Western Welcomes Newcomers

WMU President John T. Bernhard and ASG President George Strand are asking University employees and returning students to take part in establishing a friendly environment for newcomers to the campus.

They have written their colleagues requesting their help and the University's Public Relations Committee is sponsoring an information booth to be located on the campus pedestrian mall between McCracken and Sanger Halls.

This booth will be staffed by trained student leaders, administrators and faculty, and will be open from 7:45 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, September 4-7. Booth volunteers will answer questions about the location of classrooms and offices, about University practices, procedures, and services, and about available community services and resources. In addition to such information, volunteers also will dispense encouragement to students who may be somewhat confused.

"We are pleased to have this service available for campus newcomers at such a perplexing time of the year, and hope it will ease the adjustments to university life. We know that our volunteers will not be able to solve all the problems that will be troubling students, nor will all of those who need help find us," said Bernhard and Strand.

"Therefore, we ask that you be patient, understanding and helpful in your dealings with any and all students. Your kindness and helpfulness will reassure lost or anxious students that they are now members of the Western community—which cares about them, their needs and their new academic career. They will appreciate your concern—and so will we. Let's all remember the lasting importance of first impressions."

Regular Hours Resume Tuesday

Employees are reminded that the University's regular hours will begin on Tuesday, Sept. 4. Regular hours are 7:45 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. and 12:45 p.m. to 4:45 p.m. Monday through Friday.

"The University expects offices to follow the regular schedule in order to promote efficiency and reduce confusion," said Karla Zak, manager of personnel services. "If an office must use non-standard hours, that office is responsible for sufficient announcements and publicity to assure that students, the public and the University community are well informed of the hours of operation. Vice presidential approval must be received for any variation in working hours.

Campus Strike Settled

Members of Local 1668 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) returned to work here on campus Tuesday (Aug. 28) after an 18-day strike.

The Union represents approximately 530 members in the University's skilled trades, food service, custodial, grounds, post office, delivery and stores areas. Local 1668 officers reported that their members approved the 3-year contract settlement by a margin of 2-1 in a vote taken Monday night (Aug. 27); the agreement was reached during a 12-hour bargaining session that concluded shortly before 10 p.m. Sunday.

"Naturally, I am delighted that the strike is over and that good faith bargaining by both teams has resulted in an equitable multi-year agreement," said WMU President John T. Bernhard. "Now, we can all work together to prepare for the start of our Fall Semester next week.

Again, we are indebted for the fine efforts of state mediator Howard Case, who worked long and hard with both teams to reach a successful conclusion."

Kenneth M. Smythe, WMU's attorney and chief negotiator, observed, "It's the same hourly rate as previously announced and still within our 8 percent guideline. He pointed out that the new wage rates for Local 1668 members is effective August 28, while the effective date for salary increases for most other University employees is July 1.

Smythe noted the following contract highlights:

In the first year of the contract—a 4.4 cents per hour increase across the board in new money for all bargaining unit personnel; plus a one-time $50 compensation adjustment for all unit members on the payroll August 9, 1979, who returned to work; plus improvements in health insurance similar to programs for other University employees (the maximum benefit limitation has been removed, and private room care is available for contagious diseases and burn cases; and long-term disability coverage has been increased in both maximum amount and percentage).

In the second year of the contract—a 4.2 cents per hour increase across the board for all bargaining unit personnel; plus an additional 15 cents per hour for the skilled trades personnel (M-5 and M-6 classifications); In the third year of the contract—a 4.3 cents per hour across the board, plus an additional 15 cents per hour (Continued on Page 8)
Board Approves Personnel Changes

Many new appointments have been approved by the University's Board of Trustees since the last tabloid newspaper issue of the Western News in late April. Following is a summary of those personnel changes:

At the April 20th meeting, Dr. Peter K. Bernhard, an associate professor of political science, was appointed director of the Center for Public Administration. He succeeds Dr. Donald E. Mendelson, administrator of the grant assistance program, who resigned to accept his new position.

Elected to assume the administrative responsibilities of Dr. Mendelson was Dr. Kenneth L. Williams, professor of humanities; Dr. Carol Sheffer, associate professor of political science; Dr. Dale Brown, professor of dance; Dr. Jack C. Plano, professor of computer science; and Dr. Roger M. Welke, professor of computer science.

Larry A. Mortimore was named assistant director of that Graduate College office.

Newly appointed chairmen May 18 and their respective departments were: Wendy L. Cornish, associate professor and chairman of the art department; and Dr. Jack C. Plano, professor of computer science; and Dr. Roger M. Welke, professor of computer science.

On June 15, John M. Carney, associate professor and chairman of the art department, and Dr. E. Rozanne Elder was appointed editor of the Catholic Church. She will be responsible for managing their departments.

Several administrative reassignments, including the appointment of a vice president for governmental relations, were approved June 15. They are: Dr. Robert W. Hannah, from secretary to the Board of Trustees, to vice president for governmental relations; Chauncey Brinn, from assistant vice president for governmental relations, to assistant director for governmental relations; and Riley R. Whearty, II, from financial aid analyst, to assistant director of student financial aid and scholarships.

The appointment of Dr. Hannah and Mr. Brinn to the area of governmental relations is a recognition of the important that Western must place upon its relationships with the state and federal governments, stated WMU President John T. Bernhard. "Heretofore, the University has concentrated its governmental liaison work primarily in Lansing," Dr. Bernhard continued. "But the vast area of federal relations will require considerable contact work in Washington, D.C. Much is at stake and I will expect Dr. Hannah and Mr. Brinn to perform effectively on behalf of Western in both the state and national capitals."

Bernhard indicated that the general areas which will continue to be under Dr. Hannah's jurisdiction are:

- federal relations; intercollegiate athletics, pending recommendations from a new director of international student services and an assistant director of the Annual Fund.

Dr. Edward W. Harkenrider, director of student financial aid and scholarships, said that Whearty will be primarily responsible for computer services and informational services, including workshops and high school and community college visits.

Four more administrative reassignments and the appointment of a new director of international student services were approved July 20. Reassigned were: Dr. Robert R. Ethridge, from administrative assistant to the president, to secretary to the Board of Trustees; Martin R. (Joe) Gagie, from assistant to the president and director of information services, to executive assistant to the president; Helen Flaspohler, from director of the Annual Fund, to assistant director of development and director of Annual Fund; and Gary P. Brown, from director of alumni relations, to director of corporate/foundation relations.

Jolene Jackson was promoted from assistant director to director of international student services. Doretha E. Mortimore was named assistant director of Annual Fund.

Bernhard explained that Ethridge replaces Hannah. Bernhard indicated that Ethridge would retain his responsibilities as the University's affirmative action, Title IX and Rehabilitation Act coordinator.

"In addition to assuming some of Ethridge's former duties, Gagie will serve as the principal staff officer, carry out internal and external liaison and representational responsibilities as assigned by me, serve as the principal designated officer for University relations and as the operational officer for information services," Bernhard stated. A new information director is expected to be appointed in the fall.

Bernhard noted that both Ethridge and Gagie will join the Administrative Cabinet.

Commenting on Flaspohler's promotion, Dr. Gilbert Brown, assistant vice president for alumni affairs and development, said, "she is recognized throughout the Midwest as a knowledgeable and experienced fund raiser and, as such, will play an increasingly important role in WMU's development program."

"Her responsibilities will include managing, coordinating and directing the Annual Fund program, planning major gift solicitation, employing and training personnel within the Office of Alumni Affairs and Development, and directing President's Club and other major donor activities.

Brown will replace John O'Connor, who has resigned to accept the presidency at a new two-year college in Jackson, Wyoming. "Brown's long and extensive association with WMU and southwestern Michigan will be especially useful to the Development Office as it seeks to build a viable corporate and foundation relations program," observed Gagie. "His experience in the public relations area, his adeptness in working with a diverse population, and his acute sensitivity to University needs will all contribute to his effectiveness as a new and vital link between the University and the corporate world."

Also in July, Dr. Rollin G. Douma, associate professor of English, was named associate dean of The Graduate College; and Dr. William R. Welke, professor, was appointed chairman of the department of accounting. Douma fills a post that has been vacant since Dr. Richard T. Burke was named dean of continuing education in 1977.

The Board also reappointed Dr. Joseph P. Ethridge, associate professor, as chairman of the department of geography. A change of title was approved for Dr. Gilbert Montemerlo, director of student services to assistant to the vice president for academic affairs and director of special programs. He had been serving as an acting assistant vice president since January 1.
Loew Resigns as V.P.

Citing personal health problems and age, Dr. Cornelius Loew resigned Friday, July 20, as Western Michigan University's vice president for academic affairs, effective December 31. He announced his decision at the monthly meeting of the University's Board of Trustees.

"It was the necessity of Dr. Loew's decision, but I know that his personal health must be of paramount consideration," said WMU President John T. Bell.

Loew was appointed to his current post in September, 1977. He came to Western in 1956 as an associate professor of philosophy and religion; he was named head of the department of philosophy and religion in 1958, associate dean of the College of Arts and Sciences in 1964 and dean in 1968.

A native of Marion, Ohio, he received a B.A. degree in philosophy in 1938 from Elmhurst, Ill.; College; B.D. in Christian ethics in 1941 and S.T.M. in systematic theology in 1942, both from the Union Theological Seminary, New York City; and Ph.D. in 1951 from Columbia University. He taught religion at Lake Forest, Ill., College, 1936-42. He was an assistant minister, Bethlehem Evangelical and Reformed Church, Ann Arbor, 1946-48, and was a chaplain in the U.S. Navy, 1942-44.

Loew has been very active on campus in civic affairs, including service as president of the Kalamazoo Arts Council and he was a co-founder and associate chairman of the Kalamazoo County Bicentennial Committee. He was the first chairman of the University Cultural Events Committee. He is a member of numerous professional organizations and also is a board member of the Inter-University Centre for Post-Graduate Studies, Dubrovnik, Yugoslavia.

His wife, Kathryn, is the University organist and an adjunct professor of organ in the music department. They have a son, David, and a daughter, Barbara.

Advising-Registration Conferences Tuesday

Western's prospective freshmen and transfer students who did not attend any of the Freshmen Orientation Sessions or Transfer Advising-Registration Conferences are reminded that they must register for fall classes on Tuesday, Sept. 4, according to the alphabetical schedule published in the WMU Schedule of Classes.

In addition, since academic advising will be limited at the final registration in Read Fieldhouse, the University Academic Advising and Subscription Books Review Committee as a guide to procedures and policies for book reviewing. Published by the University for committee use, but does provide basic criteria and standards for evaluations of published materials that should be valuable to other reviewers.

Offer 173 Courses

Western's Division of Continuing Education is offering 173 courses in 20 different subject areas in 20 communities during the fall semester from Monday, Sept. 17-Saturday, Dec. 22.

Students Can Fill Your Employment Needs

As fall semester arrives, most departments will find an increased need for help.

Student Employment Referral Service (SERS) serves as a matching system between employers and Western students. They refer students to the job opening; the final screening and hiring is up to the prospective employer.

Students provide a wide variety of skills, abilities, and experiences along with flexible work schedules, said Thomas S. Klingenberg, SERS graduate assistant. In the past year, SERS filled over 90 percent of all on-campus positions listed with them. The next time you or your department has an employment opening, get the satisfaction of hiring a Western student. All it takes is two phone calls: one to list the position and one to tell us when it's been filled.

Call Student Employment Referral Service at 383-4132, between 8 a.m.-4 p.m. Monday-Friday.

CTO Schedules Meeting Sept. 12

Western's Clerical/Technical Organization (CTO) will hold its first luncheon meeting of the school year at noon Wednesday, Sept. 12. All clerical and technical staff are welcome. Bring your lunch, or purchase it, and come to Room 158 of the Student Center.

The general purpose and aims of the organization will be outlined, and input sought from all present on what direction the activities of the year should take.

All former members are urged to attend, and a particular invitation is extended to anyone interested in the organization. Come and ask questions and give suggestions.

Meetings are generally concluded by 12:45; travel time of 15 minutes is allowed in addition for this monthly meeting.

OISS Seeks Host Families

Western's Office of International Student Services (OISS) is seeking families in the Kalamazoo community who could offer friendship and occasionally hospitality to WMU students from abroad during the fall semester.

A large group of international students will arrive on the WMU campus at the beginning of the semester. They will face the strangeness of different surroundings and customs as foreign students in an American community. By becoming acquainted with an American family, these students could glimpse the way Americans live and also will share information about their own countries and customs.

For additional information on how to contact a WMU international student, phone WMU's OISS, 383-0990.

Program Looks At 'Burnout'

A two-day symposium dealing with "Burnout in the Helping Professions" will be held September 27-28 in the Kalamazoo Center, sponsored by Western's College of Health and Human Services, School of Social Work and Division of Continuing Education.

It will focus on issues in identification, management and prevention of job-related stress, such significant problems in human service organizations. Often referred to as "burnout," the symptoms in employees include low productivity, frequent job changes, alcoholism, psychosomatic complaints and dehumanization.

Participants will hear papers presented by nationally-recognized practitioners in the field of management, social work and the social sciences. In addition, they will share their experiences and ideas on the timely topic.

Registration fee is $75 per person; registration deadline is Thursday, Sept. 20. For additional information, call 383-1866.

NEW RAMP—This Physical Plant construction picture was taken before a new wheelchair ramp was completed on the east side of the University Student Center; it will provide easy access to the Snack Bar and games area on that lower level of the building.

Bronco Bus Service Begins Wednesday

Western's Bronco Transit bus system, which last year averaged over 15,000 fares a week, will begin its fall semester schedule on Wednesday, Sept. 5, and continue Monday-Friday until Dec. 21, except when classes are dismissed.

Semester passes for unlimited rides are $22 each and offer the best savings to persons who ride the bus 10 times or more weekly. In addition, a bonus ride ticket for 10 rides costs $2; single cash fares paid on a bus are 25 cents each.

All fares provide free transfers between the east/west campus and Goldsworthy Valley routes up to one-half hour after issue; transfers are not acceptable on the same route as issue. However, transfers are acceptable between campus Bronco Transit and Kalamazoo City Metro Transit buses which serve the WMU campuses, along West Michigan Avenue and Oakdale Drive, going to downtown Kalamazoo.

Because Bronco Transit bus drivers do not carry change, exact fares must be paid. However, tokens good toward another ride will be given to those presenting more than 25 cents.

Class dismissal periods, when Bronco Transit buses will not run are: Homecoming, from 2:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 5, to 7:29 a.m. Monday, Oct. 8; and Thanksgiving, from 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 21, to 7:29 a.m. Monday, Nov. 26.

As in the past, aBronco Transit route will operate between Goldsworthy Valley and Wilbur Street; one will run from Goldsworthy Valley to Wilbur Street, Sangren and Brown Halls, and the East Campus; the blue schedule will run between Fraternity Village, East Campus, West Campus Apartments, and Sangren and Brown Halls; and one between West and East Campuses; all of these will operate both morning and afternoon.

The Campus Route, or yellow schedule, will run during late afternoon and evening hours, traveling from Sangren Hall to the East Campus and then back to Goldsworthy Valley, with stops along the way; it will operate only during afternoons on Fridays.

Semester passes and bonus ride tickets will be sold at the east ticket window, Read Fieldhouse, from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 4-Friday, Sept. 7; from Monday, Sept. 10- Friday, Sept. 14, in Goldsworthy Valley residence halls' directors' offices; and beginning Monday, Sept. 19, at the cashier's office Seibert Administration Building, from 7:45 a.m.-4:45 p.m. Monday-Friday, during regular University hours.

For more information, contact the WMU Communications and Transportation Office, parking lot level, WMU Administration Building, from 7:45 a.m.-4:45 p.m. Monday-Friday or telephone 383-1608.

U. Telephone Directory Options Deadline Near

The 1979-80 University telephone directory is almost ready to be sent to the printer. The names, titles or classifications, campus addresses and telephone numbers of all WMU employees will be included. However, certain options are available as to the amount of home information that may be included; they are as follows:

1. Complete home information—spouse's name, street address, city and phone number. (NO NEED TO FILE A REQUEST. THIS IS WHAT YOU WANT AND YOUR RECORDS ARE UP TO DATE)

2. No home information of any kind. (PLEASE FORWARD THIS REQUEST TO THE INFORMATION CENTER 2110 Seibert Administration Building.) THE DEADLINE FOR DELETIONS IS FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1979.

3. Omission of spouse's name only. (CHANGE YOUR UNIVERSITY PERSONNEL RECORD BY USING THE APPROPRIATE FORM ON THE BACK OF YOUR PAYCHECK ENVELOPE.)

NOTE: Please include your Social Security number on all communications; it speeds up the processing of such requests. Any questions? Call Mrs. Gertrude Peterson, supervisor, University Switchboard/Information Center—383-1608.

'Eubie' Opens Miller Series

Miller Auditorium's 1979-80 Patron's Choice Series, Act I, opens with two performances at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Sept. 14-15, of the Broadway acclaimed musical revue, "EUBIE!"

Based on the music of 96 year old composer, Eubie Blake, "EUBIE!" is described as a celebration in song and dance of some of Eubie Blake's more than 1,500 songs, including "I'm Just Wild About Harry," "Memories Of You," "Charleston Rag," "In Honeysuckle Time" and many, many more.

Eubie Blake, the living legend and son of former slaves, was born in Baltimore, Md., in 1883. A gifted pianist, he also is known as an innovator; prolific composer of jazz, blues and show music; a vaudevillian; and Broadway producer. He composed many Broadway musicals, including "Shuffle Along" which in 1921 was the first Broadway musical completely produced, directed and performed by American Black people. Among his other Broadway musicals were "Blackbirds of 1923," "The Chocolate Dandies" and "Swing It."

Tickets are priced at $10.00, $8.50 and $6.00 and are on sale at the Miller Auditorium ticket office. More information can be obtained by calling the ticket office, 383-0933.

Three on Program

Three social work faculty members attended the annual meeting of the Society for the Study of Social Problems (SSSP) recently in Boston, Mass.

Leslie Leighninger, assistant professor of the Division of Sociology and Social Welfare of SSSP. She served as the organizer and chairperson of a roundtable session on professionalism, planning and delivery in social welfare.

Dr. Marion Wijnberg, professor, and David Joslyn, assistant professor, presented papers at that same meeting. Wijnberg's presentation was entitled "Social Workers: Shifting Occupational Identities." Joslyn's paper was on "Children's Protective Services; Structural Variables and Family Prognosis."

KSO Auditions Next Weekend

The Kalamazoo Symphony Orchestra will hold open auditions for professional musicians interested in holding a chair with the orchestra September 8 and 9. Auditions for strings will be held from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 8, at the Light Fine Arts Building on the campus of Kalamazoo College. Auditions for winds and percussion will be held from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 9, in Carver Center, 435 S. Park St.

Candidates will be asked to perform a representative concerto of their choice, orchestral excerpts and sight readings. An audition time may be secured by calling Clark den Bleyker, personnel manager, 342-6888.

The 1979-80 season will consist of seven subscription programs; two specials, the Nutcracker and a Pop program featuring Ella Fitzgerald; two chamber programs; and a series of educational and summer park concerts.

Creative Living Series Here

"Creative Living" is the subject of a three-speaker, lecture/workshop series which will be held Fridays and Saturdays, Sept. 7-8, Oct. 19-20 and Nov. 16-17 on campus in Knauss Hall auditorium and 157-159 Student Center.

In keeping with 1979 being the "International Year of the Child," the program, co-sponsored by the University's College of Health and Human Services, Institute of Continuing Education, and the Mental Health Association of Michigan, will deal with "creative living for children, youth and families."

September has been designated as the month for highlighting "Sex Education and Responsible Reproduction" by Kalamazoo's Reproductive Health Care Center/Planned Parenthood Association, co-sponsors of the Sept. 7-8 speaker, psychologist Dr. Sol Gordon of Syracuse University. He will discuss "Sexuality, Adolescents and Preparing Today's Youth for Tomorrow's Family," at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 7, and will conduct a 9 a.m.-4 p.m. workshop on Saturday, Sept. 8. Gordon is professor of child and family studies, and director of the Institute for Family Research and Education at Syracuse.

Tickets are $1.50 apiece for students and $2.50 to the public for each of the three Friday lectures, or $3 and $5 for the series of lectures. The Saturday workshops are: Sept. 7—$10 (limited enrollment); Oct. 20—$8; and Nov. 16—$10. Students who register for any workshop may attend the lecture preceding it without charge.

Tickets, $3.50 apiece, are for James Eddy, coordinator of the Mott Children's Health Center in Flint, whose topic will be "Raising Children Simplified, or What to do When Your Child Says No." On Nov. 9-10, Lester Brown, Youth Director of the Pacific Agate, Seattle, Wash., will talk on "The Best and Only That You Ever Was."

Tickets and/or reservations for the remaining workshops should be obtained in advance by phoning the WMU Division of Continuing Education—383-1860.

Grotzinger, Isaacson Articles in Collection

Two faculty members are the authors of articles recently selected to be re-published in a book collection of the 30 best articles about librarians and libraries that originally were published in 1978.

"Library Literature-8: The Best of 1978," issued recently by the Scarecrow Press, is the new addition to the collection. It contains an article written by Dr. Laurel Grotzinger, associate professor of information sciences, was one of 38 participants in the meeting of the Alcohol and Drug Defense Against Substance Abuse Conference on "Drama and the Handicap" in Washington, D.C. Dr. Ruth Beall Heinig, associate professor, will speak on "Ethnic Group Theory of Foreign Policy and Italian American Politics." Two political science faculty members will present papers at the annual conference of the American Political Science Association in Washington, D.C.

Two Give Papers

Dr. Ruth Beall Heinig, associate professor of communication arts and sciences, was one of 38 participants selected for a special American Theatre Association (ATA) conference on "Drama and the Handicapped" held recently at the Eugene O'Neill Memorial Theatre in Waterford, Conn., which houses the National Theatre for the Deaf. She will review the conference for "Theatre News," the official publication of ATA.

PREPARING FOR EMERGENCIES—Salma Abdullah, the daughter of Rofiah Hishin, a WMU graduate student who resides in the University's family housing units, prepares for any emergency requiring the services of a policeman, fireman or ambulance. Aided by Officer Richard McGrew of the Crime Prevention Bureau, Salma attaches a newly-created emergency telephone sticker to her family telephone. Designed jointly by the Housing office, International Student Services, and the University Police, the stickers feature pictures of a policeman, fireman and an ambulance, as well as the number "911." They are intended to help children and non-English-speaking family members to call for emergency help. The 600 stickers, accompanied by instruction sheets, will be mailed to each family with their first fall housing newsletter.

Final Registration Is Tuesday

Tuesday, Sept. 4, is the final day of registration for fall semester classes here at Western. It will be held from 8 a.m.-4 p.m. in Reid Fieldhouse. Fall semester classes begin on Wednesday, Sept. 5, and continue until Saturday, Dec. 22. Undergraduate and graduate students will register under a schedule starting at 8 a.m. that day for those whose surnames begin with the letters NA-POB and continue through the alphabet in four-hour segments until 3:30 p.m. when late arrivals can register. Students may register after their assigned times but not before; all fees must be paid in full at the time of registration. Students must have current admission status at Western to register.

Senior citizens, age 62 or older, may register for WMU classes free of charge during the final hour of registration on a seats available basis. These persons, under the WMU Senior Citizens' Opportunity Program in Education (SCOPE), must first phone the University's admissions office, 383-1969, to arrange for a "Permission to Take Classes" application.

Tuition per credit hour at WMU for Michigan resident undergraduates is $20.75 and is $20.75 for non-resident graduate students; for non-resident of Michigan it is $71 and $90.25 respectively, all including a facility fee. There also is a health maintenance fee of $24.75 to students enrolled in five or more credit hours a semester and $11.50 plus users fees or students enrolled in four or less credit hours. Each student also must pay a $1.50 student organizations' assessment.

For more information, contact the registration office, 2010 Seibert Administration Building, 383-1014.

Two Give Papers

Special Conference Held

Dr. Ruth Beall Heinig, associate professor of communication arts and sciences, was one of 38 participants selected for a special American Theatre Association (ATA) conference on "Drama and the Handicapped" held recently at the Eugene O'Neill Memorial Theatre in Waterford, Conn., which houses the National Theatre for the Deaf. She will review the conference for "Theatre News," the official publication of ATA.

Argyropoulos Displays Paintings, Drawings

Western's department of art is sponsoring a public exhibition of 40 recent paintings and drawings by Argyropoulos, a professor of child and family studies and director, The Institute for Family Research and Education, Syracuse University, is an internationally recognized authority on responsible sex education and how to raise a healthy adolescent. He has written many books and articles on human sexuality and adolescents. In 1974, he received the annual Education Foundation for Human Sexuality Award.

The Sept. 8 workshop will focus on enhancing self-concept and helping adolescents understand that if they feel good about themselves they are not available for exploitation or will want to exploit others. Gordon maintains that sex is never a test of love.

PREPARING FOR EMERGENCIES—Salma Abdullah, the daughter of Rofiah Hishin, a WMU graduate student who resides in the University's family housing units, prepares for any emergency requiring the services of a policeman, fireman or ambulance. Aided by Officer Richard McGrew of WMU's Crime Prevention Bureau, Salma attaches a newly-created emergency telephone sticker to her family telephone. Designed jointly by the Housing office, International Student Services, and the University Police, the stickers feature pictures of a policeman, fireman and an ambulance, as well as the emergency telephone number—911. They are intended to help children and non-English-speaking family members to call for emergency help. The 600 stickers, accompanied by instruction sheets, will be mailed to each family with their first fall housing newsletter.

IF YOU PUT THAT PART IN THERE—WMU graduate students, Janet Chichester (left) of Battle Creek, and Mona Bieder, (right) Belle Plaine, Minn., study the manual dexterity of two youngsters in the summer program for pre-primary impaired at the John F. Kennedy Center in Kalamazoo. The women, along with Cathy Nolen of St. Joseph, were the first to receive WMU master's degrees in special education with emphasis on the pre-primary impaired at the August 17th commencement here. Conducted by the University's department of special education, the program is the only one of its kind offered by a college or university in Michigan, and one of the few in the Midwest.

Four Awarded Bronco Fame

Four athletes of the pre-1940 vintage, who later went on to highly successful coaching careers, are the 1979 inductees in Western's Athletic Hall of Fame. They are: Melvin "Tubby" Myers (football, 1906-08); Harry Potter (football, 1921-23; baseball, 1922-24; and basketball, 1921); Ray "Happy" Sorensen (tennis, 1930-33); and Louis "Bo" Mallard (track, 1933-35, and football, 1934).

The induction ceremonies will take place here on campus September 21-22. The WMU Athletic Hall of Fame was inaugurated in 1975 and these additions will bring its membership to 32.

Button New Gymnastics Coach

Kathy Button, who recently served as head coach of the OAK (Ottawa- Allegan and Kent Counties) Gymnastics Club and as director of the Gymnastics Sports School for the Holland Recreation Department, has been named as Western's new women's gymnastics coach, according to Athletic Director Carl Ulrich.

Button, 25, is a native of Kalamazoo and a 1976 graduate of Hope College where she earned a B.A. degree in physical education and also taught a women's gymnastics coaching class. Immediately following her graduation from Hope, she served as assistant coach for Holland High School's women's gymnastics team. As a performer, Button brings over seven years of experience to WMU.

Pearson Appointed Sports Promoter

Mike Pearson, who has served as the assistant sports information director at the University of Illinois for the last four years, has assumed duties as coordinator of sports promotions at Western.

Pearson, 28, is a native of St. John's and a 1976 journalism graduate of Michigan State University, where he served as a student assistant in the sports information office for four years. At Illinois, Pearson helped produce two football media guides that earned top honors in District IV in balloting conducted by the College Sports Information Directors of America. One of their publications also achieved national honorable mention.

for skilled trades and an additional 5 cents per hour for all F-1 (a food service job) workers.

The strike began August 10 when Local 1668 members failed to ratify a tentative 3-year agreement that was reached in a marathon, 22-hour bargaining session the day before. Another tentative settlement was reached and rejected by the Union membership in a vote on August 19. Bargaining began in June.

Horn, Piano Concert Sept. 8

An evening of music for French horn and piano will be presented free to the public by the department of music at 8 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 8, in Oakland Recital Hall. Sharing this faculty recital will be hornist Neil Sanders of WMU and pianist Deborah Moriarty of MSU.

Sanders and Moriarty have programmed several works for horn and piano from Baroque to contemporary, including Telemann's "Partita Number 4"; Mussgraves' "Music for Horn and Piano"; Chabrier's "Poems"; and Lees' "Sonata for Horn and Piano." In addition, Moriarty will perform Chopin's "Andante Spianoto and Grande Polonaise.

A founder-member of the world renowned Melos Ensemble, Sanders joined WMU's music faculty after leaving Michigan. She has performed extensively in the U.S. and abroad. She has appeared with the Boston Pops Orchestra, under Fiedler and Dickson. Both her bachelor's and master's degrees were earned at the New England Conservatory of Music, where she maintained an active performance schedule. She has done advanced study at the Curtis Institute of Music and at Juilliard, where she studied with Beveridge Webster. Moriarty's other piano teachers have included Bruce Slenczynski and Theodore Lettvin. Currently a doctoral student at the University of Michigan, Moriarty is also an assistant professor of music at Michigan State University.

OISS Orientation Program Underway

A five-day program of student orientation and registration is underway for approximately 150 new students from other countries. Conducted by the Office of International Student Services (OISS), it will conclude next Tuesday.

Eleven student leaders representing seven different countries have been selected to assist the newcomers, according to Jolene Jackson, director of OISS. They will have their training before the new foreign students arrive.

Jackson said, "It is expected that Western's international student enrollment will exceed 900 for the fall semester." There were 843 registered here last fall.
