University Assembly is 3:30 p.m. today

Four public officials are to be featured speakers at University Assembly II at 3:30 p.m. today in the west balcony of the Student Center.

The officials are U.S. Rep. Howard Wolpe (D-3rd Dist.), State Reps. Mary Brown (D-5th Dist.) and Donald Gillmer (R-55th Dist., Augusta), and Douglas B. Roberts, deputy director of the Office of Management and Budget.

In addition, President Bernhard will make remarks, Robert W. Hannah, vice president for governmental relations, will be the moderator.

Participants will present their perceptions of Western's fiscal crisis. All students, faculty members and staff members have been invited to attend the meeting, which is open to the public.

Graduation regalia set

Candidates for the April 24 commencement have been reminded that regalia may be obtained in the basement of East Hall at the University Building, next to the Department of Management, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. today and from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, April 24.

Last 'Open Office Hours' session 2-3 p.m. today

The last of President John T. Bernhard's "Open Office Hours" sessions of the winter semester will be from 2 to 3 p.m. today in his office, 3062 Seiber Administration Building.

The session will be one hour shorter than usual because of the University Assembly II scheduled to begin at 3:30 p.m. in the west balcony of the University Student Center.

"Open Office Hours" sessions are open to all faculty and staff members. No appointment is required and no one else is present. Visitors are limited to about 10 minutes, depending on whether others are waiting.

Rep. Mary Brown will be CTO speaker tomorrow

State Rep. Mary Kalamazo (D-Kalamazo) will discuss "Pay Equity" at 11:45 a.m. Friday, April 16, during the "Appreciation Day 1982" spring luncheon in the east balcony of the University Student Center.

The program is sponsored by the Clerical/Technical Organization (CTO) and is open to all members of the University community and their guests. Tickets at $4 a person are available from Arlene Lewis, psychology, by calling 3-1615.

CTO officers for 1982-83 will be introduced at the luncheon, according to Nellie L. Stell, educational leadership, current CTO president.

The luncheon on Friday has been extended to 1:15 p.m. so that clerical/technical employees may attend the annual Appreciation Day spring luncheon on that day, according to Robert B. Wenig, vice president for finance.

Two distinguished faculty and two outstanding students will represent Western at a new awards convocation at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, April 22, at the University Club in East Lansing.

They are Gary T. Chartrand, mathematicians; H. Byron Earhart, religion; Kathryn L. Nelson, a Detroit senior; and Brian F. Berger, a West Allis, Wis., senior.

The event is sponsored by the Michigan Association of Governing Boards (MAGB), which will honor two faculty members and two students from each of Michigan's 15 public four-year institutions.

The program is "an effort to offer public recognition to the best teachers and best students in Michigan's public higher education system," according to Katharine Hafstad of Harbor Springs, chairperson of the Michigan. She said that "the convocation will become an annual means of celebrating the excellence of public higher education in the state."

Chartrand, at Western since 1964, is an international authority on graph theory, and since 1975 has been managing editor of the Journal of Graph Theory, an award-winning international publication. In 1979, he was given an "Excellence in Teaching" award by graduate students in the Department of Mathematics.

He is the director of three international conferences on graph theory between 1968 and 1980, which attracted participants from all over the world.

Blasch to receive Distinguished Service Award here

Donald Blasch, blind rehabilitation and mobility, will receive the 1982 Distinguished Service Award at commencement at 2 p.m. Saturday, April 24, in Read Fieldhouse.

Dean K. Tyndall, occupational therapy, chairperson of the Distinguished Service Award Committee that made the selection, said Blasch was chosen to receive the award because of his "outstanding leadership in improving services for the blind."

Blasch "was instrumental in developing the long-cane technique for orientation and mobility for the blind, a technique that has been adopted all over the country," according to Tyndall.

Blasch came to Western in 1961 as director of what was then called the Center for Orientation and Mobility of the Blind. In 1972 he became the first chairman of the Department of Blind Rehabilitation and Mobility when it was formed, remaining in that position until stepping down to return to full-time teaching in July 1980.

He is known internationally as a leader in the development and provision of services for the blind and visually handicapped and he has received many awards.

This issue of Western News, including its special four-page insert, is being sent to prospective students who have been admitted to Western but who have not yet enrolled.

The purpose of this special edition is to give prospective students a glimpse of the campus through Western News and to acquaint the University's academic and support staff with the efforts of the Office of Undergraduate Admissions to inform prospective students of the advantages of attending Western," said Duncan A. Clarkson, director of undergraduate admissions.

The special section emphasizes campus life, telling prospective students that "Western is a great place. . . to be yourself!" Other publications issued by the admissions office have emphasized the excellence of the University's academic programs and of the University's academic and student-support services.

Designers preview set

In celebration of the opening of "Designers' Showcase '82," the Kalamazoo Symphony Women's Association and the Friends of the Art Center will offer a special public preview showing of the renovated mansion "The Oaklands," former home of University presidents, from 6 to 9 p.m. Tuesday. Reservations are required. The preview precedes regular events from Wednesday through May 12.

Alumni helping Admissions

The University in St. Joseph will meet there Monday to organize a program for contacting prospective students who have been admitted to the University but who have not yet enrolled. The program, the second of its kind this spring, is coordinated by Russell A. Strong, director of alumni relations, and John C. Prince, admissions counselor. The first program took place in Grand Rapids.

Emeriti are invited to April 24 commencement

Emeriti who have already been invited to attend the April 24 commencement beginning at 2 p.m. in Read Fieldhouse, Emeriti who would like to attend have been asked to write to Dennis Boyle, registrar, or call 3-1630 so a reserved section ticket may be sent to them.
Western's student-loan default rate well below national average, says Harkenrider

The University's default rate on federal student loans is well below the national average, according to figures provided by Edward W. Harkenrider, director of student financial aid and scholarships at Western.

"The current default rate at Western for National Direct Student Loans is 8.7 percent, well below the national average of over 11 percent," Harkenrider said. An NDSL is considered "in default" when any payment is 120 days overdue.

Western escapes government penalties that are enforced when the rate exceeds 10 percent. The penalties reduced constitute 10 percent of the difference between what the student repays and the amount the government claims is due.

Personnel to give programs on performance review

The Personnel Department will sponsor two orientation sessions, designed to acquaint designated reviewers with the Performance Review System.

Repeat sessions are scheduled for Wednesday, April 21, from 1:30 to 5 p.m. in 211 Student Center, and Thursday, April 22, from 10 to 11:30 a.m. in 212 Student Center.

The meetings are planned to assist all designated reviewers. All first-time reviewers are required to attend one of the orientation sessions, and experienced reviewers are welcome to attend if they wish. Any employee who is not a designated reviewer may attend as an observation session, providing he or she has their supervisor's approval.

The Personnel Department is meeting at 3-1650.

Cong. Wolfe to speak on El Salvador and U.S.

"American Foreign Policy and Third World Interests: El Salvador, A Case Study" will be discussed by U.S. Rep. Neil Neilson, D-Ot. Third District, in a free public talk at 3 p.m. today in 3750 Knauss Hall.

It will be the final presentation in the series, "Central America in Crisis," arranged by the Honors College.

University President John T. Bernhard will speak on "The Future of Higher Education in Michigan" on this week's "Arts and Sciences Forum." It will be heard at 9:30 a.m. and again at 11:30 a.m. today on WMUK-FM. Next Thursday at the same time, Val L. Eichenlaub, geography, will talk on "What Makes Michigan's Climate What It Is." WMUK is heard at 10:21 on the FM dial.

Western's student chapter of the American Society of Interior Designers (ASID) is participating in Designers' Showcase '82, interior designing project for The Oaklands, the former campus home of presidents here.

Western Michigan University is a great place to be yourself, and this special edition of Western News is intended to show you why. There’s more to college than books, lectures and labs... there’s a whole world here of study and fun, just waiting for you.

Take, for example, more than 250 student organizations, through which you can develop skills—and make friends—that will be good for a lifetime... from the Ski Club and the Sky Broncos (flying club) to the Medical Science Association, the Consortium for Ebony Concerns and the Cordial Corps (University hosts). And don’t forget Western’s many social fraternities and sororities.

Sports? Western is a member of the mighty Mid-American Conference, winning the MAC’s Reese Trophy of all-sports supremacy in men’s athletics last year. Western has 19 intercollegiate sports for men and women... plus intramurals,

recreational sports in Gary Center/Read Fieldhouse, skating and swimming in the Student Recreation Building, an outdoor Fitness Trail and much, much more.

Student media? Why not write or take pictures for the Western Herald student newspaper. Or maybe you’d want to play records, talk or report the news on WIDR, Western’s student-run FM radio station. How about contributing a short story or a poem to Currents?

Student government? There’s the Western Student Association and the active Residence Hall Association.

Student services? How about the Center for Women’s Services, Testing and Evaluation Services, International Student Services, Minority Student Services, Handicapper Student Services?

If you need help . . . there’s the University Health Center, the Counseling Center, legal aid through the Western Student Association, Career Counseling, the University Police Department and the Ombudsman (who tries to help students and others untangle red tape).

There’s on-campus housing, and off . . . there’s on-campus employment, and off . . . and there are on-campus movies, and off—which means that both Western and Kalamazoo have a whole lot to offer you, from the day you arrive to the day you graduate—and beyond.

You’ll find yourself spending some part of many days in the University Student Center, whether in the games area (video games, bowling, billiards), the typing room (manual and electric typewriters are available), Pleezer’s fast-food restaurant (they have great hamburgers) or at the main counter, which sells a little of everything and cashes personal checks up to $10.

And when you get here you’ll get a copy of a booklet called “Existence,” produced by the Orientation Office, which is full of good ideas—and good advice—for new students at Western. We thought we’d share some of that advice with you before you look through the rest of this section; it’s from a section near the end of the booklet marked “I wish I’d known . . .”

• I should have learned to type.
• that one of the best things I’ll learn in college is to express myself well.
• that getting used to a roommate is like getting married without being engaged.
• that if I keep up with my reading, I can avoid that last-minute panic.
• that what it’s like to be completely on my own, making all of my own decisions.
• to read more in high school and learn to read faster.
• that if I wait until vacation to catch up on school and sleep, I’ll get neither done and will ruin my vacation to boot.
• that there’s a lot more to learning that just what goes on in class or from a book.

As we said, Western is a great place to be yourself. See you at Western!
Financial aid
To be considered for financial aid at Western, you must:
1. Complete the Financial Aid Form or the Family Financial Statement as soon as possible and send it to the address shown on each form. These forms are available from your high school counselor or college financial aid office.
2. Send the result of the Pell (Basic Educational Opportunity) Grant application to the Office of Student Financial Aid and Scholarships, Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, Michigan 49008, and then ...
3. Submit additional information requested by the WMU Office of Student Financial Aid and Scholarships. Awarding of aid to eligible students whose files are complete will be done by May 15. Awards will be made to students whose files are complete after that date, provided funds are available.

Residence halls
Western has 19 comfortable dorms, and one of them is bound to be right for you. Whether you elect to stay in a single or double room, in a suite or a room with community bathroom, in a co-ed or single-sex hall, we're certain Western has living quarters to suit your lifestyle.
Once you settle in, you'll find that most residence halls have such outstanding features as:
1. comfortable lounges,
2. exercise areas, complete with weight machines,
3. television areas,
4. laundry facilities, and
5. study lounges.
If you don't like the color of your room, we supply the paint and brush, you supply the enthusiasm and elbow grease. Feel hungry? The dorm cafeterias stay open all day—no extra charge! Feel tired after a long day? Relax and enjoy a sauna. One is available in each residence hall complex.
Western's residence halls—a great place to live!

Kalamazoo
Located in a moderate-sized city of 80,000, WMU shares in a variety of cultural activities with the surrounding community. The New Vic Players and Civic Theatre are the two primary sources of traditional and experimental drama, while the Gilmore Art Center offers a variety of courses in which students enrolled at WMU may participate. Season tickets at special student rates may be purchased for the Kalamazoo Symphony Orchestra, and for students seeking a change from campus life there is the Kalamazoo Nature Center, with seasonal exhibits and trails.
The countryside around WMU affords opportunities for cycling, horseback riding, and other outdoor activities. It's only a 45-minute drive to the shores of Lake Michigan, and in winter the nearest ski facilities are only 25 minutes away. Kalamazoo is located between two major metropolitan centers. You can drive to Detroit or Chicago in 2 1/2 hours via Interstate 94.
The City of Kalamazoo is served by public transportation via Amtrak from Detroit and Chicago, as well as by Republic Airlines and commercial bus.

Questions answered on C/T dental insurance plan

Since the announcement last week in Western News concerning the dental-insurance program for clerical-technical employees, Stanley W. Kelley, director of employee relations and personnel, has received a number of questions, seeking clarification. Among them:

Q: What premium must I pay?
A: During the first year of insurance coverage, the costs of the premium will be shared equally by employees and the University as outlined in the August 8 Western News article. In future years, it is the intent of the University to bear the costs of this coverage in the same manner as all hospital-medical costs. Currently, the University pays 100 percent of the premium for the individual employee and 75 percent of the premium for a spouse or family.

Q: What is the coverage?
A: Typical coverage would include the following—Benefits payable at 50 percent:

- Oral examinations, including scaling of teeth, with not more than one examination covering any two surfaces of fixed dental X-rays, other than bitewing or periapical X-rays; extractions (if impacted, then 100 percent coverage); oral decay not covered by the regular medical insurance; fillings; anesthesia; injection of antibiotics.

- Benefits payable at 50 percent: Inlays; cold fillings; crowns, including precision fittings for dentures; bridge work; repair or cementing of crowns, inlays, bridge work or dentures.

- Benefits payable at 60 percent: Orthodontia— the charges of a dentist for orthodontic treatment (including correction of malocclusion).

Exchange

Western News will accept up to five four-line (as printed) advertisements per issue from faculty and staff members without charge for the exchange of goods and services, except firearms, on a first-come, space-available basis. Deadline is noon Monday of the week of publication. Ads cannot be accepted by telephone and must be accompanied by the employee's name, department, and campus telephone number. Ads cannot be repeated. Western News reserves the right to edit ads for length, space and propriety. Send to: Exchange, Western News, B207-208 Ellsworth Hall.

For SALE—Hoover Concept One vacuum cleaner and tools, nearly new, $100.00. Call Julieen or Marian in 1-1827.

Q: How does the deductible work?
A: Like any existing major medical claim, the deductible can be met through a combination of medical, dental and vision expenses. For employees whose basic annual earnings are less than $7,500, their deductible within the calendar year is $100. The family deductible is $200. For employees whose basic annual earnings are greater than $7,500, their deductible within the calendar year is $150. The family deductible in this case is $300.

Robert D. McEntire, English, wrote an essay on the development of the language on the campus of the University, published in The Journal of General Education.

Phillip P. Caruso and G. K. Kriplani, both of the College of Dentistry, presented a report, "Differentials Among Net Outmigrants from Non-Metropolitan State Economic Areas of the Great Plains Region," at the annual meeting of the Missouri Valley Economics Association at Kansas City, Mo.

Prospective students get phone calls from staff

Prospective students who have not yet enrolled in the University are getting telephone calls from professional-staff members in the Office of Undergraduate Admissions in a project coordinated by James W. Dempsey, associate director of undergraduate admissions.

"So far, the project has suggested that the main reasons many students have not completed the admissions process is uncertainty about finances and indecision about which college to attend," Dempsey said.

He added that financial questions hinge on federal and state action on financial aid and on the state of the economy. To help students decide which institution to attend, callers inform students of Western's varied programs during their conversations.
