Means a tornado has been seen—THERE IS A CHANCE OF A TORNADO

A tornado WATCH IS ANNOUNCED TO ALERT THE PUBLIC TO A POTENTIAL DANGER FROM TORNADOES. NO DAMAGE WILL NECESSARILY RESULT FROM A TORNADO WATCH, BUT A TORNADO WATCH IS NOT THE SAME AS A TORNADO WARNING.

The Department of Public Safety reminds those who are able to monitor radio and television for severe weather to do so and to be prepared to protect themselves if a tornado occurs.

Tornado Watch

When a tornado watch is issued, it means that conditions are favorable for tornadoes and conditions are likely to exist within the next six hours. A tornado watch is not a warning that a tornado has been seen or has been reported.

Tornado Warning

When a tornado warning is issued, it means that a tornado has been observed or reported on the ground and that the watch area has been reduced to a smaller area where a tornado is likely to occur. Tornado warnings are issued by the National Weather Service.

Tornado Warnings are issued by the National Weather Service.

The Department of Public Safety encourages individuals to be prepared to protect themselves if a tornado occurs.

A poetic satire, written by Herbert S. Scott, English, on letters received by Ann Landers, turned up recently in, of all places, Ann Landers' columns in the Kalamaazoo Gazette and thousands of newspapers across the nation. It appeared at the request of the person who handles the column for the Washington Post.

"It's the first part of a poem I wrote called Help Is On The Way satirizing the letters Ann Landers receives. It was published in my book Disguises released in 1974 by the Pittsburgh University Press," Scott said.

"I would like to make this marriage work. I haven't had a charge in weeks. There were intimations of this last week. My heart began to put things together. Applicants should submit a Job Opportunities Application during the posting period.

A midsummer Night's Dream, Shaw Theatre, 8 p.m.; Sun. 3 p.m. only.

Lately, strange arms appeared beneath the couch, And a leg under the table, And teeth in my teacup. I began to put things together. I would like to make this marriage work.

Am I going crazy? I have faulty wiring and poor compression, Yet I won't fix anything around my body.

I am 81-185, posted 3/30 to 4/3/81. (R) Instructor, Comm. Arts.

I began to put things together. But where have I failed? I try to keep next.

Heaven knows, it's difficult with no help in the kitchen, and nothing to wear, And vapor lock to contend with. I think I am pregnant, and he won't pay the bills.

What will I do when they turn off the lights? Should I sever connections? Employees may register in the Personnel Office for assistance in securing these positions.
