O'NEILL PLAY AT SHAW THIS WEEK

The University Theatre's summer session production of Eugene O'Neill's "A Moon for the Misbegotten" will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Aug. 6-7 in Shaw Theatre.

The special price for WMU students, faculty and staff is $1.50 for reserve seats; $2.50 for the general public. The box office is open from noon till 8:30 p.m. on performance nights.

DEADLINE NEARS FOR DIRECTORY REQUESTS

University employees who do not want their home addresses and home telephone numbers listed in the forthcoming 1976-77 University Telephone Directory, must request in writing that such an omission be made, and send the request to the University Information Office, 3020 Administration Building, no later than Monday, Aug. 16. However, such a request will also mean that the name of the employee's spouse also will be omitted from the directory.

Employees are reminded to make use of the form that appears on the back of paycheck envelopes to report changes in personnel records to Fred Hunt, 1333 Administration Building.

STUDENT CENTER CAFETERIA HOURS LISTED

The University Student Center cafeteria will be closed Saturdays during August, according to Rodger H. Pruis, director of the University Student Center.

It will be open from 11:30-2 p.m. on Sundays; 6:45-8:30 a.m., 11 a.m.-1:15 p.m. and 5-6:15 p.m., weekdays, except for a 6 p.m. closing on Fridays.

Walwood Union on the University's east campus is open 7 a.m.-2 p.m., Monday through Friday; closed Saturdays and Sundays during the summer session.

DESIGN CENTER WINS ANOTHER HONOR

For the second consecutive year, the Design Center in the University's art department has won the Champion Paper Award presented by Champion International, Hamilton, Ohio "...for creative use of paper."

A recent recruitment brochure captured the honor this year. In 1975, a Design Center brochure for the University dance department won the prestigious international award. This year's publication represents the combined efforts of Bruce Naftel, assistant professor of graphic design, and Barbara Loveland, production technician and photographer.

GRANT WILL AID LIBRARlANSHIP STUDENTS

WMU students will benefit greatly from a new $7,700 grant over the next two years from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek to WMU's School of Librarianship. It will finance new computer terminal equipment for a connection to the Ohio College Library Center (OCLC) at Columbus.

Librarianship students will now have access to the OCLC data bank of over two million bibliographic entries other than during slack nighttime hours at Waldo Library, according to Eleanor R. McKinney, associate professor of librarianship. She said WMU classes cannot use Waldo's terminal connections to OCLC during normal daytime hours now because of heavy usage by the Waldo staff.
