 7 p.m."
Women's Computer Center two-part workshop, "Introduction to MINITAB," Studio 18, Miller Auditorium, 3-4:30 p.m.
Women's Computer Center three-part workshop, "Introduction to ..." Library, 2 p.m.
Workshop, "Prevention of Cardiovascular Disease," 4 p.m.; refresher, 4 p.m.
Lecture, "Print Collaboration with Sculptors in a University Program," 1213 Sunset, 3-4:30 p.m.
Women's basketball, WMU vs. Ohio, Field House, 3:30 p.m.
Academic Computer Center workshop, "WordPerfect Basics II," 203 Maybe Hall, 3:30-5:30 p.m. (prerequisite: WordPerfect Basics I or equivalent experience).
Panel discussion, "Attitudes Toward Handicappers in Various Foreign Countries," 4 p.m.
Film, "Hearts and Minds," 2750 Knauss Hall, 4:15 and 8 p.m.
Computer science colloquium, "Issues in Reasoning Under Uncertainty," Brian Schell, Environmental Research Institute of Michigan, 4:30 Dunbar Hall, 5:30-6:30 p.m.
Black History Month faculty/staff talent gala, "A Tribute to Black History Through Art," Dalton Center Recital Hall, 7 p.m.
Lecture, "Prophets and Power," Marilyn Waldman, Department of History and International Studies, in the Humanities, Ohio State University, 3760 Knauss Hall, 7:45 p.m.
Friday/21
Kalamazoo: Consortium for Higher Education workshop, "Teaching with Interactive Problem Students" (second of two), Dale M. Brethower, psychology, 2211 Student Recital Hall, 2 p.m.
Simulation of handicap by faculty, staff and students, 9 a.m.-noon; luncheon and speech, "Access for All," Cindy Peterson, occupational therapy, Red Rooms A and B, Bernhard Student Center, noon.
Blood pressure screening, Rood Hall lobby and computer center, 9:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m.
Academic Computer Center workshop, "WordPerfect Basics II," 203 Maybe Hall, 1-3 p.m. (prerequisite: WordPerfect Basics I or equivalent experience). Arts and Sciences Forum, 2750 Knauss Hall, 3 p.m.
Mathematics colloquium, "From Plain Solidics to Descents and Euler," Jean Green, University, Mathematics Common Room, sixth floor.
Academic Computer Center workshop, "WordPerfect Basics II," 203 Maybe Hall, 3:30-5:30 p.m. (prerequisite: WordPerfect Basics I or equivalent experience).
Women's Basketball, WMU-MAC Indoor Invitational, Red Fieldhouse, field events, 4 p.m.; running events, 5 p.m.
Mathematics and Statistics Club banquet featuring speakers Peter J. Hilton, SUNY, and Jean Green, University of Santa Clara, President's Dining Room, Bernhard Student Center, 6:30 p.m.
Women's Basketball, WMU vs. Bowling Green, Gary Center Gymnasium, 7 p.m.
Student recital, Christine Crnk, clarinet, Dalton Center Lecture Hall, 8 p.m.
Saturday/22
Morton Scholarship Program, Bernhard Student Center, 10 a.m.
Women's basketball, WMU vs. Miami, Field House, noon.
Student Recital, Brian Natzler, organ, "Hymn to the Virgin," 116 Knauss Hall, 2 p.m.
Men's basketball, WMU vs. Miami, Field House, 2:30 p.m.
Football, WMU vs. Michigan, Lawson Arena, 4:15 and 8 p.m.
Film and discussion, "Autobiography of Jane Addams," 2750 Knauss Hall, 8 p.m.
Lecture, "American Indian Policy," 3760 Knauss Hall, 8 p.m.
Film, "Meet the Press," 2750 Knauss Hall, 8-10 p.m.
Admission charged.
CAREER OPPORTUNITIES conference March 21
Plants are being finalized for the fifth annual Career Opportunities conference at Western Friday, March 21. The theme will be "The Challenge Con- nects..." All female employees are encouraged to attend. Registration for the full program information will be available soon.
Indian student to speak
Francis P. Prucha, S.J., an expert on American Indian history, will give two presentations at Western Thursday, Feb. 27 and Friday, March 21.
He will address "American Indian Policy" at an informal seminar from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. in 2010. Waldman will discuss "Prevention of Cardiovascular Disease," 4 p.m.
He will address issues concerning American Indians in the 20th Century: The Paradoxes of Self Determination," 3760 Knauss Hall, 8 p.m.
Admission charged.
Indian student to speak
Francis P. Prucha, S.J., an expert on American Indian history, will give two presentations at Western Thursday, Feb. 27 and Friday, March 21.
He will address "American Indian Policy" at an informal seminar from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. in 2010. Waldman will discuss "Prevention of Cardiovascular Disease," 4 p.m.
He will address issues concerning American Indians in the 20th Century: The Paradoxes of Self Determination," 3760 Knauss Hall, 8 p.m.
Admission charged.
Wednesday/26
EXCITE Potpourri workshop, "Super Pilot/Apple III," 102 Maybe Hall, 8:30-10:30 a.m.
Staff training seminar, "Preventive Discipline III: Unatisfactory Work Perform- ance," (third of a three-part series), 159 Bernhard Student Center, 9:15-4:15 a.m.
Lecture, "Video, 'God's,'" Kanley Chapel's Dialogue Center, noon.
Human sexuality workshop, "Abituion: Right-to-Life," panel from Right-to-Life groups in Kalamazoo Crisis Pregnancy Center, Red Room A, Bernhard Student Center, noon.
Convocation series, Western Brass Quintet, Dalton Center Recital Hall, 2 p.m.
(Wednesday) Workshop, "Spelling Lab," review spelling rules, morphemes, homonyms (formerly misspelled words), 1023 Moore Hall, 3-5 p.m.
Economics seminar, "The Relation between Price and Marginal Cost in U.S. Indus- try," 2750 Knauss Hall, 3:30-5:30 p.m.
Workshop, "Career Opportunities," 3760 Knauss Hall, 3:30-5:30 p.m.
Panel discussion, "Women's basketball, WMU vs. Ohio, Field House, 7:45 p.m.
Lecture, "Prophets and Power," 3060 Knauss Hall, 7:45 p.m.
Academic Computer Center Workshop, "WordPerfect Basics II," 203 Maybe Hall, 3:30-5:30 p.m. (prerequisite: WordPerfect Basics I or equivalent experience).
Women's Basketball, WMU vs. Ohio, Field House, 3:30 p.m.
Human sexuality seminar, "Pornography," citizens for Democracy, Kalamazoo, 2770 Knauss Hall, 7:30-9:30 p.m.
Women's basketball, WMU vs. Ohio, Field House, 7:45 p.m.
Thursday/27
Midway day for Annual All-Student Art Competition, Multi-Media Room, Dalton Center, 9:30-4:30 p.m.
Lectures, "Conflict Practitioners: New Perspectives on Debate Resolution," Wil- liam Willigg, Department of Interpersonal Communication, University of Mon- tana, 3020 Friedmann Hall, 9-30 to 11 a.m.; and "The Future of Interpersonal Communication," 3020 Friedmann Hall, 2-4 p.m.
Workshop, "Measuring Client Change: Principles and Applications of Single Subject Designs for Practitioners," Robert A. Werkin, social work, Fetzer Center, 10 a.m.-5 p.m.
Meeting, Graduate Students Council of the Faculty Senate, Conference Room A, R-Bet Center, 8 a.m.-5 p.m.
History seminar, "American Indian Policy," Francis Paul Sruja, S.J., Marquette University, 2010 Friedmann Hall, 3:40-5 p.m.
Film, "Meet the Press," 2750 Knauss Hall, 4:15 and 8 p.m.
Film and discussion, "Autobiography of Jane Addams," 3650 Knauss Hall, 8 p.m.
History lecture, "American Indians in the 20th Century: The Paradoxes of Self Determination," Francis Paul Sruja, S.J., Marquette University, 2480 Dunbar Hall, 8 p.m.
Admission charged.
CELEBRATION SKATE—Bronco right wing Dan Dorlon, left, a senior from Arcadia, N.Y., skated away in celebration after he broke the Central Collegiate Hockey Association's all-time individual scoring record Feb. 14. in a home game against Ferris State. Dorlon scored three goals to call the record with 371 points. By the end of the two-game series, he had gained five goals and three assists to put him to 276 points. Dorlon currently is a candidate for the Hobey Baker Award, which is given to the nation's best player.
The Broncos swept the Ferris State series, 6-3 and 10-4, and play again Friday and Saturday, Feb. 21-22, against the University of Michigan. Saturday's game will be at the Lawson for Arena beginning at 8 p.m. Tickets are on sale at the athletic ticket office, 3-1780.